

WHEAT IN EASTERN OREGON WHEAT MARKET (Pendleton Tribune.)

There was practically no activity in the wheat market this week, owing to a slight slump in prices; 78 not far from 80, but it is far enough to bar selling almost entirely. Inland Empire farmers all seem to be alike in their aversion to selling below 80 cents, and as a result the grain is moving toward tide-water from this section of the coun-

The Portland Telegram says that the inland Empire farmers are more bullish this season than ever before and gives the following summary of the wheat situation:

There was less display of life in the local wheat market today than several days past, and the indications are that the flurry that culminated last week in the payment of local exporting firms of prices from 3 to 5 cents over actual market values for grain in the interior, has for a time at least subsided. Speculations were down a cent all around today.

Reports in today are that buying the interior is a good deal lighter than last week, but what are the influences in this subsidence of activity are not as yet disclosed. In some quarters the belief prevails that the large exporting firms for the present have all the grain they need and have voluntarily cut down purchases for the time. On the other hand, it is held that the farmers in the inland Empire are this year more bullish than ever, and that they are mainly responsible for the present lull.

The rivalry of the exporters last week, and their apparent willingness to pay almost any price for wheat, did not merely stimulate the bullish feeling of the grain producer, it actually intoxicated them, and a local grain dealer yesterday saw there are farmers in the interior who believe that wheat this year is going to unheard-of figures. "There are no more prosperous farmers on the American continent than those of the Pacific northwest, and when they become convinced of the trend of the market is upward rather than downward there is influence that can part them from their grain. That conviction now is general in the grain area and it is as natural as it is easy for them to hold their wheat long as they care to. A more independent lot of farmers could not be found on the face of the earth, and a general thing they are able financially to hold their grain indefinitely. Some of them have been known to hold crops for two and even three years."

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it. Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who consent to treat with doctored effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.
