R. R. Commission—

Asa Brown, et al., of Haines, Oregon, have filed a complaint with the railroad commission, charging the

O. R. & N. company with maintaining inadequate and inconvenient stock yards at Haines, and asking the commission to set a date for hearing in the matter. President B. S. Josslyn, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, has written to the railroad commission stating that the commission's recommendations contained in its report of the collision between an S. P. engine and a car of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company in Portland on July 27, would be observed and carried out. The report recommended that the conductor precede his car across steam railroad crossings, and give the signal for the motorman to cross.

No Fair Passes—

Upon the request of President Matlock, of the state board of agriculture, Attorney General Crawford yesterday afternoon rendered a decision which virtually prohibits the state fair board from granting passes except in cases where the board obtains value received for them. If this opinion holds all the passes that have already been issued for the coming fair will have to be cancelled.

Can Indians Fish—

Attorney General Crawford is wading through many volumes of legal lore in an endeavor to find out whether the Yakima Indians of Washington, who are parties to several treaties with the United States government, have the right to fish on the Oregon side of the Columbia river. The master fish warden this morning filed a complaint with the attorney general, in which it was stated that the Yakimas were encamped on the Washington side of the river above Celilo, and that they had strung nets from the Washington to the Oregon shore. The Indians will not pay the slightest heed to the threats of the fish warden, declaring that they have an old treaty with Uncle Sam which allows them to fish in any part of the river. The attorney general's opinion in the matter will be rendered later.

"Stand-Patters" Split.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 5.—Forty-eight "stand-patters" who bolted the Republican caucus which nominated Governor A. B. Cummins for the senate yesterday, held a caucus today and decided to oppose the election of Cummins next Wednesday if they are forced to vote, the "stand-patters" say they will divide their strength between the candidates, making a dead lock and preventing a decision.
The "progressives" who favor the election of Cummins say that the "stand-patters" will split the party in the state and cause a Democratic victory in Iowa if they persist in their course. The "stand-patters," however, show no signs of weakening.

SUES RAILROAD FOR DEATH OF J. W. COX

H. S. Radcliff, administrator of the estate of John W. Cox, who was run over and killed by an Oregon Electric train at Highland on May 27 of this year, has brought suit in the circuit court, alleging that the railroad company is responsible for the death of Cox, and asking for $7500 damages.
The complaint states that Cox was a laborer employed by the company, and that, when the accident occurred, he was being moved in a freight car together with some other laborers, from one place to another. According to the complaint the train was "kicked" apart and Cox was thrown in front of the car on which he was riding. It is claimed that Cox was not properly warned, and that the trainmen had no right to cut the train in two while it was in motion.

TEN LOSE LIVES IN WRECK

NEAR TROUT CREEK MONTANA

(United Press Lensed Wire.)
Spokane, Wn., Sept. 5.—Reached here late this afternoon five men, two engineers, two firemen and another, whose identity is unknown, were killed early today in a collision between a passenger freight train of the Northern Pacific railroad. The message containing the meager information states the accident occurred at 5 o'clock this morning 25 miles east of Trout Creek, Mont. A relief train with physicians and medical supplies has been sent to the scene.

Late Bulletin.

Missoula, Mont., Sept. 5.—Reached here today the following were killed in the collision of a passenger and a freight train of the Northern Pacific early today 25 miles west of here:
Engineers Mondon and Van Vleet, Firemen Robinson and Herrick, are of Missoula.

Head brakeman Dixon and a conductor were seriously injured. Officials say the wreck was caused by the failure of Operator Mitchell at Perma to deliver an order to conductor of the passenger train. Mitchell claims that the passenger train had passed his station when the order was received.

PRINCE IS MOBBED BY SOCIALISTS

(United Press Lensed Wire.)
Glasgow, Sept. 5.—Thousands of hungry socialists stormed the city where Prince Arthur of Wales, was the guest of honor at an elaborate luncheon today tried to mob the prince.
They were driven back by a squad of mounted police, following a warning of the army. Many were injured in the fighting, the guards, who forced the prince to the back.

The trouble followed cries of anarchy against the manager of the city corporation for the expense of the luncheon, when the hungry men held meetings of test and their anger reached a height that the attack on the prince was made with a wild rush.

There is little doubt that the prince would have fared ill if he had fallen into the hands of the mob. After being driven back by the mounted police, the socialists followed the party of officials, under the protection of the guards, as they proceeded to the city hall and were hooted the procession all the way.
