JOSSE VICTIMIZED BY CHECK SWINDLER

Another bogus check man has appeared in Salem, succeeded in passing his "coin," and has gone his way. The police have been searching for him since Monday evening, but so far they have no clue as to his whereabouts.

A well-dressed man wearing a light suit and hat, called at the store of L. U. Josse last Saturday and asked to be shown some linoleum. Josse showed the man the linoleum, from which a considerable quantity was selected. The man also bought some other goods, the whole bill amounting to $12.50.

The man, who had already remarked that he was from Turner, produced a check for $32, drawn on the Capital National bank, signed with the name Mitchell. Josse cashed the check, and gave the man $19.20 in change. Josse had a faint recollection of Mitchell as a customer of his who lived in Turner. The check was made payable to Edna Atkinson, and endorsed by Edward Atkinson, and endorsed by Edward from the bank on Monday, just as Josse was about to ship the goods to Turner as the fellow had directed.

CLAGGETTE HAS SON ARRESTED

W. D. Claggette, a well known and wealthy farmer of this city has arrested his step-son, Robert McFarland on the charge of trespass. It appears that young McFarland, who is the son of Claggette's third wife, is in the habit of coming uninvited to the Claggette home and of actually sitting down to the table with his mother, sisters and step-father. Claggette declared that he would not tolerate the offense any longer, and so the boy was arrested and his hearing set for this morning at 10 o'clock. Some of the parties failed to show up at that time, and the trial was postponed until 3 o'clock this afternoon.
