

J. L. STOCKTON

The Old White Corner

Just like a scholar in school, ambitious to get to the head of the class, we have toiled and studied until now we are confident that this store surpasses all others as a value-giving concern. The new goods for Fall have been purchased with a view of pleasing our customers; we have studied their tastes and profited by it.

The man who tries is bound to succeed. And any one who has ever visited this store knows full well that the salespeople tried to please them, and even though they did not buy, the management got an idea from the visit and has tried to profit by it.

OREGON METHODIST

Forenoon Session.
The conference opened at 9 a. m. with a communion service, conducted by Bishop Hughes, assisted by the district superintendents (formerly visiting elders).
Rev. Wire, of Portland, was requested secretary of the conference; J. Hawkins, of Roseburg, statistician; Jas. Moore, of Woodburn, treasurer; W. T. Kerr, of Portland, confirmed secretary; G. O. Oliver, of Salem, postmaster.

District Reports.
Reports of district superintendents were heard, opened by M. C. Wire, of Eugene. He reported a great deal of work, building and repairs, and additions to the churches. He made a hit by referring to the state secretary's report, that had been made on the Drainage and Bay road. He made a great deal of support for Willamette University, and Kimball Theological Seminary. The church schools were a great success, as to his personal knowledge, the state schools had not furnished candidates for the ministry.

In 25 years but three students of the State University entered the ministry, and they not graduates.

Applause for Booth.
In the presentation of this report Senator Booth came in for an ovation. He had been indicted three years ago in connection with the land fraud case. He asked for an early trial, but never was permitted to get into court until a few weeks ago, when he was promptly acquitted without even the smell of fire on his garments. (Great applause.) He was highly eulogized by the official report.

A Whole Warship.
In reviewing the departed leaders, Rev. Wire gave a high tribute to the late Dr. Driver, whom he denominated the great theological warship of Methodism, and the greatest Bible scholar of his age. He was declared to be so by the great evangelist Moody. He was fearless as a lion, and able to meet any and all comers in debate, and to handle any audience he ever faced.

Reports of benevolences and collections were made, and nearly every church reported full collection baskets, and some running over. This occupied most of the morning.

Church Site at Siletz.
Rev. Wire's report showed a very gratifying acquisition of property at Siletz, where the government has decided the old mission site to the Methodist Episcopal church, eight and a half acres of valuable land, through the efforts of Congressman Hawley, who was referred to in the report as "our Methodist congressman. The land was originally promised to the church at $2.50 per acre, but the time lapsed and was revived through his efforts.

Rev. Liff Got Started.
In a short, stirring speech Rev. Liff, the great apostle of home missions, aroused the conference to a high pitch of good old-fashioned Methodist enthusiasm, by hitting upon high places like polygamy. He incidentally informed the audience that his father was a German and his mother Irish, an invincible combination.

A Fine Bishop.
Bishop Hughes is a young man, with black hair, parted in the middle, with a shock prematurely gray on one side. He presides with ability, dignity and fairness; is not technical as to parliamentary tactics. He has a strong sense of humor, and a happy way of saying "Now, my brother," and puts all the members at their ease.

Reports on Klamath.
Rev. Dunlap made a splendid report on his district, where he has to travel 2000 miles to meet his charge. He showed great progress at all stations and charges.

Thursday Programs.
At 8:15 a. m. there will be an evangelistic address by Rev. G. H. Fesse, of Portland.
Conference sessions from 9 to 12, 2:30 p. m.—Anniversary of Woman's Home Missionary Society. Addresses by Dr. T. B. Ford, of Portland, and E. R. Willis, of San Francisco. A company of Chinese girls will give an interesting part of the program.

Notes on the Conference.
The missionary sermon will be preached this evening by Rev. Liff, who had a strenuous time with the Mormons while he was at Salt Lake. He is one of the most eloquent preachers, and a man of wonderful powers of entertainment.

The two native sons in the conference are Rev. F. L. Belknap, of Hillsboro, who is building a fine new church, and Rev. E. H. Belknap, of Heald church, of Salem. The latter is not expecting to remain in the ministry on account of his health, and will probably retire to his large farm in Benton county.

Rev. Jos. Hoberg, of McMinnville, superannuated, is at the conference with his wife. He has attended all the conferences ever held in Salem, except the first three. He was a Sunday school superintendent at Salem 43 years ago, and has had a long record of service as a pioneer preacher.

PRESIDIO CAPTAINS FACE COURT-MARTIAL

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Sept. 23.—That Captain Mamul McAllister and Captain Solomon Avery, Jr., both stationed at the Presidio, will be dismissed from the army is the feeling here today. The action of the officers have brought them to the notice of the retiring board, and both will retire to private life in a short time. It is understood.

Captain McAllister has been ordered before the board on a charge of being "morally unfit for service in the United States army." On three occasions he has absented himself from his post at the Presidio, and the third time the influence of his supporters could not save him.

Captain Avery, whose court-martial on the charge of misappropriating funds, has been in progress for some time, has been found guilty, and will be discharged without imprisonment, according to reliable information from Washington.
Both Mrs. McAllister and Mrs. Avery have left San Francisco, pending the outcome of their husband's difficulties.

HIGSEN ATTACK ON BAILEY WAS UNWELCOME

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Beaumont, Tex., Sept. 23.—Feeling is somewhat bitter today against Thomas F. Higen, presidential candidate of the independence party, owing to an attack by him on Senator Bailey made yesterday. Higen passed through this city and was asked to state specifically whom he was fighting. He did so, stating that he was fighting both Democrats and Republicans.

He continued with an attack on the Standard and Senator Bailey. He was interrupted several times. H. Hardy, who was secretary of state at the time the Waters-Pierce Oil Company was allowed to re-enter the state, took exception to a statement of Higen, that Senator Bailey was responsible for the readmission of the company. He stated that he alone was responsible, and that Bailey had been fully exonerated.

The reason why some deals can't slip through easily is because they are a little crooked and have not had their curves lubricated.
