

SOCIETY HARD HIT BY CRASH

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Buffalo, Sept. 5.—The smart set of this city today is shocked at the startling disclosures made in connection with the failure for $2,000,000 of Meadows, Williams & Company the largest brokerage firm of Buffalo.

From reports that are now being circulated, it appears that the capital represented in the crash was supplied by coterie of the most prominent young men of Buffalo society and that they were led into the scheme by unknown agents, lured by a gigantic plot to raid Wall street and gain absolute control of the money market.

The plan, which in effect was nothing more than leading lambs to slaughter, failed utterly and now the young bloods who expected to gain financial and political prestige by their daring coup are today trying to cover up the details of their defeat.

The list of victims of the crash reads like a "400" blue book.

WOMAN BURNED IN FIRE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Stockton, Cal., Sept. 5.—J. B. Foster, a painter and decorator of San Francisco arrived at French camp today to take charge of the charred remains of his wife who was burned to death yesterday afternoon while fighting fire.

Mrs. Foster was sitting in her yard talking to a neighbor when she first discovered smoke coming from the roof. She grabbed a pail of water and rushed into the house. Miss Richards, a neighbor, rescued the two little children, while Mrs. Foster ran up stairs.

Mrs. Foster was either asphyxiated by the smoke or her clothes caught fire. She never returned from the upper story. After the house had burned to the ground, her charred body was found in the ashes.

FIGHTS QUIT HEAVY TRAINING

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Sept. 5.—The odds on both the Gans-Nelson and the Attell-Moran fights which are scheduled for next Wednesday and next Monday respectively, are today 10 to 5 with Attell and Nelson on the lung ends.

The fight fans expects the odds on the Attell-Moran fight to remain stationary notwithstanding the fact that Charlie Harvey, manager of Owen Moran arrived last night from New York and straightway placed $1500 on Moran.

Moran was not in his gymnasium today. His trainer, Tiv Kreling, persuaded him not omit boxing and do but little road work. He will put on the gloves for the last time to-morrow so that his admirers can see him box before the fight. To-morrow night his camp will be abandoned.

Gans and Nelson both did a little boxing today, but this is the last time that they will do any real work. Both are scheduled for final boxing exhibitions Sunday afternoon but work will not be heavy.

Indications today point to record crowds at both fights.

WANTS AMERICAN TO BE REPRESENTED

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, Sept. 5.—That the United States will lose in prestige unless some measures are taken at once to insure the proper representation of this country at the international agricultural institute and statistical experts assembly that is to meet in Rome, is the statement made today by David Lubin, who is trying seemingly in vain to have some attention paid to his demands at the various departments at Washington.

Lubin is this country's representative on the permanent committee, but no statistical experts have been assigned to him. It was learned today that he had been to the departments of state, agriculture and commerce and labor without obtaining any assurance that he would be given help in the matter.

He says today that he has hopes that some measures will be taken to provide proper representation.

LAY IN WELL FOR TWO DAYS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Rafael, Cal., Sept. 5.—Albert Schwartz, a farm laborer on a ranch near here is slowly recovering today from a two-days' imprisonment in the bottom of a well. He and Lee Conhill had been working on the well at odd moments and Friday Schwartz while alone, lowered himself into the hole, thinking his partner would be along in a little while to help him.

The rope slipped from the windlass and left him no means of getting to the surface, but he felt no apprehension until evening came and Conhill had not appeared. The latter did not go near the well until late yesterday afternoon, when Schwartz was discovered almost unconscious from his long exposure.

KING OF BEASTS

NEARLY KILLS TRAINER

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Sept. 5.—Heinrich Falkenderp, who bears an international reputation as a lion tamer, lies in a precarious condition today, his scalp terribly lacerated and his shoulders ripped in shreds by the claws of the monster Bengal tiger, Rajah, which yesterday attacked him in the exhibition cage of the Bostock Zoo at Coney Island.

The scene was witnessed by a crowd of 500 women and children. For a moment, as the great beast plunged upon the trainer and stood over him with snarling jaws, the audience was paralyzed with fright, then pandemonium broke in the arena and the crowd fled in panic. Several women were hurt in the rush for the exits.

Surprised by the uproar, the enraged animal failed to deliver the fatal blow of his massive paw that would have crushed Falkenderp's skull. Attendants of the zoo came quickly to his rescue and were able to take him from the cage with the aid of sharp poles.

CHINESE WOULD GET

$50,000,000 IN U. S.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 5.—News was brought today by the liner Empress of India that Tang Saho Yi, the Chinese official who will start for Washington in November to tender thanks for the American government's generosity in releasing China from the unpaid balance of the boxer indemnity, is reported from Peking to be also commissioned to arrange for a loan of $50,000,000 from America for the development of Manchurian resources by Americans to counteract the activity of Japanese in Manchuria.

ARREST AMERICAN BORN MEXICANS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 5.—American Consul Edwards today failed in his efforts to secure the release of four American born Mexican boys who were arrested while fishing on the Mexican side of the line presumably because they carried a small target rifle. The case has been placed in the hands of Governor Creel at Chihuahua.

The boys are held in communication in the military barracks at Juarez and their closest relatives have been forbidden to see them.

Henry Aguirre, one of the prisoners has been known to talk against the Mexican government and his father is under charges here for aiding the revolutionists, but the other lads are known to have no revolutionary connections.

Their relatives say they were enticed to the Mexican side of the river by a ruralist while fishing, the officer calling out that fishing was best on his side of the river, and arresting the boys when they crossed.

Solving a Great City's Water Problem.

Away up on Esopus creek in the rugged Catskills, back of the city of Kingston, and along a 90-mile route leading down to a site just over the New York city line, a force of nearly 5000 engineers and contractors' workmen are engaged today on the biggest task of its kind ever undertaken—the task of constructing the gigantic new water supply system which New York city is creating for itself at a cost of $162,000,000; the system which in eight years or a little longer will be delivering into the city 500,000,000 gallons of water daily, and which will avert, it is hoped permanently, the impending threat of water famine from our greatest city.

When finished the Catskill aqueduct will be able to carry not only the 250,000,000 gallons of water daily which the Ashokan reservoir will furnish, but also the additional quantity which it is proposed later on to draw from other watersheds of the Catskills. By 1915, it is calculated, New York will be using 710,000,000 gallons of water every day, and to meet the needs of a time when even Ashokan will not be able to supply the city's great thirst, plans have already been made to utilize further the resources of the hills when needed.

The Ashokan reservoir will cover an area of 3200 acres, or 12.5 square miles, divided by a dike into two basins. It will be 12 miles long, nearly three miles wide at its widest point, and will have a shore line of 40 miles. Its storage capacity will be 130,000,000,000 gallons. The maximum depth of water will be 130 feet. From the little village of West Hurley, eight miles west of the Hudson river, to its upper end beyond West Shokan this immense storage basin will bury under its waters an area of country having at the present time a permanent population of about 1900 and a summer population of at least 2900. Seven villages will be wiped from the map; 32 cemeteries will be submerged, and 2400 bodies buried in them will have to be removed to other resting places. Sixty-four miles of public highways will be included within the reservoir or discontinued because of its building, and 25 miles of new highways will have to be built. The Ulster and Delaware railroad, which runs through the Esopus valley, will be submerged for 11 miles, and to carry the road around the gap thus made 14 miles of new track will have to be located and built.—American Industries.

FAMOUS MINSTREL

STRICKEN BLIND

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wa., Sept. 5.—Carroll Johnson, the famous minstrel, has been stricken blind and has been forced to cancel all of his vaudeville time with the Orpheum circuit in the northwest.

Wednesday night while on the stage at Vancouver the affliction struck him and he was forced to retire. Johnson is about 60 years old. Physicians have advised him that it is possible for him to regain his sight by removing a blood clot which formed on his brain and caused the temporary blindness.
