ELOQUENT ADDRESS TO YOUNG MINISTERS EIGHT THOUSAND WYOMING STRIKING MINERS RETURN TO WORK

BISHOP HUGHES' ADDRESS

NEW CLASS OF MINISTERS

Bishop Hughes delivered the address to the new class, and held the auditorium for over an hour by his wisdom, eloquence and great personality. The class admitted consisted of W. Pogue, H. W. Kuhlman, W. Ellis, H. R. Greafous, E. Allen, W. C. Stewart, Karl H. Bryant, at Laurels, was continued one year to come to his studies. Most of the candidates are students of Kimball Theological school, and won high scholarship. The name of Colonel Walter was called the bishop asked if

JAPS CAUSE OF TROUBLE IN HAWAII

ROWDYISM AMONG RESIDENCES

(United Press Leased Wire.) Honolulu, H. T., Sept. 26.—An agitation to restrain the Japanese colonies in the Hawaiian islands to certain limited districts in incorporated cities, and to limited area outside the cities, has been started by the citizens of Makiki, a suburb of Honolulu, and it looks today as though the agitation against the Japanese will be carried into the next territorial legislature. The trouble started with the application of a colony of Asiatics to erect a new Japanese labor camp just across the street from a school house on Beretania avenue, one of the fashionable drives out of Honolulu. Superintendent Campbell of public construction, refused to issue the permit on the ground that the camps

CONFERENCE ADJOURNS MONDAY

GREAT WORK OF LAYMEN

The great event in Methodism today was the address of Bishop Hughes to the new class that enters the ministry. The bishop spoke for over an hour, and all who have heard similar addresses say he was equal to the occasion, and in some respects surpassed all former efforts in this line. He has a natural eloquence and a manner of delivery that are peculiar, and yet winning the heart of all. Lay Conference Election. After the joint session the lay conference resumed its session at Kimball Hall, and heard an inspiring address by President Homan, in the interest of Wilamette University. He made a splendid showing for the faculty and course of study at this school, proving that it was up to scholarship to any institution in the state, and that its normal course was in exact compliance with the state course of study. He answered

BIG LINER RUNS DOWN STEAMSHIP

THOUSAND PEOPLE ON BOARD

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Sept. 25.—While a thousand passengers on board the big Fall River liner Commonwealth were asleep early today, the ship ran down and sunk the Norwegian steamship Volund in a heavy fog off Race Rock, in Long Island Sound, and, though the terrific crash roused everyone and caused a panic, it is believed that all escaped except one member of the crew of the Volund, who went down with his ship. The big Commonwealth was steaming about 10 knots per hour, when the Volund suddenly loomed up in the fog directly ahead of her. The boats were so close together that it was impossible to prevent the collision. Both were of heavy tonnage, and when they came together the impact was so great that the passengers on the Commonwealth were all thrown from their bunks. The Volund was struck below the water line, and a big hole opened in her hull. She filled with water rapidly and soon foundered. Small boats were put out from the Commonwealth, and 16 of the crew of 17 were taken aboard the liner. The coolness of the officers of the Commonwealth prevented any serious results from the panic among the passengers. All rushed from their staterooms in their night clothes, and there was the greatest confusion. The officers made a hurried investigation and found that there was no serious damage to the Commonwealth, further than a hole in her bow and the heavy straining of her hull timbers. They then ordered the passengers back to their staterooms, and, blocking the passageways, refused to allow them to go on deck. It is believed to have saved many lives, as some of the men and women were so frightened that they would probably have jumped overboard. The Volund was en route to Nova Scotia. Report from the scene of the wreck indicate that she is a total loss. The Commonwealth was able to proceed on her way.

W. H. TAFT IS GIVEN OVATION

AT CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

(United Press Leased Wire.) Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 26.—William H. Taft was greeted by an immense throng here today, and was received with great enthusiasm. He spoke to the crowd, but apologized for his voice, saying he regretted greatly his inability to make himself heard by all. The speech was interrupted continually by cheers. The demonstration was one of the most remarkable made at any point on the present tour. Judge Taft's voice is no better today, but it is no worse, and he believes he will be able to meet his engagements without much trouble, if any. His itinerary today includes five speeches in Iowa and seven in Minnesota. At Vinton, Ia., today Taft attacked Bryan's free silver record. It was announced that Taft will reply later to the statements regarding him made by Senator Foraker in his statement made public this morning.

TEMPORARY AGREEMENT IS REACHED

WYOMING WORKMEN SATISFIED

(United Press Leased Wire.) Butte, Mont., Sept. 26.—Advice received here today from Wyoming say that 8000 miners returned to work today, as the result of a temporary wage agreement having been reached in Chicago by representatives of the union and the mine owners. The points where work was resumed are Dolis, Diamondville, Sheridan, Cambria, Monnet and Hanna. Messages received here say that this action is believed to mean the end of the strike in Wyoming.

COUSIN OF GOULD DIES A PAUPER

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 26.—County hospital authorities are trying today to solve the mystery which surrounds an unknown woman who called to see Melvin A. Gould, the aged cousin of George J. Gould, just before he died a pauper here. The woman refused to give her name, and acted in a strange manner. Since Gould was taken to the county hospital, a helpless invalid three months ago, there had been a peculiar mystery surrounding the case. Madame Ferrier Johnson, the daughter of the late founder of the Hibernian bank in San Francisco, recently reported that Gould was under the control of a woman hypnotist, and that he had been taken to the county hospital while under the influence of drugs. Detective Sergeant Kelly, when the report was made to the police, detailed two men to investigate the case. The more work the officers did on the case the deeper the mystery grew. When Gould was asked if a woman had him in her power he said that the report was unfounded. His body is being held pending word from his millionaire cousins. If no order is received soon it will be buried in the potters' field.

MAY EXPEL CO-LEADS FOR LEAP YEAR CALLS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 26.—The faculty and student body of the University of California is excited over the outcome of the visits of ten co-leads to the various fraternity houses here late in the evening. In fact long after dark. The girls were disguised by having their faces covered with lampblack and they wore all dressed alike so as to give the appearance of a female minstrel show. The first invasion took place on Wednesday night when a freshman answering the bell at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house, was confronted by the heavy of mysterious callers. They "rushed" him, and entered the house. They then made apologies, and said they had come to "call." The boys pulled down the blind, and brought the piano into requisition. The visitors joined early in the singing and dancing, but baffled all efforts to learn their identity. After an hour spent in somewhat hilarious merry-making, they departed. Since then they have visited several other fraternity houses, and the matter has been called to the attention of the faculty. A serious investigation is being conducted, and it is said that the co-leads are not to pack their trunks and discontinue the pursuit of learning for the present.

were angry, and that the Japanese amend their plan and apply again. They threatened mandamus proceedings, and the permit was issued. The residents of the district are highly indignant, and threaten to stop the construction of the building by injunction proceedings on the ground that it is a nuisance and disfigures the residence district. Several camps have already been started in Makiki, which is one of the most beautiful residences. Hats-hets near Honolulu, and the residents say that, instead of moving out and giving the place to the Japanese, as has been the custom, they will fight the encroachment of the Orientals. They propose to bring up at the next territorial legislature a measure to keep Asiatic labor camps out of residence districts altogether, and, if this is not successful, the supervisors of Honolulu will be asked to restrict the Japanese, as the Chinese are restricted in San Francisco. The Japanese labor camps are enclosed with high, unsightly board fences with a central court on the inside, around which small houses are arranged for the accommodation of Japanese laborers, who are crowded into the places. Frequent brawls have taken place in these labor camps, and the question of their suppression is one of the most harassing questions to be met by the officials.

GERMAN TRAINS IN COLLISION

Berlin, Sept. 26.—Thirteen persons were killed and 49 injured today in a railway collision which is reported to be one of the worst in this section of the country in years. It is claimed that the action of the engineer of one train, in ignoring danger signals, is responsible for the wreck. It is believed that a number of the injured will die.

ENGLISH CHAMPION HAS THE ODDS

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Sept. 26.—As the result of a vigorous betting campaign by the followers of Owen Moran, odd on the fight between the Britisher and Eddie Henton, Sept. 20, today stand at 10 to 8 with the Californian on the short end. While the local fans like Henton and are giving him their moral support, evidence of a more substantial nature is lacking. Moran's friends, on the other hand are coming to the front with plenty of money. Henton's weight is down to 135 and he seems to be in fairly good shape already. Moran ties the beam at a much lower figure, and expects to go into the ring at about 125, for him a good fighting weight.

ACCIDENT IN WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Pullman, Wa., Sept. 25.—One student is dying and several others are suffering painful injuries today as the result of a peculiar accident that occurred at Washington State college last night, when members of the 1912 class undertook to put their class number on the 80-foot smokestack of the mining building. A trellis of ladders was built on the interior of the smokestack, and, as the students started to descend, the top ladder broke, letting three men fall nearly 75 feet. One student, name not learned, suffered a long gash in his back from the broken ladder and the other two were badly bruised. A student by the name of Smith caught on the top of the smokestack and hung suspended 80 feet from the ground nearly an hour until the ladders were repaired, replaced and he was rescued.

BROTHER WILL FIGHT FOR COLONEL STEWART

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—Prepared to assist his brother, Colonel William F. Stewart, in his fight against retirement from the army, Charles F. Stewart, a prominent attorney of San Francisco, is here today making plans for a big legal battle. Attorney Stewart feels that his brother is unable to work for service, and alleges that the colonel is the victim of influential enemies. The San Francisco attorney will represent the colonel when his case is tried before the retiring board within the next few days.

MONNETT GETS ANOTHER DENIAL

New York, Sept. 26.—C. B. Squires accused by former Attorney-General Monnett, of Ohio, with having offered him a bribe of $500,000 to stop the prosecution of suits against the Standard Oil Company today denied absolutely that he had ever made such an offer. Squires said that the Monnett affidavit was false in every particular, and specifically asserted that the statement implicating C. B. Squires, Frank Rockefeller and C. N. Haskell were false. In his statement today Squires denied the whole allegation, saying that there was never any such proposition, and that he had never had any connection whatever with such a deal.

REPORTED DUNLAP TO SUCCEED HASKELL

Chicago, Sept. 26.—It is reported here this afternoon that Millard F. Dunlap, of Jacksonville, Ill., will succeed Governor Charles N. Haskell as treasurer of the Democratic national committee. Dunlap held a similar position in the campaign of 1900. Monday, it is announced, the list of contributors to the Democratic campaign fund will be made public. The list will contain the names of all the donors who have subscribed over $100.

HASKELL TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST HEARST

Chicago, Sept. 26.—"You read the law, and you will know the limit," this was the written answer given by Governor C. N. Haskell, of Oklahoma, who resigned last night as treasurer of the national Democratic committee to a question as to what action he contemplated taking against his accusers. Haskell's friends say that he will take action immediately against President Roosevelt. Haskell was in private conference with William J. Bryan at the national headquarters today. When Haskell entered the conference room everyone else left but Bryan, and the former treasurer and the candidate talked for 15 minutes. When Bryan came out he left hurriedly for Madison, Wis. He refused to discuss the Haskell resignation, and would say nothing regarding his probable successor. Bryan intimates, however, that he might have a statement to make later in the day. At noon Governor Haskell made it known that if the newspaper men would write out questions and send them in to him he would answer them. In reply to questions submitted in this way, Haskell said he had no information as to whether J. B. Dooley, his assistant as national treasurer, would resign. Haskell said that he presumed that his resignation already had been accepted, though he had not been informed to that effect.
