VENEZUELA SEVERS RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES

PLANK ON INJUNCTION IS ADOPTED

BY SUB-COMMITTEE
ACCUSE REPUBLICANS OF DODGING ISSUE—TRIAL BY JURY—RAILROAD MEASURE DRAWN—ROADS TO BE VALUED.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Denver, Colorado, July 9.—The following is the exact text of the anti-injunction plank as finally adopted by the platform makers this afternoon for submission to the Democratic convention:
"The courts of justice are the bulwark of the people."

ANOTHER MASSACRE OF REBELS

BY THE COSSACKS
STORMED BY PERSIANS, MEN AND WOMEN GO MAD AND SLAUGHTER RESULTS—SEVERAL HUNDRED KILLED.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Odesa, July 9.—Several hundred more people were killed today at Tabriz in a massacre more terrible than that following the capture of the city by the shah's cossacks July 3. Today's slaughter was the more horrible because it was started by the crazed inhabitants of the cap-

FRIENDS UNABLE TO HELP

UNFORTUNATE GIRL
ACCIDENT AT ROGERS PASS IN THE ROCKIES—MEMBER ALPINE CLUB SLIPS OVER PRECIPICE IN SNOWSLIDE.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Bellingham, Wash., July 9.—After tottering on the brink of a mountain precipice before the eyes of a horrified party of explorers, Miss Helen L. Hatch of Lethbridge, Alberta, slowly slipped over into the chasm and dropped thousands of feet below and was crushed to death on the rocks. The accident happened just south of Rogers pass in the Rocky mountains.
Miss Hatch was a member of the Alpine club, an organization composed of mountain climbers from all parts of Canada.
With the club members Miss Hatch started to scale Mount Evelyn. They reached the snow line Wednesday. In spite of the warnings of her companions Miss Hatch insisted in walking in the snow. She had walked some distance from the other members of the party when she felt the huge mass of snow slipping beneath her. She struggled in vain to regain a firm footing but without avail. She cried to her companions for help. Nothing could be done to old her. Slowly she slid to the brink of the awful chasm, tottered a moment and then was swept over. After the party reached the bottom of the canyon they found her mangled body among the boulders.

DEMOCRATS STOP TILL EVENING

CLAYTON CHAIRMAN
RECESS TAKEN TO ALLOW RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE TO FINISH WORK—LITTLE IS DONE—ORGANIZATION TONIGHT.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Auditorium, Denver, July 9.—The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock this evening.
The Proceedings.
The "Democratic pile driver," as the friends of Colonel James Guffey and Patrick McCarrén have named the Bryan machine here, was working very smoothly today.
Despite the intense heat outside and the general belief that it would be several hours and possibly not until tomorrow before nominations could be reached, the crowd piled into the building filling every seat and standing in the topmost galleries. Bright faced, well dressed women, clad for the most part in soft clinging white materials, made up the bulk of the crowd. And they were decidedly enthusiastic, applauding indiscriminately the band as it discolored first northern and then southern airs. There was no section-

MINISTER RECALLED BY CASTRO

ACTION IS EXPECTED
STATE DEPARTMENT HAS BEEN NOTIFIED BY VELOZ THAT HE HAS BEEN ORDERED TO RETURN HOME.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, July 9.—Senor N. Veloz-Gaitica, first secretary of the Venezuela legation and charge d'affaires, has been directed by President Castro, to leave this country immediately. The secretary notified the state department to this effect this afternoon. This completely severs diplomatic communication between the two countries. The action was expected.

TIRED OF HUNTING FOR BELLE

SHERIFF GIVES UP
OFFICER REFUSES TO SEND FOR SUSPECT UNDER ARREST AND OFFICIALLY DECLARES MRS. GUNNESS DEAD.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
La Porte, Ind., July 9.—Weary of running down hundreds of valueless clues and being called upon to identify countless suspects, Sheriff Smutzer today officially declared that Belle Gunness, the wholesale murderer, is dead. When the sheriff of Hillsdale telephoned to Smutzer today that he was holding the Gunness woman the local sheriff refused to send a deputy for her explaining that the murderer died in the fire which destroyed her home.
The discovery of the gold from Mrs. Gunness' teeth and various other circumstances surrounding the blaze in which the woman and three children were burned to death have convinced the sheriff that the murderer did not escape.

turned city, who are starving to death. For several weeks before the city surrendered, the food situation was desperate. After the cossacks took possession of Tabriz, the people who escaped death were refused food by the soldiers and became desperate.
Early today a bread riot was started by crazed men and women who had been without food for five days. A line was started in the poorer section of the city and the hungry mob marched straight for that portion of the city occupied by the shah's troops.
This was the signal for an additional slaughter by the cossacks. Fighting broke out in several streets at once. In most cases the women and children of Tabriz simply knelt before the brutal soldiers and begged to be put out of their misery. The fighting was desultory on the part of the hunger-crazed people of the fall city and before noon it had been converted into a slaughter. The cossacks are apparently their own masters. Commander Kahn is making no effort to stop the outrages. The situation is getting more desperate every minute.

TWENTY KILLED IN FALL OF BUILDING

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Fifteen bodies have been taken from the ruins and more than a half dozen are still unaccounted for. The actual number of deaths will not be known until the debris is cleared away.

Raffles

The Great Burglar in Moving Pictures at the EDISONIA TONIGHT

alism in this crowd, rather it was a real "new west" cosmopolitan assemblage that had nothing but the kindest feeling for all.
The opening proceedings were considerably delayed and it was 11:30 o'clock before Chairman Bell called order.
Rabbi Emmanuel Koch of Seattle, Wash., offered the opening prayer.
Senator McCarré, of Kentucky, was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.
So, soon as the report of permanent organization has been adopted Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans in a boisterous attempt to show their good will. Bell then named as a committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary, Kentucky; Lewis Nixon, New York, and Judge J. E. Raker, California.
As Congressman Clayton started to speak three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses.
As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down Clayton began his speech. Clayton's voice held out well, and though suffering from the heat and his exertions, he was plainly heard in every corner of the Auditorium as he concluded. His closing words were cheered enthusiastically.

the convention. It was greeted with jeers and hisses at the Democratic convention last night.
Applause from coast delegate: was the only encouragement received when he brought his favorite subject to the notice of the convention.
Nearly half of those in the Auditorium tried to prevent Temporary Chairman Bell from according Hobson the privilege of addressing the convention. Hobson, in plain terms, declared that the United States was in imminent danger of war with Japan. Practically the same speech he delivered has been wildly applauded on the Pacific coast, but the convention didn't like it. Hisses and cries of "Go home," "Sit down," "Get the hook," stopped him several times and Chairman Bell restored order by threatening to clear the galleries.
At the conclusion of Hobson's speech Bell remarked that he himself came from the coast and that as yet he hadn't seen any danger. He added, however, that he hoped for a greater navy to be maintained in the Pacific.
Hobson has been in Denver working hard for an anti-Japan measure and for Pacific coast defense and for a greater navy plank. He addressed the resolutions committee and made a good impression, but the majority of the delegates at the convention thought his speech too radical.

TWENTY KILLED WHEN RHINE BRIDGE FALLS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Cologne, July 9.—By the collapse today of the new bridge being built across the Rhine, 20 workmen lost their lives and a number were seriously injured. The collapse was caused by the falling of the scaffold supporting the crane used in the construction of the central span.

HOBSON IS JEERED AND HISSED AT CONVENTION

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Denver, Colo., July 9.—(By B. H. Canfield, Staff Correspondent of United Press.)—The recitation of Congressman Richard Pearson Hobson of war with Japan, which he has made from the lecture platform in all the cities of the Pacific coast, and which aroused great interest at some place, is not taken seriously here by
