SATISFACTION OF TAKING A SQUARE STAND.

There must be a moral satisfaction in taking a square and unequivocal stand on any matter.

That is what a Statement No. 1 member of the legislature takes when he signs that statement.

He pledges himself to abide by the will of the majority, and what man of any party can do otherwise?

He cannot do otherwise if he is a true American and there is some satisfaction in being even an American.

Marion county has at least four members of the general assembly who know just what they will do in the next legislature.

Hatteberg, Libbey, Patton and Kay will stand up for the people's choice for United States senator.

They have no votes to sell or to trade for a federal office or for an appropriation, or anything else.

There must be a great moral satisfaction in feeling that you are in an unambiguous position.

AT LEAST ONE LANE COUNTY MAN GETS RIGHT ON THIS MATTER.

Allen H. Eaton, representative elect on Statement No. 1, has given out the following statement for publication. He says:

"I shall certainly vote for Mr. Chamberlain at the next session of the legislature. I could not honorably do anything else. I do not want my position on the statement misunderstood. I took the pledge because I believed in it. I knew at the time it might mean my defeat for the house of representatives, but I preferred to be defeated on the pledge than to be elected without it. I worked for Mr. Fulton in the primaries and for Mr. Cake in the general election. The people of Oregon preferred Mr. Chamberlain to my choice, and I shall vote to ratify their selection when the time comes in the legislature.

THE "GOD-WITH-US" CURE FOR HUMAN ILLS.

Rev. Dr. Robert MacDonald tells in the July Woman's Home Companion how the church is once more becoming active in the cure of human ills.

Through the "Emmanuel Movement," started at Emmanuel Episcopal church in Boston, and taken up by Doctor MacDonald in his own church in Brooklyn, the church is again saying, "ARISE, TAKE UP THY BED AND WALK."

"The complaint is going up from everywhere," says Doctor MacDonald "that the church is losing its hold on practical men and women.

The reason is not that the church is not faithful to its duty, but that the world has increased its facilities to satisfy man.

BUT HERE IS A NEW WAY OF REACHING THE MAN OF THE WORLD.

His modern way of living, with all its hurry and worry, has gotten onto his nerves.

He sleeps poorly, is depressed and melancholy, has nervous breakdowns, is dyspeptic and sluggish and miserable.

The same man who will not listen to a purely spiritual appeal WANTS HELP, AND WANTS IT BADLY.

The church that can promise him health with which to do his work, wins him.

His bodily pain is very real to him, for it is so much nearer than a cramped and dormant spirit of which he is not conscious.

"Where does the Emmanuel Movement differ from Christian Science?" There can be said to be only one point of similarity.

It is that both are desirous of getting rid of disease.

BUT THEY NO SOONER JOIN ISSUE THAN THEY DISAGREE.

The point of separation is in what constitutes curable and incurable malady.

The Emmanuel Movement treats only 'functional disorders of the nervous system.'

Christian Science does not distinguish between functional and organic diseases.

Then, again, the Emmanuel

Movement works hand in hand with physicians, taking only such cases as they recommend, cases that are beyond the reach of drugs and the ordinary medical prescription.

Christian Science does not antagonize medical practice, but does not discriminate between so-called curable and incurable diseases.

The Christian Scientists rely solely UPON THEIR UNDERSTANDING OF GOD AS THE SAVING TRUTH AND PRINCIPLE, and reject materia medica.

But the new teaching is at least a partial acknowledgement of the command of the Saviour, to teach and heal.

In that far it is an acknowledgment of the contention of the Christian Scientists, that the gospel was for the salvation of all from sickness and disease as well as from sins.

Born in Iowa.

Our family were all born and raised in Iowa, and have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (made at Des Moines) for years. We know how good it is from long experience in the use of it.

In fact, when in El Paso, Texas, the writer's life was saved by the prompt use of this remedy. We are now engaged in the mercantile business at Narcoossee, Fla., and have introduced the remedy here. It has proven very successful and is constantly growing in favor.—Ennis Bros. This remedy is for sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

STATE NEWS ITEMS.

The Oregon Bankers' association will hold their next annual convention in Salem on Friday and Saturday, the 26th and 27th. The program will be one of the most interesting ever presented and the business men of Salem are planning an entertainment in honor of the association.

1908 will register the greatest crop of berries and cherries that Oregon has ever produced. Quality is magnificent, quantity almost unlimited, and while humanity is enjoying this fruit the maturing hay crop insures a big increase in the dairy output, which has been greatly benefited by as good spring pastures as were ever known in this section.

Residents of the Northwest should take pains to see that their Eastern country friends are made familiar with the unequalled conditions which make dairying so profitable here.

The Oregon Society of Mutual Insurance was organized last week in Portland, and will affiliate with the National association at once. W. C. Hagerty, of McMinnville, is president, B. J. Barry, of Dayton, secretary of the Oregon body.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve Wins.

Tom Moore, of Rural Route 1, Cochran, Ga., writes: "I had a bad sore come on the instep of my foot and could find nothing that would heal it until I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Less than half of a 25 cent box won the day for me by affording a perfect cure." Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store.

BUG WORTH $100,000,000 TO FARMERS IN ECLIPSE

Green Aphid, Now Nearly Exterminated in United States, Long Will Be Remembered for Big Rise in Wheat Price.

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Exit the $100,000,000 bug. The advent of the Hessian fly, which is now devouring the winter wheat crop and bringing terror to the hearts of the farmers in Kansas, marks the passing from the spotlight of what was probably in its hey-day the greatest wealth producing insect in the records of commerce.

This bug, the spring green aphid, was worth $100,000,000 to bank accounts of people in this country in 1907, who escaped its call. At the same time it was so destructive that desperate efforts were made to exterminate it. Men wise in bug-ology were on their knees in the fields examining it with magnifying glasses.

The scientists discovered other bugs or flies which took such a fancy to the little bug in question that they actually began to feed on it. Then these scientists hatched and turned loose millions of these parasites to devour or destroy the $100,000,000 bug. They were partly successful and a threatened calamity was averted.

The green aphid made sleepless nights for wheat raisers of Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Nebraska for a period of 60 days last year. Before it was exterminated the Department of Agriculture, the bureau of entomology and an army of scientists were engaged in the fight to save the wheat crop of the country.

The green bugs were vanquished and their spread into the wheat states east of the Mississippi and the spring wheat states of the north-west finally checked on the principle of fighting the 'evil with fire.' A small black fly in Oklahoma and Texas was found to be the natural enemy of the green bug. This fly was propagated by the millions under the advice of the scientists.

Agents of the bureau of entomology were sent into the fields to direct the work of distributing the diminutive black parasites. In 30 days after the "war on the bugs" began the danger was declared over, but not until Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas had suffered great injury and wheat raisers had a great scare over what looked like a calamity for a time.

Now for the $100,000,000 part of the story. When the first real scare over the green bugs began wheat was selling on May contracts at 74 1/2 cents. This was when the sun crossed the line March 21 and the growing season for the big winter wheat states fairly began. The country had a visible supply of 1906 wheat on hand amounting to nearly 48,000,000 bushels. Argentina was shipping 3,000,000 bushels a week to Europe and underselling American exporters. Shipments from that quarter from January 1 to May 1 were 64,000,000 bushels. Official figures show that primary markets in this country were groaning under the receipts of 30,000 to 400,000 bushels a day above normal movement of previous years. The earlier reports on the growing crop sent out from Secretary Wilson's crop bureau were flattering and caused great depression in prices. It looked like 50 cent a bushel for the 1907 crop to the farmers west of the river.

Then came the green bug and the speculator.

At the first serious mention of insect damage to wheat in Texas and Oklahoma experts were dispatched from Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Louis grain exchanges to learn the facts. The reports wired back to members of these exchanges first informed the press, the public and even the wheat raisers of the southwest of the danger which threatened the crop. Buying of wheat in all the big markets began like a whirlwind.

The best part of the story is that prices did not recede much after the battle with the bugs was over. Conditions were unfavorable for the wheat crop of Russia. There was a very late season in the Canadian northwest. Every exchange in the country watched all these adverse signs and in anticipating the short yields for the year held prices well up around $1 for the entire harvest season in this country.

TWO DAYS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Reno, Nev., June 22.—According to a smelter report just made public, the Rogers mining syndicate has just completed the record week in gold production, having taken out $744 an hour from the mine from June 3 to June 10. The settlement of the smelter company from June 9 and June 10 shows that $35,000 was paid for ore taken from the mine on these two days. A treasure sack was discovered at the 500-foot level and enough gold was taken out to pay the operating expenses of the mine for five years.

Advertised : : : :

THE "cleverest advertisement" you ever wrote may be quite forgotten now, even by the best friends it made for you! It may survive only in the bigger store it helped to create.

But it is just as certain that the bigger store of the future is to grow out of the advertising of the present as it is that the store as it now stands is the result, in large measure, of your "forgotten" advertisements.

You have preserved the results of advertising. You must create new results through new advertising.

Small Depositors

Our Bank welcomes small depositors. In our Savings Department as small an amount as one dollar will open an account.

We have good reasons for giving these accounts our best service. Many of our large depositors started as small depositors, and a large number of satisfied depositors with small accounts is a good advertisement for our bank.

Young people especially are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to start a bank account.
