City News

Weather—
Fair tonight; Thursday fair and not so warm.

When in Portland—
Visit "Halls" new restaurant, 330 Wash. St., opposite Imperial hotel.

Fat on Baggage Car—
The O. R. & N. company has notified the Railroad commission that it will put a baggage car on the evening train from Elgin to La Grande, as demanded by the people of Elgin in their complaint to the Railroad commission.

Just Right—
For desert—Zinn's ice cream.

Storage Charges Corrected—
The Railroad Commission has notified Emil Grottkopp of Hepner who has entered complaints against the storage charges made by the O. R. & N. at that city, that the railroad company had taken up the matter and had promised that there would be no further difficulty.

Car to Be Repaired—
In answer to the complaint filed by United States District Attorney John McCort, in regard to the Southern Pacific Mail car No. 5245, which is in a dilapidated condition and unfit for use, Secretary A. E. Morsey of the Inter State Commerce commission has forwarded reports showing that the car is to be repaired immediately.

Ice Cream—
In paper rolls to take home; will keep one-half hour or more, at Zinn's.

G. F. Mason Box Co.—
247 Miller St., South Salem, manufacturer of all kinds of boxes, crates and fruit drier accessories. Phone 305.

Disbarment Proceeding—
Proceedings have been renewed in the supreme court against J. A. Finch, H. C. King and John F. Waste, Portland attorneys who are sought to be disbarred for alleged professional misconduct.

Jack Rodgers Happy—
J. P. Rodgers this morning received a handsome Tiffany ware and silver vase awarded to him by the Portland Rose Festival association for the best decorated launch at the Portland Rose Festival. Mr. Rodgers did not know any prizes were offered and he was much surprised when he saw the beautiful vase with his name and the name of his launch, "Eagle," engraved on it. Mr. Rodgers had about 100 electric lights on his launch in Portland but he will have 175 on his boat here on the Fourth. In Jack's own words he is "stepping higher than a blind mule today." This is once that Salem went to Portland and captured the prizes.

Visited His Brother—
E. P. Walker, the well known hayseed alderman from the first, has returned from a visit to his brother, Harvey Walker, at McCoy. The latter is a boy of 82 and is running a large hog farm, and owns in all 400 acres of land. He found him well, active and hearty.

Will Take Vacation—
State Printer Dunway will close his office for a few days to give his men a little vacation trip to the mountains, and he will prepare the best Fourth of July oration ever delivered at Salem.

Getting Instructions—
Ra. Welch, who was made special policeman and poundmaster for this city, was in session with the mayor this morning getting his instructions as to the duties of his office. He promises to be something better than the city has yet had in that office if the ordinance is good for anything.

New Electric Sign—
Business men toward the north end of the business section of Commercial street are pleased to note an electric sign going up in front of the Edsonia. This will liven things up in the evening.

Honor lost by a man may be regained; a slip in a woman's honor is unrecoverable.

LINDSTROM DEATH AN ACCIDENT

"John Lindstrom met his death by an accidental fall from the fourth floor of the Willamette hotel," is the verdict of the coroner's jury, which investigated the death of the millionaire shipbuilder and ex-mayor of Aberdeen, Washington.

The principal witness examined was J. H. Peterson, who came to this city with Lindstrom. He stated that he did not believe the deceased, who was a long-time friend and business partner of his, had committed suicide; that he was not worried by anything except the raising of money to secure 2800 acres of rich timberland near Eureka, California. Peterson did not know what the telegrams found in Lindstrom's pockets meant. It is supposed that the cause for suicide, if any, was contained in the telegram, which hinted at blackmail.

Lester Davis, newspaper correspondent and first to rush out of the hotel at the time, Night Clerk Smith, Dr. J. H. Smith, Coroner Clough and Policeman Folend followed each other's testimony, rapidly filling up the links necessary to complete the chain from the time of the finding of the body to the time it was removed to the undertaking parlors.

TAFT IS OUT OF A JOB

Washington, July 1.—William H. Taft at noon today formally transferred the office of the secretary of war to Luke E. Wright. An informal reception was held and Taft, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced Secretary Wright to the officials and clerks of the department. Secretary Wright received many messages of congratulation and a number of bouquets in honor of the occasion.

Taft finds himself off the payroll for the first time in 22 years. During that period he has held eight different appointive offices. He was never elected to any office.

ONE DAY ENOUGH OF MAINE LIFE

San Francisco, July 1.—Mrs. Bee Deery Aine is consulting her lawyers today trying to solve the problem as to how she may once more become Miss Bee Deery, having repented her marriage to a man 31 years her senior within 24 hours after the nuptial knot was tied. The unhappy bride alleges that her husband deceived her as to the extent of his worldly possessions.

Mrs. Aine has been employed as a waitress at Oakland for several months. She formerly lived at Point Richmond where she met Aine. Monday she resigned her position and a few hours later was married. Yesterday she appeared at the office of the justice who performed the wedding ceremony and asked him to nullify it. He was unable to comply with her demand.

SAILOR'S ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE PROVES FUTILE

San Francisco, July 1.—Doctors of the battleship Kentucky today announced that M. C. Coray, the sailor who stabbed himself last night, will recover from his wound. Coray entered a saloon, took a drink and shouted: "This is the last." Then he produced a knife and before anyone could interfere, plunged it into his breast. He was taken to the Central Emergency hospital and later removed to the Kentucky. He came from Winchester, Ill.

Mayor Mc Clellan, of New York is planning to sue Wm. Randolph Hearst for $250,000 for the recent compulsory recount and statements accompanying the trial.

MURDERER CAUGHT AT CHEMAWA

James Parkenute Koose, wanted for the murder of a fellow-tribesman at North Yakima, Washington, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Harry P. Minto at Chemawa, where the wily redskin had enrolled as a student, hoping all trace of him would thus be lost.

The arrest followed telegraphic advices from Sheriff Edwards of North Yakima, who advised Sheriff Culver that the Indian would probably be found in some Indian school. When Koose was told that he was under arrest, he manifested no surprise but with usual Indian nonchalance stated he believed there was some kind of a drunken brawl. Beyond this he professed complete ignorance for what he is wanted.

Before he can be taken back to North Yakima, extradition papers will have to be secured and an officer sent down here by Sheriff Edwards.

FIGHT AND NO HUGGING MATCH SAYS REFEREE

San Francisco, July 1.—"It will be a fight and not a hugging match when Gans and Nelson meet next Saturday," declared Referee Jack Welch today, following up his determination which led him to go to Nelson's camp last evening for a serious talk with the Dane.

Welch has made up his mind that there shall be no repetition of the holding which took up so much of the time in the Goldfield fight between the two light weights.

The question has arisen over the discovery of a clause in the articles, put in at Nelson's request, which provides that the fighters agree that the referee shall not put his hands on either of them and that they shall break away at his command.

Welch says he will referee the fight according to the Marquis of Queensberry rules. He says he will not disqualify both men and stop the fight which great crowds will have paid money to witness, if they refuse to break at his command, but that he will separate them by force.

Nelson did his last boxing before the fight today. He is in fine condition and is confident that the time has come for the curtain to fall on the fighting career of Joe Gans. The negro, however, maintains his attitude of superiority and the fact that the betting remains at 2 to 1 against the battler, looks like Gans is joined in his belief by the talent.

WILL RETIRE TWO CAPTAINS OF FLEET

Washington, July 1.—Two captains with the battleship fleet in San Francisco will probably be retired by the board of rear admirals next Friday. The board will meet Thursday to decide upon the men to be placed upon the retired list and forward its report to the secretary of the navy. The report will be published at once to relieve the anxiety of the officers. Upon compulsory retirement under the personnel act, March 3, 1899, officers are allowed three-quarters sea pay of the next rank above.

MYSTERIOUS STRANGER ORDERS SUPPLIES BY CARLOAD

Either the Southern Pacific company are planning great improvements on their track running through this section of the country without announcing it with a bandwagon, or else there is a gentleman giving the name of O'Brien, with a very magnificent imagination, which he doesn't get.

"O'Brien" is quite a pleasant looking gentleman, smooth shave and sleek. He has been "contracting" with the business men of this city during the last couple of days. "O'Brien" is a grand contractor; thinks nothing of ordering a carload or two of hay and grain, or a similar amount of oats; (incidentally wants to borrow a dollar from the man, whom he wants to make the deal with); wants 100 loaves of bread each day in the week, but winds up with a flourish of 300 on Saturday. Lastly he wants 280 mattresses,—that is the last of all the reports which have been heard of thus far.

"O'Brien" made his first visit to the California bakery, where he informed the manager that he represented the firm of Foley Bros. & Welch of Seattle, who were going to grade the track of the Espee company. He would like arrangements made for supplying him with 100 loaves daily and 300 on Saturday. Tilton & Company next received a call and an order for two carloads of hay and one of oats. "Pshaw! Change ran out,—could you lend me a dollar." But Tilton & Company couldn't; instead sent a telegram to "Foley Bros. & Welch," making inquiries, which telegram has as yet failed to bring an answer. Two hundred and eighty mattresses was next ordered from the House Furnishing company,—but—"O'Brien" cannot be found; didn't even take the trouble to register at a hotel.

In the meanwhile, Southern Pacific Agent Houston is wondering what deal his company has on which they have not communicated to him.

DRY LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE

Medford, Or., July 1.—Saloons and breweries today went out of business in all southern Oregon counties except Jackson, where the recent prohibition election was declared void by the circuit court because the order for election included the city of Medford which was exempted from the sphere of the local option law by a special charter.

Judge H. K. Hanna yesterday issued an injunction on application of R. G. Smith and E. E. Kelly, attorneys for county liquor dealers, restraining the county court from declaring prohibition in effect in the county. The permanent injunction already secured prevented the enforcement of prohibition in Medford.

From Jackson county boundary to Marion county, a stretch of nearly 300 miles and from the coast to Lake county, 300 miles is now dry territory. The Roseburg brewery will make beer and the Grants, Pass brewery, denatured alcohol. Saloons have been offering their stock at sacrifice prices and will ship remaining stocks back to wholesalers. Medford is the only large town south of Salem that remains wet.

Please Return Cups

Park Commissioner J. M. Lawrence would like such "patriotic" citizens as have taken the cups from the fountain in Marion Square to return them. Or if the parties are too busy, just ring up Mr. Lawrence and let him know. He will ask no questions.
