

MAKES A CLEAN-UP.

Tom Paine Mine Again Producing the Gold. Ten Days Run On Carpenter Hill Mill on Tom Paine Ore Is Good.

(Baker City Herald.)

Fresh from city life in Chicago, J. Powers, who was connected with the F. B. Cook Telephone Apparatus company, landed in Baker on the 20th day of last April on a sight-seeing trip in the west. He had been in town but a few hours when he bought the Tom Paine mine, located eight miles west of the city, without having seen anything of it only some ore samples. But Powers has nothing to regret for the cleanup made last evening at the Carpenter Hill, after running for ten days on Tom Paine ore, was of such a character as to satisfy the most skeptical that the old Tom Paine's merit is as good today as it was several years ago when Billy Reynolds struck a rich ore shoot and he and his partner took out 21400 on Christmas eve, making a happy Christmas for the families which otherwise would have been devoid of turkey and cranberry sauce. Powers had faith in eastern Oregon mines from the moment he landed here. He had heard the story of boom days and the collapse, and he had also heard the true narrative of several fortunes that had been taken from different properties here. He was willing to try, and he is making good.

Last evening a representative of the Herald in company with Owen Moran, proprietor of the Crabb Hotel, drove out to the mill to witness the cleanup, and it was worth seeing, for the plates were well coated with Oregon gold. Everything was running smoothly from the start even to the dining hall. The place that for years had been abandoned was alive, every man seeming to have his part and was performing it.

Abe Jevore is superintendent of the mill and under his direction the cleanup was made. E. E. Forsbury, W. E. Ferguson and Louis E. Seagrave, all of Elmira, N. Y., are among the men employed at the mill, while J. M. Delo, better known as "Doc," presides over the kitchen and dining halls.

The Tom Paine group consists of the Old Soldier, Pocahontas Belt, West Paine, the Mint, Eldorado and Tom Paine claims, chief of which are the Old Soldier and Tom Paine. One from these two shows good values, and it is possible that development will produce equally as good a showing on the other claims.

Mr. Powers is delighted with his first effort at mining and congratulates himself on being so fortunate as to get a good property. There is a possibility that the Carpenter Hill mill will be removed to a point closer to the Tom Paine mine, or in case that is not done a tramway will be erected so that the cost of transporting ores from the mine to the mill will be greatly reduced. Every indication goes to prove that Mr. Powers is going to put his mine among the excellent producers of this territory.

TO ABIDE BY FIXED RATES.

Harriman Lines to Conform to Recent Decision.—Will Haul Lumber at Schedules Fixed by Interstate Commerce Commission.

Pending a final decision by the United States supreme court in the lumber rate controversy, the Harriman officials have announced that the rates fixed by the Interstate Commerce commission will prevail. This amounts to a victory for the Oregon and Washington lumbermen, since the decision of the commission virtually restored the tariffs that were in effect prior to November 1, 1907. Following the ruling of the commission the railroads appealed the case to the supreme court of the United States.

This announcement was made yesterday by W. E. Coman, assistant general freight agent of the Harriman lines for the northwest, in the following form:

"The rates from November 1, 1907, to October 15, 1908, on shipments from parties to the injunction suit will be the rates as ordered by the commission, which will be published effective October 15.

"The rate on shipments on and after October 15 will be the commission's rates as published, regardless of what the final outcome is in the court up to the time of decision by the supreme court."

The rates as announced by the Harriman roads will apply to shippers affected by the suits of the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association and the Willamette Valley Lumbermen's association, or the "3.10 case." The effect of this action on the part of the railroad is to enable the lumbermen of Oregon and Washington to resume business relations on the same basis that existed before the arbitrary advance in rates was announced last fall. It will also enable lumber manufacturers of this state, also of Washington, to re-enter the Missouri river and other eastern territory from which they have been excluded for nearly a year by reason of the unfavorable freight rates which prevented them from competing in those fields with other shippers in Minnesota and Michigan who had better rates.

Excellent Health Advice. Mrs. M. M. Davidson, of No. 379 Gifford avenue, San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, biliousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store, 50c.

G. W. PUTNAM CO.

Mr. Harriman's New Rule.

Mr. Harriman says he will build new lines when profits warrant. This sounds very good, indeed, but if the rule had been applied in Oregon in the past, or even now there would be little cause for complaint at this end of the line, and the state would now be able to boast of feeders into every section where they could legitimately be called for. Instead of in one-fifth of the state, as is now unfortunately the case.

It is on precisely this score that Mr. Harriman has been criticised in this state, and very justly so, even from the foundation which Mr. Harriman himself now lays down. He found here and hereabouts his profits, and taking them from here, he has spent them very largely in building up rival sections and communities. This has been his policy, regularly pursued and carefully mapped out. Millions earned by his roads in this section he has diverted to the Union Pacific main line and to other lines; worst of all he used profits wrung from the people of this state and region to buy control of other roads with which we had no connection, direct or indirect, and solely for his own aggrandizement. It is not surprising that the people who here suffered from lack of railroads, whose progress they felt to be retarded, and who saw their neighbors advancing through the expenditure of money earned here, should feel unkindly toward Mr. Harriman and the methods which, while they have made him great and opulent, were demoralizing large interests along the line of these roads which he controlled in this section of the country.

The people of Oregon would be glad to take Mr. Harriman at his word; they would have been glad to have taken him at his word years ago. There is much for the Harriman lines to do in the way of extensions in this great state, and much that they could have done from past profits. There will still be much for them to do in this state and still greater profits with which to do it in the future. If Mr. Harriman sticks to the rule which he has just laid down, the people of Oregon will have reason to be better satisfied with him than they ever have been in all the years they have contributed to his fame and wealth.—Telegram.
