COOS BAY EDITION JOURNAL

PUBLICITY DURING STATE FAIR

Col. E. Hipfer and a party of Willamette valley boosters are home from a ten-day campaign for the development of western Oregon ending with a two-day Oregon and Idaho congress at Marshfield which was attended by prominent men from Oregon and Idaho. The greatest enthusiasm was created for the good road movement inaugurated at the Portland conference.

Meetings were held in all the leading towns of western Oregon, a permanent organization was formed and the next meeting of the congress will be a hummer. Showing their appreciation of the good feeling of the people of the Willamette valley for the opening of a deep sea harbor, and desiring more publicity, the Chamber of Commerce at Marshfield and North Bend engaged four pages of space in The Capital Journal during the state fair, and engaging a total circulation of 30,000 to exploit their resources during that great fair when there will be 50,000 visitors at the Capital City.

Coos Bay will have a splendid exhibit of its fine furniture including articles made of myrtle wood which are not made anywhere else in the world. The large coal mines will have an exhibit of the finest coal in the world, and are preparing to supply the markets with their product.

LIBERTY WILL BE IMPROVED

FIVE STORES TO BE ERECTED

Liberty street property owners have settled all differences with the street railway company, and have all signed up for paving that street, waiving all formalities.

Frank W. Durbin and J. Frank Hughes will commence within ten days the erection of two brick stores, and in all five brick buildings will go in on that street before January 1.

The various commercial bodies of Japan, if the cabinet does not restore the original date of the proposed worlds fair.

The matter is to be discussed at a special cabinet meeting.

GIRL ASSAULTED BY NEGRO

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Sept. 1.—Nathan Vincent, a negro 31 years old, was rescued by the police from violence at the hands of a mob in front of the Auditorium hotel, in the heart of the city, today.

The negro is charged with having attempted to assault Josephine Ludwig, a 16-year-old girl, in broad daylight at the entrance of a building on Wabash avenue.

The black had seized the girl and was attempting to drag her into a hallway, when her screams attracted at least a hundred people, who rushed upon the negro. The streets were fairly well crowded and the greatest excitement prevailed. The negro was chased and was overtaken in front of the hotel where the police rescued him.

It is believed he would have been lynched by the mob within five minutes.

HENEY HAS HOT DAY IN COURT

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Sept. 1.—"You're a liar," these words were passed twice in hot rage in Judge Lawler's courtroom today during the proceedings of the Ruef trial. Assistant District Attorney Heney and Attorneys Ach and Murphy for Ruef nearly came to blows before the row was settled.

The quarrel arose when Attorney Ach for Ruef was trying to impeach John Butteler, a prospective juror. Ach called Aaron Schenson, a butcher, who had presumably talked to Butteler for the defense. During the progress of the examination Ach asked James Foley, Heney's body guard to stand up to be identified by the witness. Heney objected and the war of words followed.

"We don't have to kill people. We don't have to shoot them in the back."

"That's the only way you kill people," shouted Attorney Murphy, taking a hand in the fight.

"You're a liar," shouted Heney. "You're a liar," retorted Murphy. Judge Lawler interrupted both men with a reprimand as they were advancing toward each other with up-lifted fists.

There have been two temporary jurors selected thus far in the Ruef case. They are M. B. Meyer and Alexander Bond.

FIND MAN KILLED WITH HEAD SEVERED

(United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wn., Sept. 1.—With the head severed and lying about 20 feet away from the body and the latter pinned beneath a number of heavy logs, the remains of a man who was undoubtedly murdered, were found today on the east shore of Lake Washington near Juanita. The dead man has not been identified by the authorities who started an investigation. The ghastly find was made by two hunters who stumbled on to the body by accident while making their way through the undergrowth along the shore.

ARE PREPARING FOR FAIR

A committee from the city met with a committee from the Board of Trade last evening discussed the matter of caring for enormous crowds which are expected here during the state fair. Things were determined to be done, it was felt, that were absolutely necessary to the success of the fair; boarding and lodging for visitors, and respectable street service to the fair grounds.

The unanimous opinion of the mitteemen that unless these factors are satisfactorily settled cannot hope to have the fair here in another year. Portland interests are breaking necks to get the fair, and Salem has to make good.

It is desired that every member who has a room that he can during the fair, leave (this address, telephone number and of room at the Board of Trading fair week uniform) will be on hand at the Board of Trade to conduct visitors to the four rooms that have been rented. "Don't put the matter off until your rooms are now," is the note of the desires of the committee.

A committee will visit the office of the Portland Railway Light Power company and make a strenuous endeavor to secure additional street car service to and from grounds. Last year the cars did not accommodate one-half the demand.

Arrangements have been made to have the road to the fair sprinkled every day during the fair. The road leading from the Electric company's depot in land to the grounds will be sprinkled.

Gilson Place—No waiting, 11 chairs, also a lady manicure. e-o-d-tf.

Rates Too High—H. Conaway of Hood River has written to the Railroad Commission complaining of the excessive rates on flour and feed. He states that the rate from Hood River to Odell, a distance of 9.7 miles, is $1.80 per ton, while on the O. R. & N. the rate from Portland to Hood River, a distance of 66 miles is only $1.50. The rate between Albany and Portland, 85 miles, and between Corvallis and Portland, 97 miles, is also $1.50. Conaway thinks that the rate should be reduced to at least $1.

Farmers Complain—A number of farmers in Umatilla county have protested, through District Attorney G. W. Phelps of Pendleton, against the removal by the O. R. & N. company of the Kimbly spur. Persons living along the spur cut a large quantity of wood each year, and depend upon the spur to get it out. Phelps states that the company has disconnected the switch, and threatens permanently to discontinue the use of the spur.

If Your Suit—Needs pressing and your hat needs cleaning, just send them to Johnson & Stege pressing parlors and they will do the work. Next to Journal office.

WRONG NEGRO WAS ACCUSED

(United Press Leased Wire.) Springfield, Ill., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Earle H. Mallam today made an affidavit setting forth that George Richardson, whom the mobs here tried to lynch and who was the object of the first violence which led to the riots, is not the man who assaulted her. She asked that he be set free.

NEARLY BURNED HOTEL

GUESTS FOR INSURANCE Des Moines, N. M., Sept. 1.—Following a narrow escape from lynching, Julia Moon is confined in the jail at Clayton today with Mr. and Mrs. William South, whom she implicated by her confession that she set fire to three stores and the Central hotel here, in which 30 guests were nearly burned to death.

When the girl confessed that she started the fire at the instance of the Souths who owned the property and, she alleges, wished to collect the insurance they carried, the entire town was aroused to fury. Threats of lynching were freely made and the sheriff, fearing an attack upon the jail, spirited the trio away early this morning and placed them in the prison at Clayton.

JAPS MAY ABANDON WORLD'S EXPOSITION

(United Press Leased Wire.) Tokio, Sept. 1.—The dissatisfaction of the Japanese commercial bodies over the postponement of the Tokio worlds exposition from 1912 until 1917, has become so marked that there is danger that the scheme will have to be abandoned altogether.

At a mass meeting of the Tokio business men's association this afternoon, the action of the cabinet in postponing the exposition was condemned in unmeasured terms and a formal protest against the action was framed and sent in to the minister of commerce and agriculture under whose supervision the fair is to be given.

The meeting of the business men was exciting. Charges that graft had crept into the management of the proposed fair were freely made. It was stated that the fair can be given for less money than is proposed if the management is economical. The business men say that the exposition will be a big factor in the ending of hard times.

As an alternative, they threaten to have an industrial fair of their own in 1912 under the auspices of
