The count married the daughter of a rich Lisbon banker three years ago and for a time lived happily with her. Two years later both his wife and child disappeared, and to questions concerning their whereabouts Margallo never gave a satisfactory answer.

A police investigation was finally ordered, and detectives visited the count's residence a few nights ago. Breaking a tightly sealed door leading into an attic chamber, they found the countess chained to the wall, her features distorted by suffering, her hair white, and her form reduced almost to a skeleton.

The child, in a worse condition than its mother, lay on a pile of rags in a corner, half dead from hunger and neglect.

So impaired had the mind of the countess become by her fearful suffering that she could not give an accurate account of her imprisonment. The servants confessed that mother and child had been held in the attic during the entire year, fed only on bread and water.

In defense of his action, the count asserted that he believed his wife had accepted attentions from a naval officer, whose name he refused to give. He admitted that he had nothing more than suspicion on which to base his accusations. Why he had punished the child, as well as the mother, for the latter's alleged infidelity, he could not explain.

King Manuel and Queen Amelita were to visit the count's estate upon the expiration of the period of court mourning for the death of the late king, but when they heard the awful story of the countess' imprisonment they immediately cancelled their engagement, and they ordered Margallo never to appear in their presence again.

SPECTACLES

THEY'RE EYE HELPS IF RIGHT EYE HURTERS AND HEAD-ACHE MAKERS, IF WRONG

Who can prevent your having them wrong if you don't get them at the right place? Not the average spectacle seller. His business seems to be to get your nose harassed with a pair that strikes your fancy and opens your purse.

It is by knowing the optical business thoroughly and attending to it properly that we hope to build and keep a reputation.

CHEAP MEAT IS THING OF PAST

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Kansas City, Aug. 14.—Cheap beef is a thing of the past, because land has become so valuable that there is not enough range to keep meat prices down, according to Colonel Ike Prior, president of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, who is here today.

Colonel Prior blames the fact that the ranges are being cut up into small farms for the rapid advance of beef. He says thousands of calves were slaughtered in Texas last year, because there was no feeding ground where the ranchers could run them until they grew up.

CHINESE UPRISING GROWING

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Saigon, French Indo China, Aug. 14.—The Chinese uprising which was reported by the French authorities to have been crushed a few weeks ago, is assuming dangerous proportions again.

The British consul at Fu Chow has asked the authorities at Canton to send gunboats to protect the European merchants in the coast towns.

Banditry in the interior is gaining ground, and reports of new depredations are being received continually. At the same time piracy is prevalent off the coast, and the situation is rapidly becoming critical. Small merchant ships move at great peril. Six are reported to have been overhauled and captured by pirates in the last week.

FOUR DROWN WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Kilbourn, Wis., Aug. 14.—Searching parties today are dragging the Wisconsin river for the remains of the four members of a launch party, who were drowned yesterday afternoon through the capsizing of the pleasure boat.

The boat carried nine passengers, five of them being saved. Those drowned were:

Edward Pfeiffer and son, Ralph, Mrs. Mabel Ward and Mrs. W. G. Heath, all of Chicago.

The party was returning from a trip from the Dells, when the launch was overturned by the waves of a passing steamer.

HUSBAND SEEKING WOMAN; PRACTICES ON SALOONMAN

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Aug. 14.—Mrs. "Ducksie" Rosenbaum-Rogers-Dunn, who recently created a scene at Atlantic City by horsewhipping her husband, James Dunn, is in San Francisco today searching for him, with the supposed intention of again chastising him for his alleged infidelity.

Just to show that she had arrived, Mrs. Dunn last night entered the saloon of Dan Dean, formerly manager of the Savoy Hotel, of which her husband was proprietor, and assailed Dean with a fusillade of fist cuffs, wine glasses and cuspids, until he was forced to call upon his bartender for reinforcements. Having satisfied herself that her prowess had in nowise diminished, Mrs. Dunn beat an honorable retreat. Dean was at a loss to explain why he had been made the object of Mrs. Dunn's wrath. Mrs. Dunn's matrimonial experiences have been varied. Her first husband, "Ducksie" Rosenbaum, committed suicide in this city. The widow then married a young advertising man, Harry Rogers, but sought a divorce after a few months, remarking that the experience had cost her $60,000. Her marriage to Jas. Dunn followed, and was productive of much family turmoil. She furnished money for the lease of the Savoy Hotel, and established her husband as manager. A short time ago he mysteriously disappeared, and she has since been constantly on his trail.

ATLANTIC FLEET AGAIN WEIGHS ITS ANCHOR TOMORROW

(By H. Lee Clotworthy, United Press Correspondent Aboard U. S. S. Georgia.)

Auckland, Aug. 14.—The official reception to the officers and men of the Atlantic fleet was brought to an end tonight with a brilliant state ball at the Government House.

Premier Sir Joseph Ward was the master of ceremonies, and Admiral Sperry was the guest of honor. The magnificent ball room of the state house was crowded with officers, high government officials and pretty women.

The fleet is to leave here at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning, and this was a day of rest with the officers and men. The admiral and officers returned from Rotorua this morning after one of the most delightful excursions they ever enjoyed.

The people of New Zealand are planning a great demonstration of farewell when the fleet departs for Sydney tomorrow. Salutes will be fired from every ship in the harbor, and the British battleships Powerful, Encounter and Pioneer, which have been here since the Atlantic fleet has been at anchor in the bay, will accompany the white squadron to Sydney.

CONVENTION OF SINGLE LEGGED MEN

London, Aug. 14.—After peg-legging briskly from Dover, President Rosin, of the Union of French Mendicants, established some time ago, in Marseilles, arrived in London today to arrange for a convention of one-legged men at the French-British exposition. If well received by the British one-legged men, he intends to bring a strong delegation of his crippled countrymen.

"I don't want any humbugs," he said upon his arrival in Dover, "but genuine, hard-working, honest British pedlars or itinerant musicians with only one leg apiece. Think what a fine picturesque thing it would be to have a parade of French and English one-legged men."

DRESSED WELL AND SWINDLED GROCERS
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14.—Accused of swindling Los Angeles jobbers out of a $5000 stock of groceries by wearing a new suit of clothes each day for two weeks, William Davis, known here as William Thatcher, is under arrest at Cincinnati. Steps were taken today to have him returned to this city for trial.

Davis disappeared from Los Angeles a month ago, after he had sold out below cost a $5000 stock of groceries he had secured on credit from local jobbers. In obtaining creditors Davis depended entirely on his personal appearance. He mingled with the local grocers, and each day appeared in a different suit of clothes. When credit men inquired into his financial standing his acquaintances did not hesitate to give him a high rating, on the strength of the manner in which he dressed.

CUTTING DISTANCE ON THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Oroville, Cal., Aug. 14.—It was announced here today that, following the visit of Harriman and Julius Kruttschnitt, superintendent of construction of the Southern Pacific railroad, to this coast, work will be commenced at once on the straightening out of the curves in the mountain division between Sacramento and Reno, Nevada.

The Union Construction Company has been given a contract to build a straight track from Colfax to Clipper Gap, a distance of 20 miles. The new road will go through a tunnel, to be constructed in order to avoid a sharp curve around what is known as Cape Horn. This little piece of road will cost $2,000,000.
