DAUGHTER A STAR MOTHER POVERTY STRICKEN

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Rafael, Cal., Aug. 27.—The mother of Marie Doro, the London star, who has played the leading part in "The Morals of Marcus" with great success, lives a lone, dreary life in this city, according to the romantic story which became known today. Mrs. Douglass Saunders and her daughter withdrew from the association with their neighbors when Douglass Saunders died of consumption. By dint of hard work the mother kept the child in school. The girl was vivacious, full of life and she could not stand the shaded existence. Eleven years ago she ran away to make her way in the world. Then the mother, already a lady broken hearted, became absolutely wreckless and was known as "the mysterious one." Five years ago she received the first letter and since then through the papers and magazines she has followed closely the career of the actress. When Marie Doro made her great success in "William J. Locke's play, the mother's pride overcame reticence and she whispered the secret to a few of her most trusted friends.

Pictures of the actress are identified by those who knew Marie and the story is believed here, though the actress says her real name is Stuart and that she was born in Pennsylvania.

CHARGE MAN WITH CRIME THEN DISAPPEARS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Aug. 27.—The police today are trying to solve the mystery of the sudden disappearance of Mrs. Lina Sangster and her daughter Anna, who are complainants against Sangster in an indictment charging him with trying to poison them. The indictment against Sangster was brought over two years ago, but his trial was repeatedly delayed. He demanded an immediate trial and the hearing was set for the September term. When an effort was made to locate Mrs. Sangster and the daughter, it was found they have been absent from their former residence for some time and nobody has been found who can tell their present whereabouts. The mother and girl on Christmas, 1906, received a box of candy which contained a large quantity of arsenic. It was charged that Sangster sent the deadly sweets.

AMERICAN TOOLS TO MAKE FRENCH FAMOUS

Washington, Aug. 27.—Even if the French may justly boast of their supremacy in automobile manufacture, Special Consular Agent Capt. Carden, writing from Paris, puts Uncle Sam wise to the fact that they use American tools and machinery in their shops. He says they can't get along without Ohio and New Hampshire made lathes, New York saws, Massachusetts drills, or Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin and Ohio turret lathes, and other kinds of machinery that are product of Yankee brains. Capt. Carden reports that the shops where the famous Bayard French automobiles are manufactured, use all these American tools. So when the millionaire importer pays the customs duties in addition to a sky-high figure for a French speed-wagon, he is really buying the product of American tools and American machinery for the most part.

SHIPPERS CONFER WITH EXPRESS COMPANY The Railroad Commission has received the following communication from H. C. Beckwith of the Wells-Fargo Express company and Mr. Dilley of the firm of Page & Sons of Portland, in regard to the recent charges made by Page & Sons to the commission on the methods of the express companies in handling and disposing of perishable produce:

On August 24, 1908, conference was had between Mr. Dilley of Page & Son, Mr. Herrington of Bell & Co., Mr. W. B. Glafke, president of the Produce Merchants' association, Mr. H. Beckwith, general agent of Wells, Fargo & Co., and Mr. John E. Burch of Pacific Express company.

After considerable discussion the conference adjourned with the understanding that the express companies represented would at an early date cause their instructions to agents to be re-issued and brought sharply to the attention of agents and that agents will be notified they must use discretion in handling shipments of perishable produce which has been refused, and that agents will be advised in all cases where the produce would apparently stand re-shipment to notify the shipping office before disposing of the goods; this being intended to include commodities such as oranges, lemons and egg plant.

At the request of the shippers the representatives of the express companies agreed to take up with the proper officers of their lines the matter of modification of the present rules of the companies to the end that on shipments valued at $5 or over the shipper should be notified by telegraph before the express company disposed of the goods.

The shippers were requested by the commission to keep it advised as to the results of the conference, and if further cause for complaint exists, upon being furnished with specific facts, the commission will cause complaint to be prepared and the matter set down for hearing.

POLICE BRUTALLY BEAT MURDERER SUSPECT

(United Press Leased Wire.) Denver, Colo., Aug. 27.—Bruised and battered in a cell of the city prison, John Bradley, alias John Brennan is being held today suspected of being the murderer of Policeman Wm. P. Stephens. He is suffering from a beating administered by brother officers of the murdered man.

When Bradley or Brennan was brought into the jail last night the policemen on duty learned his identity and charged upon him beating him with their heavy night sticks until he was almost insensible. Detectives who had the man in custody tried to drive the enraged officers away, but were unsuccessful until Chief of Police Armstrong appeared and quelled the disturbance.

Lumbermen Complain of Rates.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Aug. 27.—That the new lumber rates from the Pacific coast to New York and Atlantic coast points will result in the withdrawal of California redwood and Oregon pine from the eastern trade to the advantage of southern lumbermen is the opinion of western lumber companies here who are complaining of the rate.

The Southern Pacific railroad officials declare that the new rate, which is an advance of from 9 to 14 cents per 100 pounds, was forced upon the western railroads by the roads east of Chicago who will not agree to lower rate under the ruling of the interstate commerce commission that requires the rates to be published. They claim that they will actually lose money but that the eastern roads think there is much profit in the southern business than in hauling the lumber from the Pacific coast.

An effort will be made by California redwood men to have the matter adjusted at the next trans-continental meeting of the eastern lines which is to be held in October.

FACTS ABOUT THE OREGON STATE FAIR

This Year's Exposition to Be Greatest on Pacific Coast.

In one respect at least Oregon takes the lead among western states. This is in the holding of her annual state fair, which in size and importance is first among expositions held on the Pacific slope.

The state fair, which has become the big event of the year for the people of Oregon, will take place this year at Salem from September 14 to 19. At the fair grounds the work of preparation has long since been under way, and it is expected that all will be in readiness for the throwing open of the gate which will mark the opening of the most successful fair in the fifty-odd years of its existence.

In the past two years the state has expended large sums of money on the improvement of the exposition grounds. In 1907 twelve large modern show barns were erected, giving Oregon's fair the finest equipment for the display of livestock in the west. Another improvement was the beautifying of the grounds by laying out lawns, flower beds and paths, and by the destruction of numerous old buildings and the removal of the "Corral," the amusement street of the fair, to a more slightly location.

Although the work of converting the old grounds into a modern home for the exposition was begun last year, it is not yet finished. This year many new improvements have been made, chief among which is the addition built on the immense grandstand, by which its capacity will be almost doubled, the putting up of miles of fences and the erection of new buildings.

Ten thousand dollars are offered on livestock, agricultural and manufactured products. Eight counties will provide extensive exhibits. Almost every industry will be represented. The livestock show will be unequalled, the agricultural exhibits will be wonderful, and the art department, the floral display, the dairy, poultry and machinery exhibits will all demand the interest of the thousands of spectators who will come from all parts of the northwest to see the fair.

The entertainment of the crowds will not be neglected. The races will be the fastest ever seen on the coast. Two $5000 purses are at stake.

$1000 purses will draw the best blooded horses in the country, and that there will be records lowered when they meet is conceded.

In addition, many special features and free acts will be provided, and there will be the "Corral," with its side shows, its stands and pleasure-seeking crowds, all combined to contribute to the enjoyment and variety of the big exposition.

Another feature is the city of tents. Hundreds of families journey to the fair every year to enjoy the camp life in the grove, where every modern convenience is at hand, together with a week's outing and the sights of the fair.

TO MANY CAR ACCIDENTS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The deaths injuries caused by the street cars of Chicago have become so frequent, although reports of many have been suppressed, that a law similar to New York's which requires the traction companies to report all accidents, may be sought at the next meeting of the Illinois legislature. The record of known casualties last year was about 3100, for 1906 it was 3141, and for 1905, 2491. The street cars easily lead all other causes of violent deaths and injuries for last year the steam railways caused less than 1000, and teams and vehicles—including automobiles—1496. The figures obtained by the police are exceedingly incomplete, for no one can tell how many more than 3100 casualties were chargeable to the street cars last year. According to the city's traction expert the reports received cover less than a quarter of the real total and that, in the words of a chauffeur, "is going some." "The number of accidents reported is ridiculously small," he said. "My experience in the operating departments has taught me that 40 is not an unusual number of accidents in a day for a single company and I have received only nine reports from the entire city." The mortality record of Chicago, 14.18 deaths per annum per thousand, is so much lower than that of other cities that it heads the list, if the records are right. On great reason for this case of robust health is the drainage canal which to a great extent takes care of the sewage problem. The mortality record of New York is 18.53 per thousand, of Cincinnati 20.84 and New Orleans 21.71, although the sewer system of New Orleans will soon change the record.
