SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK

Social life and interest has been centered almost entirely the past week around the L. O. O. F. and B. P. O. E. convention, which ended on Friday night. Monday night the regular meeting of the Salem Rebekah's was held at their hall in the L. O. O. F. building with visitors from other assemblies present. Tuesday night the Dallas, and Salem assemblies put on the initiatory work, initiated candidates into the two lodges. Later refreshments were served. On Wednesday evening the B. P. O. E. assembly gave a reception to visiting lodges at the state house representative hall. The ladies who received were members of grand lodge of the assembly. The speakers were introduced to them by a reception committee composed of Clara Ferguson, Mrs. Mabel Barber, Miss Mabel Mifkey, and Mrs. A. L. Brown. McElroy's orchestra furnished music throughout the evening except during the time the program was being given. The program opened with an address of welcome by J. L. Stockton in the presence of the mayor, and was followed by Mrs. Emma Galloway, president of the Rebekah assembly. Herbage and Frank Hughes next shared in a duet. This was followed by a recitation by Mrs. Hall M. Johns, a reading by Mrs. J. J. Sims of Albany lodge, a reading by Mrs. Chas. Galloway, and a solo by Mernie Hug, accompanied by Mrs. Roberts on the piano. The rest of the evening was taken by the members of the different lodges getting acquainted, and a general social enjoyed. Punch was served during the evening by Misses Eva Lange, Nina Martin, Myrtle Knowlton, Nellie Creighton, and Blancha...

their home in South Salem, assisted by a number of friends Wednesday. A delightful dinner was served at 12 and at 5 o'clock, and a pleasant social time enjoyed. The rooms were prettily decorated with spring roses in their various colorings. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Lucas, Mr. Holt, Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Sherwood, Mrs. C. R. Lucas, Mrs. Baumgartner, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Steinbach, Mr. and Mrs. Kerz, Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Dause, Mr. and Mrs. Chapin, and Mr. and Mrs. French.

Lawyers Graduate.
 Eight young men were graduated from the College of Law of Williamette university, Wednesday night in the First Methodist church, before a large audience. The degree of Bachelor of Laws was conferred upon the young men by Charles H. McNary, dean of the law department. Judge J. C. Moreland delivered the annual address upon the subject, "The Place of the Lawyer in the Development of the Race." The address was an able one, and concluded with some valuable advice to the graduates gained through his own personal experiences. Attorney-General Crawford delivered the charge to the class in an earnest manner. The program opened by Prof. Roberts with a solo on the pipe organ. Rev. Philip Bauer gave the invocation. Edna E. Browning gave a solo, "Angel's Serenade," with violin obligato by Lillian Stege. Mrs. Mernie Hug next sang "Wait-in," with violin accompaniment by Lillian Stege. For an encore she sang "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls." The program closed with a pipe organ solo by Prof. Roberts. The members of the class are: Philip Stover, George Nuner, Jr., William P. Lord, Jr., Walter C. Winslow, Claud O. Hindman, Harry K. Spaulding, Wallace G. Trill, and Roy Morgan. They are all bright young men, and have attractive futures before them. They will receive their final examinations before the bar on May 28.

Glee Club to Give Play.
 The High School Glee club are rehearsing a play to be given in the school assembly next Thursday evening. "Phyllis, the Farmer's Daughter," is the farce, and is under the direction of Charles Roth, and performance will no doubt be a treat to the school. The high school is giving an annual benefit program this year, "The Trial by Jury" was given last year. The cast of characters will be given a little later. As certain-raisor to the performance Junior class will present "A Long-car Farce." Miss Deyoe is taking the class, and her work is being followed along this line.

Back from the East.
 Miss Genevieve Potter, after nearly a year spent with her uncle in Boston, returned to her home in this city, last Tuesday. While in Boston she studied music with a private teacher. On her return trip she visited at New York, Philadelphia, Washington, New Orleans, Los Angeles, and stopped at San Francisco to see the fleet, where she was met by her mother, who went to meet her.
