

ALL OREGON WILL BE AT THE STATE FAIR

SEPTEMBER 14 TO 19, INCLUSIVE

They will find the grounds in better condition and more attractive than ever before. They will find many new buildings. All in all, they will see that Oregon has the best facilities of any state west of the Rocky mountains for holding a great fair. The increased cash premiums and specials will bring the greatest livestock show ever seen on the Pacific coast, and it will compare favorably with the best fairs of the east and middle west. Some of the best horses in the United States will be here to participate in the speed program. Some of the most attractive purses ever hung up for a western race meet will make each individual event worth coming a long distance to see. The counties will put up their best in trying to secure the prizes for the exhibits of their products. There will be special rates on all lines of transportation for passengers and special freight inducements for all exhibits. If you wish any particular information it will be cheerfully given by about his cell for fear he will attempt suicide as the result of being unable to report at the fort at the time when he believes his duty requires it.

Yesterday Captain Halus sent for his military clothes. Keeper Kelly took them to his cell today and the captain seized them eagerly, saying: "I have been waiting for you. You people seem to forget that I have to report to Colonel Harris at noon today."

Then he hurriedly put on his uniform and said: "So long, I'm off for the fort." He tried to leave, when he was restrained he exclaimed, "What's the matter with you, do you want to get me into trouble?"

TURKEY IN TURMOIL

and precipitating a bloody revolution, has only served to heighten the disorder.

The most important of the accused men now in jail on charges of fraud, embezzlement, oppression, falsification of records and dozens of other charges, are Rami Pasha, former minister of marine; Mendouh Pasha, former minister of the interior; Reschita Pasha, former prefect of Constantinople; Tahah Pasha former first secretary of the palace; Rabhib Pasha, former court chamberlain and Sheikh Abdul-Huda, former palace astrologer.

The astrologer was the first man to urge the sultan to grant the constitution, but the revolutionists say that he did it to save his job and demand his punishment.

Grand Vizier Kiamil Pasha is having a hard time to keep the sultan on the throne. He fears that the sultan will try to kill him and the members of the cabinet and on the other hand the rebels demand the sultan's life.

The grand vizier realizes that this will mean a revolution and is trying hard to harmonize the two contending forces both of which hate him and the new cabinet.

The grand vizier's most unpopular measure is the prevention of the killing the old officers by enraged people. He has had mob leaders shot and punished the police for not preventing outrages.

Minister of public works, Gabriel Effendi and minister of mine, Prince Mavrogordate, are both favorable to the scheme to have English officers re-organize the Turkish army to help the moderate cabinet keep control.

PULLED INTO BAY

BY BIG SHARK

(United Press Leased Wire)

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 24.—Jack Finnegan, one of the host of Sunday fishermen, who try to entice spongy prizes out of the waters of the bay, is today the butt of much ridicule from his friends over an experience which befell him yesterday.

Finnegan was fishing from the end of the Main street wharf. The sport was dull and Finnegan fell asleep with his line in his hand. Suddenly he was awakened by a fierce tug and before he could realize what had happened, was dragged into the water.

Finnegan is an ardent disciple of Isaac Walton, and despite his cold plunge, held on to the line. He was being rapidly towed out to sea when Harry Johnson, a boatman, discovered his plight and hauled him in. Together, rescuer and rescued heaved the line aboard and found that Finnegan's unchartered tugboat was a large shark.
