MAKE IT UNANIMOUS

Now there appears to be little doubt that it is Senator Cake of Oregon who will be elected. Once the campaign started, it was seen that the personal popularity of the Governor, was not so all-out as it once was. Various things that some folks have about our chief executive come to light, and a lot of folks say doubtful if George was a whole of a man after all. Nearer Oregon makes it unan- for Cake the better for Ore- There are a few places where solitics still count; they don't in city, county and district but they do in national af- especially in the upper house where, where the majority is what it wants and the mi- its tight and waits. Oregon a lot of things from congress;

It can never get them through a Democratic senator. Between the men personally the issue is not drawn; it is not a personal campaign; if it was Mr Cake would not be on the defensive. It is r'so remembered that Cake was one of the Republicans who had the nerve to stand on a Statement No. 1 platform when it looked as though that meant defeat; he stood for the popular election of the United States senator whether it profited him or not; Chamberlain has stood for it because it was his sole chance of ever landing the place. The vast difference between being good because you hope it will pay, and because it is right, represents the difference between the stand of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Cake.

TO REPUBLICAN VOTERS

AN OVERWHELMING majority of Oregon's voters by registration have formally declared that they believe in the principles of the Republican Party. Let them now show that they are honest by voting in accordance with their declarations. The Oregon election comes before the Republican National Convention. Let every Republican voter in the First Congressional District uphold the honor of the Republican Party in Oregon and strengthen the influence of Oregon's delegation in the National Convention by voting for H. M. CAKE for United States Senator and W. C. HAWLEY for Representative in Congress. If either of the Republican nominees falls of election the primary election system will be discredited and a return of boss rule will be invited. The good name of Oregon's voters will be smirched and Oregon's delegation to the National Convention will be placed in a humiliating position. For the effect it will have on the November election it is imperative that the Republican nomination in the June election shall be elected by an overwhelming majority. As a believer in the principles of the Republican Party it is your duty to be at the polls June 1, and vote for Cake and Hawley.

THOROUGH-BRED AMERICAN

HORSES IN ENGLAND!
All England a few days ago was ringing with the victory won by an American horse at Newmarket. August Belmont's Norman III, bred in Kentucky, won the classic Two Thousand Guineas in competition with some of the best horses on British turf.

This performance indicates that the Kentucky speeder has a pretty good chance of winning the Derby next month. As everybody knows, that famous blue ribbon has come to the United States—won by Iroquois in 1881—but so far as we can remember Mr. Belmont's horse is the first American horse to win the two Thousand.

The victory will serve to draw the attention of the world to the improvement wrought in the quality of our horses through all the efforts of the racing and breeding associations—an improvement which extends from racers and trotters to the everyday working animals.

Our friends who would prevent the making of wagers on the tracks of this state and thereby suppress racing lose sight of the widespread benefits conferred by the breeding and training industries of New York, in which millions of capital are invested.

They also ignore the fact that there are in this country 20,000,000 horses (worth upward of a thousand millions of dollars) the quality and value of which are largely enhanced by the institutions which Governor Hughes and his anti-racing allies wish to suppress.—New York Herald.

A Californian's Luck.

"The luckiest day of my life was when I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," writes Charles F. Budahn, of Tracy, California. "Two 25c boxes cured me of an annoying case of itching piles, which had troubled me for years and that yielded to no other treatment." Sold unguaranteed at J. C. Perry's drug store.

WASCO SHEEP ARE FREE FROM SCAB

P. J. Walsh, stock inspector for Wasco county, and Dr. Mason, federal inspector, have been in Antelope and vicinity the past week. They have been making the tour of inspection of the various bands of sheep in the county, and stated that Wasco county is free of scab. This excellent condition was brought about by the earnest efforts of the inspector and the co-operation of the wool growers of the county. Mr. Walsh reports that all the sheep-growing counties of Eastern Oregon are practically free from all disease.—Antelope Herald.

The Richest Family in Europe.

It is not generally known that the imperial family of Russia is the richest royal family in Europe, and derives its vast wealth from three sources—the state treasury, the imperial domains (formerly church lands), and the so-called "cabinet properties." A writer in the current Harper's Weekly gives some interesting facts. The state treasury provides for the Czar as the sovereign; the imperial domains are the joint property of the members of the House of Romanoff, but administered by the head of the house; and the "cabinet properties" are the personal property of the reigning sovereign as such.

The state treasury pays out $7,000,000 per annum for the needs of the imperial house, principally for the maintenance of the palaces and the officials and servants attached to them. The reigning Empress, for example, has an allowance of $100,000 per year, and the Dowager Empress the same. Every child born to the Czar receives from birth to the age of 21 nearly $20,000 a year, while the heir to the throne receives annually in addition $50,000. Daughters receive a dowry of one million roubles when they marry. The figures under this head are comparatively modest, and the total expenditure charged to the state treasury is less than 1 per cent of the annual budget.

Bad Attack of Dysentery Cured.

"An honored citizen of this town was suffering from a severe attack of dysentery. He told a friend if he could obtain a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, he felt confident of being cured, he having used this remedy in the West. He was told that I kept it in stock and lost no time in obtaining it, and was promptly cured," says M. J. Leach, druggist, of Wolcott, Vt. For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

The Portland papers continue to misrepresent Salem saloon men, and repeat that they are not trying to comply with the new ordinance. This is all false, but what can you expect of papers edited by Prohibitionists?

What About Salmon Protection?

That the food fish of our state need better protection than is now afforded is agreed. You have already or doubtless will receive considerable literature on the subject, but no matter how attractive the argument, stop and consider how much it may be colored by self-interest. The United States Bureau of Fisheries are the greatest expert authorities on the subject and have NO AX TO GRIND. Read what they say:

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND LABOR OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Hon. Charles W. Fulton,
United States Senate,
Washington, D. C.

Sir: The Department realizes the importance of the various questions affecting the salmon fishery in the Columbia River brought up in your letter of the 15th ultimo, and has taken this opportunity to make a thorough investigation of the matter. There can be no question that the status of the fishery is unsatisfactory, and that under existing conditions the trend may be expected to be steadily downward, with the result that in a comparatively few years the run of salmon in that stream will be reduced to such a degree that thousands of fishermen may be thrown out of employment and much capital rendered idle. The Federal Government is without any jurisdiction whatever in the premises, and the duty of conserving the salmon supply in the Columbia devolves on the states of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho; but this department has been charged by congress with important fish-cultural operation in the Columbia basin, and has felt impelled from time to time to direct attention to the necessity for giving adequate protection to the various species of salmon frequenting that stream. The department is convinced that the run of salmon in the Columbia can be maintained for an indefinite period if artificial propagation is supplemented by rational protection; but artificial propagation alone cannot cope with the situation, and, as a matter of fact, the recent experience of the department has shown that its beneficent labors are rendered almost futile by the failure of the state to appreciate this fact.

The Department sees no reason for advocating the elimination of fish wheels from the river, as there is no evidence to show that this form of apparatus is particularly destructive to salmon. A condition that is specially favorable for the passage of salmon—namely, very high water—renders the wheels unserviceable and, on the other hand, periods of very low water, when the fish are much restricted in their movements, are also unfavorable for the wheels. During the past two or three seasons the catch of salmon by wheels has been comparatively small; but even if it were very large it would be a fact of no special significance in the present connection.

The Columbia River is, however, made to yield a quantity of salmon far greater than regard for the future supply permits, and the drain is yearly becoming more serious. No one familiar with the situation can fail to appreciate the menace to the perpetuity of the industry that is furnished by the concentration of a tremendous amount of fixed and floating apparatus of capture in and near the mouth of the river. This apparatus comprises about 400 pound nets or traps, over 80 long sweep-seines, and more than 2,200 gill nets, the last having an aggregate approximate length of over 570 miles; and these appliances capture more than 95 per cent of the fish taken in the Oregon and Washington waters of the river, the figures for 1904 being nearly 44,000,000 pounds, or 88.7 per cent of the total yield. Under such conditions, it is self-evident that but comparatively few fish are permitted to reach the upper waters where the spawning grounds are located.

The details of the measures necessary to place the salmon industry of the Columbia River on a permanent basis can not be elaborated by the department at this time, but in a general way it may be said that there should be (1) a restriction on the amount of apparatus employed in a given section; (2) an adequate weekly close season covering possibly two days at first, but reduced later if the circumstances warrant it; (3) an annual close season, preferably at the beginning of the salmon run, and (4) joint arrangements between the states, so that protective measures may be harmonious.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) OSCAR S. STRAUS,
Secretary.

Bill No. 318 embodies Government recommendations and should pass. It is a square deal for all.

VOTE 313--X--YES

Bill No. 333 was framed to foster the selfish interest of a single locality. It is against the government recommendations, and will mean a heavy tax on the state to carry out its provisions. IT FAVORS MONOPLY AND IS UNFAIR. IT SHOULD NOT PASS.
