RAPHAEL'S MADONNA OF SAINT ANTHONY

The Sun printed, not long ago, the following "special cable dispatch" from Rome:

"It is reported that J. Pierpont Morgan has purchased Raphael's famous 'Vergine de San Antonio de Padova' for about $484,000. It will remain in Italy, however, and probably will be housed in the Aldobrandini palace."

On reading this statement I wrote to a friend who has several thousand photographs of Italian paintings and other works of art, and asked him if he happened to have one of this particular picture. He replied that he had not, and that probably the only person who had was the owner as the painting had been stored for years past in the store rooms of the National Gallery in London. I know of course, that Mr. Morgan owned a very large Madonna by Raphael, for which he is supposed to have paid about the sum named in the above dispatch: and that this painting had hung for the past nine years, with other Raphaels' in one of the principal rooms of the National Gallery in Trafalgar square, where I have often seen it. But I did not suspect—as I have since learned—that the belated cablegram referred to this familiar painting. In view of the facts, the assertion that "it will remain in Italy," is mildly amusing. A more recent report that Morgan had bought a beautiful Greek bas-relief of Antinous, unearthed in Italy, was contradicted, as soon as heard.—An Idle Reader in Putman's.

The Warning Signals.

A Boston physician tells a story of a youngster of his own that an overstrenuous vacation had put on the sick list. The father had an appropriate prescription filled and left the bottle with the child's mother. As she, however, is very forgetful, he gave her a chart and suggested that she set down the hours when the medicine should be given, checking off each dose as taken. Upon returning from his evening calls, however, he found the chart blank.

"Good gracious, Mary!" he exclaimed. "Surely you haven't failed to give Tom his medicine?"

"Oh, no. I did not miss a single time," his wife assured him.

"How in the world did you remember it without the chart?" he asked.

She smiled.

"That was easy. I just told Tom this morning at what hours he was to have it, and half an hour before each time he would begin hallooing that he wouldn't take it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night, and I feel 50 per cent better than I have for weeks, says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store. Samples free.

The student of farm crop statistics cannot escape the conclusion that if all people were able to consume all they would like to there would be a chronic shortness of foodstuffs unless production were largely increased.

They Take the Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt Guaranteed satisfactory at J. C. Perry's drug store. 25c.

There are many pitiful sights in the world. One of the most pitiful is to see a distressed mother carrying her sick baby to a doctor.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I fell it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store, 50c.

In spite of rain and drouth, bug and blight, excessive cold and heat, Secretary Wilson will find a dandy mass of farmer-made dollars to count and admire at the season's end.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winted and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed. A few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SUCCESSFUL DAIRY FARMER WHO WILL HAVE AUCTION

J. H. Rhoten who went onto the Geo. Crabtree ranch three miles northeast of Marion in 1900, has rented this fine dairy farm to Geo. Weatherill who took possession today, and has an auction sale of personal property Tuesday Oct. 6. He is a man who has employed modern methods of dairying and when he bought or bred horses or cattle has grown only the best breeds and used the best blood that money could buy. The result is that he has made money and has built up the farm by proper crops suitable for successful dairying. He has remodelled the house and barn and put in machinery to save labor and increase the profits. At the auction sale there will be Jersey cows, road and draft horses, Chester White swine and sheep, and farming machinery and implements. People who go to this sale will fine some good stock offered, especially in the dairying line. 9-25&30-1w*

There are duties a man owes to himself, but they so often conflict with other people's comfort that they are called selfishness.

Kodol will, in a very short time, enable the stomach to do the work it should do, and the work it should do is to digest all the food you eat. It makes the stomach sweet and it is pleasant to take. It is sold here by all druggists.
