PLAN TO TRY OUT FISH LAW

Governor Albert E. Mead, of Washington, today asked Governor Chamberlain to advise Master Fish Warden McAllister to make only one arrest on the Washington side of the Columbia river, for the purpose of testing the new fish act.

Following are the telegrams relative to the matter that have passed between the executives: "To George E. Chamberlain, governor of Oregon: Will you advise Master Fish Warden McAllister, of Oregon, to make only one arrest for fishing on the Washington side of the Columbia river as a test case pending between us at Portland. You are to name date of conference."

"ALBERT E. MEAD, Governor of Washington." "To Albert E. Mead, Governor of Washington: Do not care to interfere with master fish warden. Will confer with you at Portland Sunday." "GEO. E. CHAMBERLAIN, Governor of Oregon." At the conference to be held tomorrow in Portland some satisfactory arrangement is to be reached between the two executives, so that the Washington fishermen will be appeased.

SILVERTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS PRINCIPALLESS At a meeting of the school board held last Thursday evening it was decided to commence school Monday, September 28. This thing of educating the people to demanding guarantees will get some of the scoundrels-in-bad, if it takes in speeches. California is certainly noted for its earthquakes and slugging matches.

CLOSING OF TEACHERS' CONVENTION

The most important matters brought before the Superintendents' convention, which closed in this city yesterday afternoon, were the raising and apportioning of school funds. In discussing these questions the convention unanimously endorsed the recommendations of the special committee of the State Teachers' association.

The State Teachers' association committee took the position that some plan should be devised whereby the irreducible state school fund could be enlarged sufficiently so that it, together with the county fund, would insure not less than six months of school for each district in the state.

They proposed that the legislature be asked to provide two forms of relief: First, a temporary relief to be placed in the state school fund for use each year and a portion of the funds now raised through indirect taxation, the amount to be gradually diminished as the permanent fund is increased.

The committee also recommended a change in the basis of apportionment of school funds in proportion to the number of teachers employed and the daily attendance of the pupils in school.

Eye Don'ts

- DON'T buy glasses over the counter and select them for yourself. You may select a pair that aids your vision for the time being, but that may prove most injurious.
- DON'T buy cheap glasses; such lenses are imperfectly ground and unlike.
- DON'T read in bed or on a moving train.
- DON'T read without your glasses or with somebody else's.
- DON'T continue wearing your old glasses when you feel that they are not just right.
