SPANIARDS KILLED BY FRENCHMEN IS RUN OVER BY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Paris, May 28.—Two Spanish soldiers have been killed and several Frenchmen badly wounded in duels between the soldiers of the two nations, jointly engaged in policing Morocco, the enmity growing out of the clash on May 17, having taken the form of a bloody vendetta, according to advices received at the war office here today.

At the same time the Spanish war office notified the French office that complaints of the constant dueling had been received at Madrid and that unless order was restored the Spanish would be withdrawn.

No open fighting has taken place between the Spanish and the French and the bitterest feeling exists and duels take place daily. In these encounters the Frenchmen so far have been more successful than their adversaries. The condition of affairs is looked upon as being serious in the extreme and conferences are being held here today in an effort to determine the best method of meeting the situation.

It is constantly feared that a breakout may take place and lead to a much more serious clash than the previous one.
