After the Shacks—
The hospital and health and police committees of the city council are again at work looking into the matter of tearing down dilapidated and broken-down shanties and shacks, which are a menace to the city's health as well as detracting from its appearance. The committees today directed their attention to those shacks, which are empty, on the northeast corner of Commercial and Ferry streets. The so-called buildings are one story high and the roofs bent, so that their appearance is that of a pack of cards about to cave in.

MARION COUNTY DEMOCRATS

Making Strenuous Efforts to Complete Their Legislative Ticket in Marion County.

Strenuous efforts are being made by the Democrats to complete their legislative ticket in Marion county. Of the five men nominated at the primaries, all but two, Dr. W. S. Mott and J. W. Ebner, failed to qualify by neglecting to report their acceptance. It was rumored this morning that the ticket had been completed, and that I. W. Stensloff, A. Huckesteln and Dr. W. H. Byrd had consented to become candidates. This list, however, is at present only provisional. Dr. Byrd stated positively today that he would not be a candidate, but it is probable that another name will be substituted for his at once. The Democrats expect to have a full ticket in the field before the fifteenth of this month, the date on which the list of candidates must be submitted. All will be Statement No. 1 men, and they intend to make a vigorous campaign before the voters of the county on this issue.

COUNCIL WILL NOT COMPROMISE

The conclusion of the meeting Thursday between the mayor, city council and city engineers, and the officials of the Oregon Electric company, resulted in no compromise, as was expected, regarding the grading of High street, but with the city council members more than ever determined to make the railroad company conform with their ideas. It is probable that the council, in its present frame of mind, will, at its meeting Monday night, order the company to reduce the grade of their track for six blocks north of the north mill creek by one foot to conform with the city's grade of the street; also order them to properly plank and grade at the intersection of Broadway street and to place steel girders over the cistern at Court and High streets, as well as pave the last-named crossing with paving bricks. Neither were any extensions of the street franchise granted.

PUBLIC FORUM DISCUSSION

State Superintendent of Schools J. H. Ackerman will appear on the rostrum in Grange hall next Sunday afternoon at the free-for-all discussion on all measures, and will address the interested public attendance on "education." This is another big add to the already interesting program, the principal features of which are a general discussion of the state university, appropriation and the armory bill. These meetings, which are held every Sunday, are not in the nature of debate, but merely a mutual gathering where those present discuss the different measures before the people in the June election for their own enlightenment.

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram."
"Mrs. Temple Telegram" a wonderful successful farce, which will be seen at the Grand opera house on Monday evening next, has had a season's run at the Madison Square theater, New York, and also played for over three months at the Waldorf theater in London. It abounds in comedy situations and clever surprises, each one leading up to and following the other from the rise of the curtain until the finish of the last act. As a genuine mirth provoker it is equal if not superior to any farce seen in New York in many seasons. It is all innocent amusement and precisely the kind of entertainment which appeals to theatergoers. Then too, it is presented by a cast of exceptionally clever players, each one of whom displays a thorough knowledge of the art of farce comedy and work with a vigor that keeps at the boiling point throughout the play. Messrs. Stockwell & MacGregor who present this comedy have engaged an excellent company headed by Wm. Bernard. Others in the cast include Louis Thompson, Norval MacGregor, Joseph Dalley, L. Victor Willard, Margaret Snow, May Roberts, Lonna Nelson and Frances Field.

OREGON HERDER EQUALS EASTERN MILLIONAIRE
Railroad Commissioner Oswald West has just returned from his trip to Washington, where he has been a witness in the Hyde-Benson land fraud trial, and when asked how he liked being back, was bewildered in his search for a strong expression for a moment, and exploded with, "Oh, —I'd rather be a $30 a month sheepherder in Oregon than a millionaire in the east."
The Ruef trial at 'Frisco is still going on. It has not stopped.

Hammond Estate—
Upon the petition of Mrs. W. L. Hammond, George W. Hubbs was appointed administrator of the estate of the late J. E. Hammond of Silverton. A. G. Steelhammer and Thomas Skaffe were named as appraisers. The estate is valued at $8000.

Visit Monmouth—
Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Ackerman and W. B. Ayer of Portland, members of the normal school board of regents, visited the Monmouth normal today.

Complain of Railroad—
The state railroad commission is in receipt of a letter from a prominent Albany merchant in which the writer bitterly deplores the condition of the Corvallis & Eastern railroad. He says that the entire roadbed from Albany to the coast is in such a bad state of repair that it will not be able to stand the heavy traffic of the summer excursions. It is stated that only three or four section men are employed to look after 20 miles of road, and even men who have been working for the company for years declare that the owners of the road should be compelled to do something.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY JEROME IN TROUBLE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, May 8.—District Attorney Jerome admitted on the witness stand today at the hearing of the charges brought to have his ousted from office that while Attorney Delmas was speaking in the first Thaw trial he was in a nearby restaurant shaking dice for a dollar a throw with the two sons of Thomas F. Ryan, the traction magnate. The prosecution also seemed to take much delight in proving that Assistant District Attorney Garvan, who helped Jerome in the Thaw trials, was related by marriage to Anthony N. Brady. It is charged that Jerome, in his capacity as district attorney, failed to take any steps towards investigating alleged questionable deals in which Ryan and Brady were said to have been involved. The defendant did not seem to be at all disturbed by the revelations.

Sensation in Europe.
Berlin, May 8.—A sensation which promises to equal the one following the revelations made during the trial of the Knights of the Round Table, was sprung today in the arrest of Prince Philip Eulenberg.

Eulenberg, who is the former favorite of the kaiser and an alleged member of the Knights of the Round Table, is accused of committing perjury in connection with the trial of Ed'vor Harden. Prince Eulenberg was brought here and placed in jail. At the preliminary hearing of the prince on the perjury charge two witness gave such convincing testimony against him that the judge declared from the bench that the prince was guilty of the unspeakable practices charged against him.
