Roses

Real Rose Hat Pins

It does not seem possible, yet it is true, that these Hat Pins are made out of real live roses, changed entirely into metal by a secret process, preserving every detail of the rose from which each pin is made. They can not break, and will last forever. This discovery is without doubt one of the losses of the ancient Egyptians. They are the most beautiful of all Hat Pins. No two are alike. Finished in five colors, to conform to the prevailing fashions in millinery. Made by a process from the actual rose bud to the full blown flower. These pins are made by the genuine "DELAMOTTE" secret process, the only process by which an open rose can be perfectly metalized. Don't buy an inferior imitation. All genuine "DELAMOTTE" Hat Pins have the name stamped on the pin.

We have the exclusive sale of DELAMOTTE Hat Pins for this city. See it a exhibit in our window of this wonderful discovery.

COMPROMISE IN MILL DITCH BRIDGE SUIT
An agreement in the matter of the railroad bridge over the North Mill creek ditch was reached yesterday afternoon between the Salem Flouring Mills Company and the Oregon Electric Company; the injunction suit filed a short time ago will be withdrawn, and the whole question, as far as the two corporations are concerned, will be settled out of court. This is the program, according to the officials and attorneys of the flouring mills and the railroad. The program, however, leaves the city out of consideration, and the agreement was reached without consulting the city. The city still has a motion in the circuit court asking that it be named as a co-defendant with the Oregon Electric in the injunction suit. If the injunction suit is withdrawn the city will have to proceed along a new line. It is the avowed intention of the mayor and the majority of the council to have the ditch declared a public nuisance, and the best method of procedure, under the circumstances, will probably be determined at the next meeting of the council.

DIED.
FISHBURN—At the Salem hospital, at 2:30 Saturday morning, September 19, 1908, of quick consumption, Austin Fishburn. The funeral services will be held at his mother's residence on North Commercial street, at 2:30 tomorrow, Sunday afternoon. Interment in City View cemetery.
Several Roseburg business men who have been accused of violating the Sunday closing law, have received threatening letters signed "The League."

HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $35

The first robbery that has occurred since the opening of the fair occurred at 9:40 o'clock last night, on East State street, when Frank Freeman, a state fair visitor from Tillamook, was held up at the point of a gun and relieved of $36 worth of valuables. Freeman reported the holdup to the police last night, but so far there is no clue to the identity or whereabouts of the robbers. Freeman said that he was walking east on State street, and was almost directly in front of the store on Twelfth street when two men walked out from the darkness and ordered him to stop. One of them held the revolver while the other went through Freeman's pockets. It is probable that the robbers left on the 9:56 overland.

HEALTH BOARD CENSURES FAIR SANITATION
The State Board of Health today inspected the state fair grounds and condemned the sanitary arrangements in severe terms. They personally inspected the closet facilities, and pronounced them filthy and entirely inadequate for the comfort and cleanliness of the people. Dr. W. B. Morse took the other members of the board, R. C. Yenney, Andrew C. Smith, J. C. Smith of Pendleton, and E. B. Pickell of Grants Pass, to the fair grounds in his auto, and they went over the premises thoroughly, and will make a report to the legislature that will make that body wipe out the present primitive arrangements, and spend about ten thousand plunks on water closets.

BRYCE TO RETIRE AS AMBASSADOR
London, Sept. 19.—James Bryce's retirement from the British embassy at Washington is expected here to follow speedily the inauguration of President Roosevelt's successor at the White House.

An attachment has been issued against Booth & Company, packers at Astoria, for about $11,000.

After Electrical Trusts.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Sept. 19.—The leading figures in the electrical world will be indicted for forming and maintaining an unlawful trust, if the investigation by the federal grand jury, which came to light today, results as reports say that it will.
President Roosevelt ordered the inquiry, which has been conducted quietly, and was not known to the public until today. The managers of the General Electrical Company and six other concerns have been subjected to the closest examination. Enough evidence to warrant the indictment of six predominant figures already is in the hands of the grand jury, it is said, but it has been deemed advisable to postpone action, and take further testimony, pending the securing of documentary evidence.
It is reported also that there is a serious delay in pushing the case on account of the injury it might do the party in the present campaign.
The matter was brought to the attention of the President by Attorney-General Bonaparte, and when Roosevelt obtained a general understanding of the alleged facts, he at once ordered the federal authorities to make a most thorough and searching examination, and follow it up with vigorous action, if the revelations should warrant further procedure.
It is alleged that the six big electrical firms have a complete monopoly of all the electrical business in this section, their interests having been extended into almost all branches of electrical business. It is further charged that the combine has a working agreement regarding prices and fixes and controls rates, competitors having been put out of business.

WASHINGTON TAX VALUES INCREASE $200,000,000
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Olympia, Wash., Sept. 19.—Figures just made public by the tax board of the state of Washington indicate that the assessed valuations of all property in the state this year aggregate $784,000,000, an increase of about $200,000,000 over the county board aggregate assessments of last year.
Real property is returned this year at about $127,000,000 more value than in 1907. The tax commissioners say that a good share of the increase is due to the higher rate at which timber lands have been valued.

WILBUR WRIGHT TO CONTINUE FLIGHTS
Lemans, France, Sept. 19.—In the face of the disaster which occurred to the aeroplane of Orville Wright and resulted in the death of his assistant, Lieutenant Selfridge, a number of persons today offered to accompany his brother, Wilbur Wright, who will make another flight Monday.
Wright retains great faith in his invention, and announced today that he would make no change in the construction of his aeroplane. He considers the accident to his brother's machine was caused by defective material, and not to any fault in the lines of its construction.

TWO-CENT RATE INJUNCTION TAKES EFFECT
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19.—The temporary injunction granted by Federal Judge Triber, of Little Rock, to the Kansas City Southern railway, restraining the Kansas railroad commissioners from enforcing the freight tariff law and the two-cent passenger rate law, is effective today.
The court required the railroad company to execute a bond guaranteeing reparation in all cases of overcharging, provided that the court in the final hearing decides in favor of complainants.
The railroad is required to issue to each passenger, a coupon with the ticket showing the price paid, and to each shipper of freight, showing the amount he would have paid if no injunction had been issued. Should the injunction be dissolved the road must return the difference to passengers and shippers, with interest.

RUMOR NORTHERN PACIFIC TERMINAL FOR FRISCO
San Francisco, Sept. 19.—It is rumored in railroad circles today that the purchase of a site of 1200 acres of water front on the San Francisco bay, across from the mooring of deep water vessels, is in reality a move on the part of the Northern Pacific to secure a terminal in this city.
The purchase was made ostensible for the Hoisting railroad, which is announced to be a merger of several small railroads in this state.
"This railroad will practically be a terminal for a future trans-continental line into San Francisco," said Manager Charles W. Conliss today, and it is this statement that is puzzling railroad men.
The well balanced man feeds a well balanced ration, works a well balanced farm, and has a well balanced bank account.

CHILD OF MILLIONAIRE CARED FOR BY PRIESTS
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Denver, Colo., Sept. 19.—Admitting that he fears the child was kidnapped, Father J. A. Ryan, assistant pastor of St. Leo's church, is today making preparations to place 8-year-old Arvilla Bell, daughter of Mrs. Cora Belle Bartine, in St. Scholastica's Academy, at Canyon City. Father Ryan took the child out of the detention home yesterday.
The transfer was made by Father Ryan, at a consultation with Secretary Whitehead, of the State Bureau of Child and Animal Protection, and the little girl's mother, both of whom consented to the move. The little girl, whom the mother insists is the child of T. M. Barnedall, Pittsburg millionaire, will be given the best rearing and education possible.
"I believe the mother is a victim of circumstances," said Father Ryan. "She is undoubtedly a woman of excellent training and education, but she has met with hard luck in being wedded to this man Martinie, whom I am convinced is bad."

Talc and Its Manifold Uses.
Talc and soapstone are found in nearly all of the Atlantic slope states and in many of them the deposits are so favorably located as regards transportation and markets as to make their development profitable. During 1907 such quarries were operated in Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont New York, which formerly had the distinction of being the largest producer of talc in the United States, was in 1907 forced to give first place to Virginia, whose product represents about 41 per cent of the total value. Deposits of talc and soap stone occur in several of the western states also, but present conditions as regards transportation and markets are not sufficiently favorable to justify development except in California.
The product of the quarries varies from pure foliated talc to the harder steatite or soapstone. For use in the art it is either powdered or sawed into slabs or manufactured into various articles. The powdered or flour talc is used in the manufacture of such diverse products as fire-proof paints, electric insulators, covering for steam pipes, foundry facings, dynamite, paper, toilet powder, leather lubricators and soap. The soapstone, not powdered, is used in the manufacture of hearth-stones, furnace linings, laboratory tables, laundry tubs, ovens, foot warmers and many other articles of everyday use. Some of the purer varieties are manufactured into pencils and gas tips, the talc suitable for such uses bringing a higher price than any other produced in this country.
By far the larger number of talc and soapstone quarries are operated or controlled by the manufacturers, and only a comparatively small part of the output is sold in the crude state. In 1907, however, an unusually large proportion of the production was sold in the crude condition. The quantity sold in 1906 was 15,211 short tons, having an average value of $2.65 per ton; in 1907 the marketed production of rough or unmanufactured soapstone was 25538 tons, at an average price of $1.36; so that while the quantity sold exhibited a gain of 16,327 short tons, or about 66 per cent, the total value decreased $5712. The average price for ground soapstone was the same in 1907 as in 1906, but prices for manufactured or partially manufactured materials were higher.—Geological Survey.

SHOOTS GIRL AND HER MOTHER
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washkee, Wis., Sept. 19.—A holding a posse at bay all night, making a desperate fight, George Smith, 60 years old, was captured today and placed under arrest on the charge of having shot his 14-year-old daughter, Julia Smith, and her mother, Mrs. Julia Smith, last night, and afterwards seriously wounding Sheriff George Dwinell.
Mrs. Grabow, who was shot in the head three times, is dying. Smith charged with having gone to the Grabow home and to have attacked the mother and a 14-year-old daughter. The news of the attack on the woman and girl spread rapidly, and when Sheriff Dwinell went to the home Smith was waiting for him and fired from a window. The sheriff fell and is in a serious condition.
The shooting of Sheriff Dwinell aroused the whole community and posse formed and started for the house. Smith, in the meantime, barricaded the house, closed all the windows and doors and by the use of his rifle defied arrest. When ever the posse came into sight he fired, and the men soon realized that it would be impossible to capture him during the night without several persons being killed. At daylight however, the posse surrounded the house and by a sudden dash closed in on Smith. When he saw he would be killed he surrendered.
The posse found Mrs. Grabow unconscious, and there is no hope ever for her. The little girl was given attention, and it is believed she will recover.
Smith was sullen and ugly when he gave himself up, and refused to make any statement to the authorities.
