

THE EVERYDAY STORE J. L. STOCKTON THE OLD WHITE CORNER THE QUALITY SHOP

THE QUALITY SHOP

We mean by this, that our store is stocked with the very best quality of merchandise that can be found in the market. Our buyers are men of experience who have bought for years and "made good." They meet the trade on the floors of our store, study their wants, hear them express their wishes, their approval, or disapproval, weigh the results and act accordingly.

THE EVERYDAY STORE

We mean by this, that you know where to find us, and how to depend upon us every day. We are not spasmodic about things; we don't jump at conclusions or allow our feelings to control us. But every day we progress, keeping pace with the country. Regardless of the predictions of a dull fall, we have bought more good than ever before, because our business is growing, and our trade demands it.

CHINESE SOLDIERS IN MUTINY

(United Press Leased Wire.) Hong Kong, Aug. 13.—Pursued by government troops, 1000 mutineers are fleeing to the Talking mountains to join the rebels there. After the soldiers stationed at Wu Chow mutinied they murdered their commander, his secretary and clerk and pillaged the village, attacked the soldiers camping at Omyung and escaped with booty amounting to $100,000.

ACCIDENT

The aeronaut has been worried by the people who gather to see the flights. His previous flights have all been made in private, and the excitement of the crowds has made him nervous. It was to avoid this that he determined to make his flights early in the morning.

The successful flight of yesterday has positively proved that the success of the great mechanical bird and the accident today is not looked upon as diminishing his success. After the accident Wright said:

"The damage to the machine is not serious. The motor is not damaged at all, and I hope to have all repaired and to be ready to continue the flights within a few days."

The American aeronaut is the hero of the day in Paris. The papers are filled with stories of his flights; his manner of life; his views on any question on which he can be made to talk, and descriptions of his personality. The accident today is the cause of deep regret.

It is better to cure the little cough than to take chances of consumption. The best cough cure is Kemp's Balsam. Druggists sell it at 25c and 50c a bottle.

Hayfever Season.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The hayfever delegates to the middle west are now swarming through Chicago, red-eyed and "glub," on their annual pilgrimage to regions on the Great Lakes where they are immune. Each year the procession headed for the invigorating air of Lake Superior, Georgian bay and the Temagami country grows larger, the reason being that fewer of the delegates are made to go away alone. The necessity of the hayfever delegates has become their opportunity for a real outing, the regions of their immunity having proved so charming to them that now their families and friends insist on going too. The transformation of the members of Hay Fever association is sudden; men from inland towns suddenly turn nautical on one of the great inland seas, they are to be found on all sorts of craft from rowboats to the biggest steamships on the Great Lakes, the luxurious Huronic of the Northern Navigation company's fleet, which the Chicagoans board at Sarnia. The annual onset of hayfever has caused the exploration of all the 30,000 islands of Georgian bay, that great archipelago of weird and fantastic scenery. The great attraction among those islands and the Temagami region is the air, which is dry and balsamic. One hayfever delegate, whose misery left him immediately he entered Georgian bay, wrote: "The air seems to have lost the last trace of moisture, and becomes by reason of its dryness so pellucid that every object seems as if seen through a telescope, and the sunlight assumes a splendor not observed in moister climates." The American Medical association has done much to encourage research for the relief of hayfever, and the Dunbar antitoxin has proved a partial success. The misery, medically known as "hyperesthetic rhinitis," is not wholly ascribed to dust and pollen, the Journal of the association recently having said that the three causes were nervous susceptibility, including predisposition to gout and rheumatism; abnormal conditions of the nasal organs, and the irritation caused by dust or pollen. The most effective remedy yet found is a change of air. Light clothing and light food are recommended.

POSED AS NOBLEMAN; FORGER GOES TO PRISON

(United Press Leased Wire.) Salinas, Cal., Aug. 13.—Still smiling, Walter G. Smith, butterfly of fashion, pseudo nobleman, "Earl of Radcliffe," jail-breaker and forger, was taken to San Quentin to serve a six-years' sentence for breaking jail. Smith first appeared here in June, 1907. He spent money liberally, had a retinue of servants, and was much sought after by mothers with marriageable daughters. He declared that he was the rightful "Earl of Radcliffe."

Drafts that he drew on Eastern banks were returned unhonored, and he was arrested for forgery. He cawed his way out of jail, was re-arrested and escaped again. He remained in the county, writing letters to the sheriff, twitting him on his inability to capture him, and even pinning notes and his autograph on the jail doors.

Finally, he permitted himself to be "taken," setting up the defense of insanity. He conducted his own defense, having his cell piled high with law books. The physicians were unable to agree as to his sanity, when he declared that he was faking.

When the trial was resumed he threatened to have witnesses brought from England at the expense of the state. When the court denied motion after motion made by the "Earl" in his own behalf, he pleaded guilty, and threw himself on the mercy of the court. He was sentenced to six years at hard labor.

EAGLES BY THOUSAND MARCH IN SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 13.—Eleven thousand Eagles and numerous floats forming a parade three miles in length, the first division being dismissed at the reviewing stand before the last had started on the march, made up one of the spectacular features of the tenth annual convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, now in session here. The parade formed and started on time, at 11 o'clock this morning. In spite of lowering clouds and threatening rains thousands turned out early to witness the procession. The Eagles, with their gay banners and handsomely decorated floats, marching clubs in unique uniforms, headed by their famous pipe and drum corps, with "Yea, yea" being yelled from thousands of throats made the air warm dispelling the chilly temperature. The unique floats in the parade consisted of a huge Eagle's nest, by the Seattle Aerie No. 1, Spokane Falls, by the Spokane Aerie, and Mrs. Thomas Moore, representing the mother aerie, surrounded by 60 children.

The Bremerton aerie had a float representing the battleship Nebraska. Several lone delegates from Eastern aeries appeared gorgeously decorated and carrying the banner of their aerie. The lone delegates were lustily cheered along the route.

There is no session of the grand aerie today, adjournment having been taken last night until Friday morning, when the officers will be elected, and the city chosen for the next meeting place.

SAYS FIEND IS BENT ON KILLING ENTIRE FAMILY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Jose, Cal., Aug. 13.—Alleging that she and her sister are being pursued by a Hyde in real life, who is fiendish over the spilling of human blood, Mrs. Eva Seckler, wife of a young musician here, has written a letter to Coroner Burke, of Cleveland, Ohio, imploring him to arrest a suspect, who, she says, is dogging the footsteps of her sister, Mrs. Antoine Garrard, now living in Laporte, Ind. Mrs. Seckler, who was formerly Miss Eva Zelmanna, of Cleveland, declares that this Hyde in real life murdered her sister, Lena, and her sister's sweetheart, Carl Benthaler, in Cleveland a year and a half ago.

The bodies of the two young people were found in Heights Park, in Cleveland, shot through the heart, and a revolver was found near the body of the young man. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of murder and suicide.

Mrs. Seckler says the two were really murdered by a friend who had been haunting the household for months. At one time, she declares, the fiend sprang from the bushes and tried to strangle her sister. A recent letter from her surviving sister in Laporte, she says, states that the fiend is haunting that place. "If he kills my other sister, I shall kill myself," says Mrs. Seckler, who is prostrated. She declares that Coroner Burke is the only official who believed her story, hence she wrote to him.

You Can Find a Buyer for Every Dollar's Worth of Real Estate Which You Own!
A reasonable "campaign" of classified advertising, will "sell you out" in real estate.
No one who is looking for real estate in this city fails to read and consider the real estate ads.
Scarcely a sale occurs that is not, in some way, promoted or brought about by a classified ad.
Without the influence of the little ads, real estate transactions would be hard to bring about—not because of any fault or flaw in the properties themselves—but because the search for the "right buyers" could not be quickly or effectively made. It would be a slow process—perhaps only occasionally successful.

CAR ORDER IS BIGGEST SINCE PANIC

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Aug. 13.—Agents of various railroad car equipment companies are here today preparing to submit bids on 6000 steel cars to be desired by the Harriman lines. It is expected that an order will be placed at an early date, as specifications for more than half the number of cars have been filed with the company's engineer with a request of estimates on the cost of equipment. It is not stated for what purpose these new cars will be used, although there is a possibility that some of them will be placed on the new Mexican line, which last week closed a contract for 28,000 tons of steel rails, the largest order placed by Harriman since the panic. The cost of the 6000 new cars will be between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000.

POLICEMAN SAVED BY COOL WIFE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Santa Rosa, Cal., Aug. 13.—Word was received here today that Mrs. Bolton, wife of Policeman David Bolton, of San Francisco, saved her husband's life in the Mendocino hills last Monday by killing a huge rattlesnake that was just about to strike him.

They were members of a camping party, and Bolton's horse stepped on the reptile and, jumping to one side, threw his rider. Mrs. Bolton rode up just in time to see the reptile preparing to strike her husband, who was lying on the ground, stunned by the fall. She threw a large stone at the snake, killing it just in time.

CELEBRATES RETURN OF PROSPERITY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Aug. 13.—The return of prosperity is being celebrated here today by the joint convention of the United Commercial Travelers and the Travelers Protective Association. Several thousand delegates and interested persons are in attendance, and will take part in the two-days rejoicing over the establishment of normal conditions in the business world. Merchants and buyers, in addition to the large number of drummers, have added their forces to the movement. After preliminary organization today, the first business session will be held tomorrow.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children. It tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Sold by all druggists.
