To Play Albany—
Arrangements were completed last night by Manager Miller, of the Fairmount baseball club, and P. E. Mason, manager of the Alco Club, of Albany, for a game to be pulled off here on the Salem league grounds Sunday afternoon. The Alco club won the championship series here during the Cherry Fair, and are represented with a good band of ball players. The Fairmount club have been strengthening their team considerably of late, and claim they have the double cross on the Albany lads, which remains to be seen.

Railroad Commission—
The Railroad Commission has set the date of October 7th for the hearing in the matter of the waiting rooms maintained by the Southern Pacific Company at its Jefferson street depot in Portland. The hearing will be held in room 606 in the Wells-Fargo building in Portland. The Railroad Commission this morning issued an order suspending the order of July 22, requiring the O. R. & N. to repair and improve the company's stock yards at The Dalles.

Pleased With Salem—
Prof. M. C. Wilcox, of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, left Wednesday for Washington, after looking over this city. Mr. Wilcox is visiting the West with the intention of locating a place to live, and he is very much pleased with this city. Prof. Wilcox has been a teacher in different Eastern colleges for the past 25 years, his latest position being in the Cornell college where he taught Greek.

RETIRED MERCHANT PASSES ON

Isaac S. Steiner, aged 64, passed away at his home on the Garden Road early this morning, after an illness of several months. He was quite comfortable until Tuesday, when he suffered severely until his release. He was born in Allen county, Ohio, March 18, 1844, and came to Oregon with his brother, Gideon, in 1887, both locating at Salem with their families. He went into the grocery trade the following spring, and kept in business on State street until about two years ago, when he retired, selling out to J. W. Harritt. He leaves a wife and married daughter, Mrs. Florence Grilley, of Portland. He leaves two older brothers, Gideon and David, at Salem, and a younger brother, Peter, at Dallas, Texas, who was coming to make him a visit in August. Three sisters survive him, Mrs. Mary Thut, of Goshen, Ind.; Mrs. Fannie Bloeser, of Selwood, Or., and Mrs. Barbara Hauenstein, of Bluffton, Ohio. Mr. Steiner was a member of the Congregational church. He was a man of the most kindly genial disposition, loving his family and treating all with whom he came in contact as nearly right as possible. He will always be remembered in Salem business circles as a man of the strictest integrity of character, and no higher eulogy can be pronounced upon any American citizen.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family home on the Garden Road. Interment will be made in City View cemetery.

MARRIED.

MICKELBROOK-O'BRIEN — At St. James' church, McMinnville, on Tuesday, July 28, at 8:30 a. m., Chas. O'Brien of Salem to Miss Josephine M. Mickelbrook of McMinnville, Rev. A. Moore of St. Joseph's church, Salem, officiating during an impressive nuptial mass.

The groom is a well-known hop grower and prominent young business man of this city. He is one of the four O'Brien brothers. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mickelbrook, prosperous farmers of Yamhill county. Salem guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Yanuke and daughter, Genevieve, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bach, Mr. and Mrs. Albert O'Brien and Miss Anna O'Brien. A sumptuous wedding dinner was served at the bride's parental home and many beautiful presents were received.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien took the afternoon train for Portland and have gone to spend their honeymoon at the Newport beaches. Their many Salem friends join in hearty good wishes and congratulations.

SON OF MRS W. K. VANDERBILT KILLED

Paris, July 29.—The big Vanderbilt motor car was wrecked today near Poissy and a Mr. Sands, son of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt by her first marriage, was killed. Whether the dead man is Samuel or G. Winthrop Sands could not be learned.

It was first reported that William K. Vanderbilt had been killed and La Patrie issued an extra edition announcing his supposed death, which caused a great sensation.

After the accident the wounded man was removed to the Chateau Saine Louis, where the attaches refused to give any information, veiling the affair in mystery. It is understood that Sands was on his way from Deuville to Paris, and was making a rapid run. The car upset at a sharp turn in the road, which the chauffeur tried to take at too high a rate of speed.

Both Sands and the chauffeur were pinned under the car and were extracted by working people, attracted by the accident, only after the greatest difficulty. The chauffeur was dangerously hurt, and was taken to a hospital, where he is unconscious and unable to tell of the accident.

The accident happened at an out-of-the-way place, and there are reports that other persons were in the car, and that their names are being concealed. It is believed by some that W. K. Vanderbilt was in the car, though this is stoutly denied.
