A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

RIVERS AND HARBORS CONVENTION

Committee Engaged In Securing Good Speakers.

Washington D. C., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Although the fifth annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress will not meet until December in this city, officials of the congress are busily engaged in securing representative men to deliver addresses during the three days the congress will remain in session. And it can now be stated that the efforts of the president of the congress, Hon. Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana, and the secretary, Captain J. F. Ellison, of Cincinnati, Ohio, in securing eminent speakers for the National Rivers and Harbors congress, give promise of making the forthcoming convention the most brilliant in the history of this great national movement.

The Chinese minister, Dr. Ting Fang, will address the congress at one of its sessions, the precise date not having been decided upon, his subject being "Canals and Waterways of the Flowery Kingdom."

The canals of China extend all through its valleys and are more numerous than the roads in our most populous states, their construction in some cases, especially in Ningpo, dating back to 400 years B. C.

Investigation shows that the principal canals in China were natural outlets from lakes and swamps, the soil being allucial, the same as the great valley of the Mississippi; thence the first canals in the country which Minister Wu represents in Washington, were like the bayous of Louisiana, their flow in the river being obstructed by dams at the mouth.

As to the extent of trade by these canals, which touch nearly all of the farms in many of the districts, it is difficult to ascertain, the Chinese government not having made any systematic effort to collect transportation statistics so far as is known to the Consular Bureau of the State Department.

Ambassador Mr. Joaquin Nabuco, of Brazil, is another eminent foreigner who will speak of the "Waterways of Brazil," an intensely interesting subject and one with which Mr. Nabuco is thoroughly familiar.

Into Brazil you could put the whole of the United States and still have room for the German Empire. Amazing as it is, out of the Amazon river every morning there flows five times as much water as is discharged from the mouth of the Mississippi, according to Mr. John Barrett, director-in-chief of the International Bureau of American Republics.

While our setamers have difficulty in going up as far as New Orleans, vessels as large as the "Lusitania" can go a thousand miles up the Amazon and find there a city of sixty thousand people equal to any town in the United States of the same population and with all the modern improvements and developments that characterize a city of that size here.

In the port of Rio Janeiro, Brazil's beautiful capital, the great republic has spent twenty-five million dollars in making harbor improvements and concrete basins and docks that will surpass anything in the United States and rival any other harbor in the world.

"At Para, near the mouth of the Amazon and almost on the equator, they have commenced channel dredging and dock construction that will cost $13,000,000, and provide for them docks and basins equal to the facilities of any harbor in Europe," said Mr. Barrett in a recent interview.

In this connection it is interesting to note that five of the Latin-American countries to the south of us—Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, and Mexico—have now under way harbors and channel construction for which direct appropriations of not less than $100,000,000 have been made, and these same governments announce that they have only begun a vast scheme of waterway improvements which they contemplate will take care of the commerce of the world.

After Oil Near Lebanon.

A number of local people have become interested in the oil prospects near this city and will sink some deep wells a few miles east of Lebanon to see what the bowels of the earth may give forth in the petroleum line. C. H. Vehrs, who has become deeply interested in the matter, has taken charge of the movement. He has been circulating a subscription paper this week for stock and the Lebanon people have been responding liberally and enough stock has been subscribed already to assure a fair inspection of the oil prospects. Machinery will be procured and a deep well bored this fall if everything goes without a hitch.—Lebanon Criterion.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I fell it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Do You Want a Suburban Home?

Do you want the pleasures of the country with the advantages of the city?

Do you want to pick your own berries fresh from the bush and eat them with rich Jersey cream?

Do you want to raise garden two weeks earlier than your friends?

Do you want a chicken or hog ranch just over the fence from the Cherry City, whose paved streets are the talk of the Northwest?

If you do, see F. P. Farrington, the State street grocer and marketman.

I will sell my home place on the Turner road, consisting of 15 acres of rich gravel land, fenced and cross-fenced, two wells on place, young orchard, two acres of Logan berries, also strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, black caps, Himalaya berries, shrubbery, etc.

House 34 feet square, two stories high, ell 12x20, water in kitchen, drain to cesspool in field.

Woodshed, good lawn, carriage shed, cow barn, chicken house, and other out-buildings; also building 40 feet square, shingled, splendidly arranged for hogs or chickens, water inside.

A good family horse, cow, about 100 chickens, new set buggy harness, one set double harness, one set single harness, $150 worth of hay in barn, $75 worth of wood in sheds, other tools, all buildings in good repair inside and out. All you have to do is to move in; the rest is there. Terms on part. Call and see me about it.
