ATTEMPTED TO ROB DAVE YANTIS' HOME

About 8 o'clock last evening a man, whom it was afterwards found was Bert Watson who has just finished a term for burglary at Pendleton, walked into the home of David Yantis on North Center street and proceeded to search the house for valuables. Several ladies were in the house at the time, and heard the noise made by the burglar. The man had picked up a pair of tan shoes belonging to Mr. Yantis, but when he heard the women approaching he dropped them and fled, escaping down the alley.

Night Officer Murphy was notified and came at once to the scene of action. Before he arrived at the house he met Watson coming back up the alley towards the house, evidently intent upon returning for the shoes. The man was arrested and brought to the city jail, where he is awaiting his hearing.

ECZEMA ONLY SKIN DEEP

Local Cause of Diseased Surface Now Recognized as Proper Treatment.

In gathering data for an address before the Pathological club, Dr. D. D. Dennis, the skin specialist of Chicago, prepared a table of results on microscopic blood examinations of 468 sufferers from skin disease.

These tests were from the blood of persons who had called at his office within a period of two years. Less than 10 per cent of all these cases showed anything at all the matter with the blood, and in not a single instance could the physicians present trace the slightest connection between the skin affection and the blood humor.

This personal experience furnished the Chicago physician with the basis for a brilliant exposition of his contention that eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch and other skin diseases are first and last diseases of the skin and have nothing at all to do with the blood. At the conclusion of his paper, Dr. Dennis was congratulated on his demonstration by the prominent medical men present.

For several years Dr. Dennis has allowed a private company to manufacture and sell his celebrated compound of thymol glycerine and oil of wintergreen known as D. D. D. Prescription, and it was particularly gratifying to him that other first-class physicians, free from prejudice and jealousy, should recommend the D. D. D. Prescription to all skin sufferers. It is simply wonderful—the instant relief—the complete taking away of the itch the very moment this oil of wintergreen compound is applied to the skin. We know, we vouch for it! The Capital Drug Co. Just try it. We recommend D. D. D. Prescription especially when used with D. D. D. Soap. Call at our store and we will tell you more about this scientific cure.

PLAYED AUNT MARY TO QUEEN'S TASTE

Everybody had a rollicking good time and grew young again with "Aunt Mary" in her rejuvenation as played by May Robson at the Grand opera house. The advance press agent had hit it right, it is a screeching comedy in parts where it is funny and the moments for pathos are intense.

May Robson played to perfection the part of an old country aunt of a scapegrace of a nephew, who she has practically adopted as a son and who is continually getting his old aunt into trouble with his scrapes at college, such as shooting a cook, celebrating until late into the night and a breach of promise suit. Her rejuvenation begins with second act, when she goes to New York to see the nephew in a house filled with young college fellows all merry-making, though a letter which she had received stated the nephew was down with the measles. Her sudden arrival occurs just at the time the college boys are preparing a surprise party for the sister of one of them and in the emergency declare the party gotten up especially for "Aunt Mary," whose second trip it is to the city within 25 years. After many laughable attempts, she begins to understand the new-fangled ideas of city life and goes in for a good time. After three weeks in the city she returns to her home and surprises her old servant girl and hired man by appearing in the latest Parisian gowns. She also attempts to substitute a bed for an automobile with an ice cream for the steering gear and has the old hired man push "the machine" around the room, but it doesn't go.

There is plenty of good philosophy running through the play, but the main part is good for one plain long laugh.

About half of your usual persistency and hopefulness, devoted to the task of advertising, will make you prosper.

Your advertising must always give the right clue to your personal faith in your business—in your proposition if that faith is small, is stunted—small and stunted advertising will correctly reflect it.

Now for the Baby Exhibit.

The Fourth of July committee is receiving subscriptions at a very good rate and to date the amount subscribed totals $1554. Plans for the Fourth are materializing every day to make the celebration a great success. A baby show is the latest feature. Hal Patton, one of a committee says, "Fat babies, thin babies, tall, short pink, white, black and in fact any babies can compete. Two silver cups for winners. Contest at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Marion Square."

Dr. Harvey J. Clements has been appointed microscopist and pathologist at the Oregon state insane asylum.

APOLOGY

DUE THE CARMEN

A very unfortunate item appeared in The Journal of last Friday. It was in regard to motormen flirting with young ladies on the streetcars. This article was clipped from a foreign paper and had nothing whatever to do with the Salem streetcar boys. A more gentlemanly lot of motormen and conductors cannot be found anywhere than are on the cars of this city. The Journal sincerely regrets that this uncalled for paragraph accidentally appeared in its columns. There is a cigar due from The Journal to each of the boys if they will step into the office.

Kidnaped From Her Parents.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Fresno, Cal., June 30.—"If you don't pay us $5000 for your daughter before tonight we will come back and kill you."

This is the threat that two masked desperadoes hurled at Adolph Doemengine, as they carried away his beautiful 18-year-old daughter at the point of a revolver early today.

Doemengine lives in a ranch house near Coalinga and he hurried to town today with a story that has thrown the whole oil district into excitement. The two kidnapers rode up to the house in the early hours of the morning and set fire to the barn and outhouses. The members of the family frightened by the crackling flames rushed from the house in their night clothes. The men were waiting with their revolvers ready. They forced Doemengine to throw up his hands and told his wife she would be killed if she moved.

Then one of the robbers went into the house and took all the firearms. There he discovered Edan, the 18-year-old girl and pointing his revolver at her, forced her to walk before him into the yard. By the light of the blazing barn, they forced the girl to get into a ranch wagon. The mother wept and bitterly implored them to stop but to no avail. They spoke gruffly and told her if she did not stop "sniffing" they would shoot her. The father was enraged but could not defend his daughter for fear that he would be killed if he made a move.

The girl was forced to sit in the middle of the wagon seat. Then one man sat on each side of her and held her. With curses they hurled the parting threat at Doemengine, who had no weapon and feared to follow. The mother swooned as she saw her daughter in the hands of the ruffians and hearing her screams as the wagon rolled off down the road. The father hastened to the nearest house and securing aid and firearms, set out in pursuit but all trace of the bandits had been lost.

WESTERN SHEEPMEN DESIRE CHICAGO AS WOOL CENTER

(Baker City Democrat.)

Sam Ballantyne, secretary of the Idaho Wool Growers' association, was in the city last night enroute to Chicago to meet the board of trade, prominent bankers and railroad men of that city regarding the wool storage warehouse the western sheepmen are desirous of locating there this season, says the Cheyenne Tribune.

At this meeting Idaho will also be represented by Governor Gooding who is president of the National Wool Grower's association and by Scott Anderson of the Idaho association. Secretary Walker of the National and Wyoming associations, left for Chicago this morning. President Deiferder of the Wyoming association is also expected to attend the meeting.

Arrangements have been made for various western delegates to meet the board of trade, prominent bankers and railroad men of Chicago at luncheon there Friday afternoon, and it is expected as the result of this meeting a wool storage warehouse will be erected at once in the windy city similar to that just completed in Omaha through the efforts of the Wyoming growers.

The capacity of the Omaha storage house will be severely tested this season and one twice as large is proposed for Chicago. Secretary Ballantyne is enthusiastic over this latest attempt of the western wool growers to escape the middlemen's profits and says that a majority of Idaho sheepmen, now that they fully understand the plan are anxious to see the Chicago plan materialize.

According to the reports received from the wool centers of Wyoming, the establishment at the wool storage warehouse at Omaha has had an appreciable effect on the industry in Wyoming. Eastern wool buyers are becoming more numerous but very few sales are made, and wool, especially from the central part of the state, is being moved to Omaha as rapidly as the weather will permit of shearing and shipping.

The Omaha banks have announced that they are in position to make liberal loans on warehouse certificates. With the low prices offered for wool by the eastern buyers now in Wyoming growers feel that they are taking no chances by shipping to Omaha, where it is said that some of the larger manufacturers of the east have already made arrangements to place orders as soon as their clips are in.

Governor Albert B. Cummins, who came near being the Republican vice presidential nominee, will probably resign the governorship in order to practice law and take a part in the campaign.
