Evans, struck Lieutenant Commander J. F. Carter of the battleship Georgia in the face in an altercation on board the battleship Tuesday night. It is stated

PAGE ASSURES MAYOR WORK WILL BE KEPT UP SO PAVING CAN PROCEED — WARNING HAS EFFECT.

In a letter to Mayor Rodgers this morning Local Manager Page, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, assured the mayor that the work of raising the company's tracks on Commercial street would begin immediately, and that the work would be kept ahead of the paving company so that there would be no interference with the grading or paving of the street. Mayor Rodgers said this morning that the Warren Construction company would put their plows to work on Commercial street some time today. The mayor notified Manager Page some time ago that if the track was not raised before the grading began, bumpers would be put in at the edges of the track, against which to abut the pavement, and that this would be done at the expense of the streetcar company. Page says that the track will be graded at once, and that there will be no need to put in bumpers.

MURDERED BY NEPHEW FOR MONEY

CONFESSION MADE BY POLICEMEN

LURES AUNT AND COUSIN FROM AUSTRIA TO SECURE WEALTH — REVOLTING DETAILS ADMITTED BY YOUTH.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Patterson, N. J., July 23.—After having been in jail several hours under a severe "sweating" by the police authorities here and special detectives summoned from New York, August Eberhardt, formerly an employe of a New York grocery store, late this afternoon confessed that he had lured his aunt, Mrs. Ottilie Eberhardt and her 20-year-old daughter Ophelia to this country from Austria and then deliberately murdered the woman last Sunday night in order to get her little fortune of $2600. The murderer told the whole details of the crime, which was so revolting in its completeness and cunning as to astonish the detectives.

Eberhardt said that he had buried the plunder a mile and a half from the scene of the crime, a lonely section of Hackensack, N. J., and he was taken there this afternoon to rig up the money. The prisoner is heavily guarded because it is feared that popular indignation might lead to a lynching.

Eberhardt was captured here this morning, suffering from a gunshot wound. He had no hat, no coat and no money and was so weak from loss of blood that he could hardly walk. He was questioned by police

IS SHOT DEAD IN CEMETERY

BY POLICEMEN

ONE OF PAIR WHO TERRORIZED BOSTON LAST NIGHT TARGET FOR TWENTY BULLETS — NEARLY LYNCH INNOCENT.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Boston, Mass., July 23.—With one desperado dead, his body riddled with bullets from a posse, an innocent man captured after being surrounded and barely escaping a similar fate, the search of the 300 police for two others engaged in the terrorizing of citizens last night, when one person was killed and ten wounded, continues today, attended by the greatest excitement.

The smaller man, supposed to be men in Forest Hill cemetery during the night and waited for dawn. When daylight broke, they closed in on the victims.

The leaders gave the police orders to shoot on sight as it was believed the men could not be taken alive. One of the hunted men, much larger than the other, sprang from behind a tree and darted toward the forest, snapping an empty revolver at the officers as he ran. He had not gone more than 300 yards, however, before he was hemmed in and he fell under a general fire from his pursuers. A cursory examination showed that he was struck by at least 20 bullets.

The smaller man, supposed to be the companion of the big desperado, was found a little later. He surrendered without any attempt at violence, but the officers, leading the pursuit had great difficulty in preventing their men from shooting him down.

When taken to the police station, the man convinced the police that he was not a member of the gang but a spectator. He had been separated from the crowd in the night and concealed himself, fearing that in the darkness he would be shot either by the police or the bandits. He was released.

The police were unable to identify the big bandit who was killed in the cemetery. He is believed, however, to be one of three men who started the trouble by robbing a saloon at Jamaica Plains Tuesday night, after killing one man and wounding two others.

After the saloon robbery it is thought the men hid in Calvary cemetery and lay concealed all day yesterday, until emboldened by the advance of night they proceeded forth to shoot up the town. Two appeared together in the streets of Jamaica Plains and began shooting to right and left. A mob soon formed and gave chase. As they ran the desperadoes fired continually. Mrs. Della Fallon was shot as she stood in her doorway with a baby in her arms and her condition today is critical.

Little hope is held today for the recovery of Edward McMahon, a Dorchester alderman, who was shot in the abdomen. The others injured, most of whom received bullets in their arms and legs, are doing well. Herbert E. Knox, night watchman at Forest Hill cemetery, died from an injury similar to that sustained by McMahon. The police have little knowledge of the men except that they appear-

HARRIMAN TO FIGHT REDUCTION

IN LUMBER RATES

ACTION WILL BE BEGUN IN FEDERAL COURTS TODAY TO SET ASIDE DECISION OF COMMISSION.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, July 23.—Dissatisfied with the reduction in lumber rates from the Willamette valley in Oregon to San Francisco and adjacent points, ordered by the interstate commerce commission, Harriman is preparing today to fight the decision in the federal court.

Upon complaint of the Western Oregon Lumber Manufacturers' association the interstate commerce commission recently decided that the Hill and Harriman roads must make sweeping reductions in overland rates on lumber shipments from Pacific coast points to many eastern cities. At the same time the tariff schedule on Oregon-California shipments was cut. It is this schedule, it is said, that Harriman objects to.

Before the Harriman roads adopted their new schedule a year and a half ago, $3.10 a ton was charged by the Southern Pacific on lumber shipments to San Francisco from points on the east side of the Willamette valley. Shipments from the west side of the valley were accepted at $3.35 a ton, the difference being caused by the longer haul, via Corvallis and Albany. When the new schedule was adopted the rate was advanced to $5 from either side of the valley.

Because the complaint against this increase was considered well founded, the commission ordered that the rate be reduced to $3.40 from east side points and $3.65 from west side points. Although this is 30 cents a ton higher than the old rate the railroad objects to any reduction in the new flat rate and the case will be carried into the federal courts.

ed to be Hallans. It is thought they started on the wild rampage while drunk, and, being convinced they would be executed if captured, decided to go to the limit of desperation. The desperado who accompanied the big man into the cemetery last night, is thought still to be in hiding and if found, he will probably suffer a similar fate. There is little hope of capturing the third.

The fact that the man surrounded today had exhausted his ammunition undoubtedly saved the lives of a number of his pursuers, as he showed what he could have done by snapping the empty revolver in final defiance as he fled to certain death.

TO RENEW ATTACK ON THE STANDARD OIL

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, July 23.—United States District Attorney Sims gave out the following announcement: "The government will file a petition for a rehearing in the Standard Oil case before the circuit court of appeals within 30 days. If that petition is denied the government will push the prosecution of all the cases against the Standard Oil company. The fight has just begun."

RACE WAR FEARED AT NATAL BAY.

Natal Bay, La., July 23.—This town is in the throes of a fearful race war as the result of the shooting of Walter Simmons, an American, by two Italians Tuesday night. Five hundred foreigners are armed in a camp near here today and the force of Americans in the opposing camp consists of 75 residents of this place. Numerous small encounters have taken place. The Americans are determined to drive the foreigners out of this section of the state. The foreigners are determined to stay and say they will fight for their rights. There is constant fear of a pitched battle.

and at first said that he, himself, was a victim of the same murderer who killed his aunt and wounded his cousin.

The three had been walking down the railroad track, he said, when they were assailed by a fusillade of bullets. He said that he heard a shot and that he was struck on the head and robbed. That was all he remembered until he found himself near here, he said.

Confronted with evidence found by detectives, the prisoner later today broke down and confessed. He had planned the crime for months, he said. Mrs. Eberhardt and her daughter lived in Vienna and by writing them glowing letters of the money that was to be made in America, Eberhardt succeeded in getting them to come to this country. He promised to marry Ophelia on their arrival.

His aunt finally yielded to his urgent letters, and arrived here a week ago today on the steamer Deutschland, the mother carrying her entire fortune, $2600 tucked away in her bosom.

Eberhardt met them at the dock and got them settled in a little hotel on the outskirts of New York. He took his aunt to a money changer
