

You Wouldn't Dare to Live Over a Cesspool Day After Day

You wouldn't deliberately take poison that you knew would lead to chronic stomach, liver, bowel or kidney disease.

You're doing both of these things when you neglect constipation. Nature's natural sewer is clogged up and the worst of poisons are overflowing into your system—impregnating every drop of your blood with disease germs.

Constipation is the cause of nine out of every ten cases of dyspepsia, indigestion, typhoid fever, malaria, chills and fever, rheumatism, kidney disease, skin troubles and general "run down" condition of the system.

Give your system a thorough housecleaning this very night—restore your liver to its normal, active, healthy condition. Even if you think you're not constipated take an NR tablet to-night and you'll feel better in the morning.

From feeling sick or just so-so you'll learn what it is to feel absolutely well, vigorous and happy.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, June 12.—They are going to celebrate the glorious Fourth down in Panama. The canal commission has decided to send to New York for six hundred dollars worth of real American made Chinese fire crackers, and they are going to burn enough red light to make the whole zone blush.

Commissioner Blackburn suggested the idea and all the other commissioners and everybody else who has ever heard the Declaration of Independence read from the little pagoda out in the school yard and listened to the village orator discuss the destinies of the nation with one hand concealed in the "buzzum" of his waistcoat and the other on the sweat ing water pitcher, was there to answer the call.

They are going to have as many committees as were ever created back in God's country for a similar patriotic function, and every committee is going to have everything on the program that was ever devised for the amusement and exaltation of a Fourth of July crowd, from red lemonade to the evening concert by the Cornet band.

Complete Paper Inquiry.

Now that the pressure for an early report on the price of print paper and wood pulp is past, the House Committee authorized to investigate the paper industry will continue its work, with the object of making it the most complete inquiry into the manufacture of paper that has ever been conducted.

Under the supervision of Chairman Mann, (Rep., Ill.), at least one expert each in the Bureau of Labor, the Census Office, the Forest Service and the Bureau of Statistics will be put to work gathering information about the cost of labor and material the destruction of the American supply of material for the manufacturer for paper, and numerous other phases of the problem about which the bureau were unable to reply satisfactorily when the committee called upon it, during the preliminary inquiry.

To the state department will be suggested formally the problem of negotiating a treaty with Great Britain, on behalf of Canada, whereby the water power of this country and the spruce timber, from which paper is made, in Canada, may be utilized and conserved by each country to the mutual advantage of the other. Requests will also be made that consular agents in Norway and other European countries gather information relative to the production of wood suitable for the paper industry and the manufacture of paper in Europe.

During the summer, Rep. Stafford (Rep., Wis.), has been assigned to the task of gathering information about the paper industry in Wisconsin. He is empowered to take testimony in his discretion at the Wisconsin mills.

Rep. Ryan, (Dem., N. Y.), another member of the committee, will investigate the situation in the New York mills, while Rep. Sims, (Dem., Tenn.), will study conditions in the South, and Rep. Miller, (Rep., Kan.) in the West.

Headquarters will be maintained for some time, at least, in Washington.

The data that the committee gathers will probably be used by the committee on Ways and Means when it comes to revising the tariff in the last session of the 60th congress, or the first of the 61st.

At the same time, but independently, the Department of Agriculture will continue its experiments with various plants, in an effort to discover something that may be substituted for spruce wood in the manufacture of news print paper.

What the Supreme Court Has Done.

Despite the popular notion of the ponderosity and slow-moving qualities of the Supreme Court of the United States, that tribunal achieved a note-worthy record during the term just closed, as follows: What it decided this term: La Follette Employers' Liability law unconstitutional. Greater Pittsburg law constitutional.

Federal courts have limited power only to punish conspiracy to prevent negroes from working.

Federal government cannot punish captains of steamers for the landing and escape of foreigners on crew.

Import duties collected during occupation of Cuba in 1898 legal.

Federal authorities limited in land fraud prosecutions, and new trial granted former Rep. John Newton Williamson, of Oregon.

Liquor laws of Kansas declared constitutional.

Federal receivership of New York City railroads upheld.

Erdman act, in so far as railroads being prohibited from discriminating against union men because they are such, unconstitutional.

Boycott of goods entering interstate commerce declared violation of Sherman anti-trust law.

Oregon female labor law unconstitutional.

Elkins rebate law held not to have been repealed by Hepburn law, and $15,000 rebate fine on Great Northern Ry company approved.

"Canned" music from copyrighted music sheets held not to violate the copyright law.

Campaign contributions must not be solicited in government buildings even by letter.

Elkins law applicable to export shipments of meat. Fines of $15,000 against the big packing houses and the Burlington Railway approved.

Minnesota intra-state railroad rate law held unconstitutional.

Federal court held to have justly exercised power to determine confiscatory nature of North Carolina railroad rate law.

Nebraska lost preliminary contest looking toward the enforcement of state railroad rate law.

Texas law taxing railroads, declared unconstitutional.

H. Clay Pierce, oil magnate, must stand trial in Texas for charge of false swearing in Waters-Pierce Oil company suit.

Ordinance of city of St. Louis levying a passenger tax on street car companies valid.

What It Passed Over Until Next Term:

Constitutionality of Hepburn rate law.

Determination whether West Virginia shall pay any part of Virginia $33,000,000 state debt when former was born.

Constitutionality of Arkansas anti-trust law.

Validity of $1, 600,000 fine on Waters-Pierce Oil company, for alleged violation of Texas anti-trust laws.

Chattanooga contempt case growing out of lynching of negro federal prisoner.

Constitutionality of Kentucky law forbidding education of negroes and whites together in private school.

Constitutionality of 80-cent gas law of New York.

There is one case at least to prove that American baseball and a tropical climate can be hitched together and made to amble along comfortably. Down on the Isthmus of Panama, where the Americans are digging the ditch, exists the nearest equator league in existence. There are seven teams—the Ancons, Culebras, Gorgonas, Marines and others—all of which have played from 25 to 34 games in the present series, with the Ancons in the lead.

When the bleachers—a nice little palm-shaded hillside—lets loose, it sounds as if some of the steam shovel sirens had broken away from the cut. It's a good way to blow off the accumulation of longing for the dear old States, and it helps a lot to shoot bunches of hot talk at the umpire—an awful lot. It reminds one of the dear old bleachers at home, when Lajoie soaked out that three-bagger in the ninth three years ago.

No Jamaican or Panamanian or Portuguese wonders have turned up yet. The star players are those like Bill Smith on shovel 16, who gets his practice out behind the mess quarters after the whistle blows. The native or climate-bred foreigner prefers to spend his spare time under the shade of the sheltering palm looking on in lazy wonder. As Bill Smith says, "Hell! There's only one real way to learn baseball—out in the lot back of the car barns. And they ain't got no car barns down here."

Secluded in his residence on the city and denied to all callers, Senator La Follette is working in violation of the eight-hour law revising his record-breaking long-distance speech delivered during the closing hours of the senate. He frankly confesses that the revision of the speech is a much more arduous job than its delivery.

During those 18 hours and 23 minutes that the Wisconsin senator held the floor, the stenographers were worked almost to a frenzy taking down his remarks. Although

After washing, apply ROBERTINE and experience its delightful refreshment. You will admire the lineless softness it imparts to face, neck and arms. It not only stimulates a radiant glow, but protects the skin from becoming coarse. Prevents burning, tan and freckles.
