

PROGRESS OF ALBANY AS A RAILROAD CENTER

Sept. 30.—(Special)—The time table is to be effective October 1st. The morning train is leaving here at 7:35 a. m. for Astoria and returning at 7 p. m. The afternoon train is leaving here at 6:45 a. m. for Astoria and returning at 11:58, leaving Albany at 12:38 and arriving at Yaquina at 6:15 p. m. The Lincoln train seems to suit the people much better than the old time card.

making it the best sisters' school in the valley. Saturday, the 26th, was "holdup" day, and about $250 in cash was collected for the new Albany public library. Outside work is nearly finished on the new depot, and work on the inside will be pushed as soon as material arrives. It is rumored that the north end will be set off as a park, and to have a good one. The midnight train Monday night ran into a band of horses one mile south of Albany, killing three and injuring two very severely. Hon. L. A. Munkers owned one of the horses killed, valued at $200, and Frank Mackleman was the possessor of the other two, the two being valued at $500. The railroad company, it is expected, will pay the owners for their loss. L. E. W.

OREGON STATE LEAGUE AGAIN TO ORGANIZE

Salem baseball fans will be glad to learn that the old Oregon league is to be organized, and the next season's opening of the world. Oregon, especially the Astoria valley, will be represented by "No. 1" ball under national rules. The Oregon state league of five teams was the most successful ever put on the state, and they played season within 13 days of the season. The same towns will be on the list to represent in the proposed league, they being Salem, Albany, Roseburg and possibly Astoria. The different managers of the league, whose names are being held for the present, have communicated with J. Farrell of the National baseball commission, and have secured privileges in state league class, by paying the sum of $25 to the protection. This privilege lego, which Commissioner Farrell has given to the new Oregon state league, entitles them to draft and sell players to and from any league in the United States in the state class under which name the association have purchased the privileges. An outlaw will have no chance whatever to sign up with the state aggregation unless given permission by the main official in the National association which law will be beneficial to the league in keeping out the players who have not the goods in first class company. The managers of the respective club in the league, have been negotiating with other managers and their chances to lay hands upon some of the best material are very favorable. There will no doubt be a competitive war on the first two months of the coming season between the Oregon state league and some of the smaller leagues owing to the players jumping to the best job in case they make good.

LAND DEAL IN DOUGLAS COUNTY
The largest land deal ever consummated in Douglas county was consummated on Friday evening, Sept. 25, when Frank B. Waite sold 7000 acres Sutherland valley holdings, near the town of Oakland, to a company of eastern capitalists, headed by Perkins of Medford, and Andrews, an eastern colonizer. The consideration is not made public, but it is understood to be about $1,000,000. Mr. Waite also owns a block of stock in the company which has been formed by the sale of the purpose of putting land on the markets in 10 years. In the line with this article incorporating the title Land & Water Company, the total stock of $1,000,000, were held by the county clerk Monday afternoon by Mr. Waite, Mr. Perkins and Mr. Andrews. The remaining stock is being looked over by the county clerk Mr. Perkins. Mr. Perkins is a part of the Pender Sutherland, and later comprised the land of the Calapooia investment and Sutherland Valley Land Company. Through the efforts of Mr. Perkins the entire tract of 10,000 acres has been placed under irrigation. The land is of the very highest quality and is adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Mr. Perkins, one of the purchasers, has been engaged very successfully in raising fruit in the Rogue River valley, near Medford. A carload of Comice pears which he shipped to New York last year, brought the record price of over $4400. Mr. Andrews, his associate, makes a business of bringing carloads of eastern homeseekers into Oregon and colonizing them. Through his work along the line the population of the Rogue River valley has increased very materially during the past two years.

OREGON MAY GO CIGARETTELESS
Representative-elect Charles McDonald, of Multnomah county, has drafted a bill which will introduce at the legislature next winter, having for its purpose the utter extermination of the "coffin tack" in the Beaver states. Even substitutes for cigarettes will be used under a ban, and any one caught giving or selling the "makin'gs" will be subject to fine, and if the fine is not paid, then off to prison he (or she) must go. Conservative statistics show that 500,000 cigarette are smoked daily in Oregon. The figures may reach 800,000 for the 500,000 daily consumption is based on 40 per cent of the voters smoking only ten of the "tacks" a day, and any cigarette smoker will confess that ten "oligs" a day is a niggardly allowance, and should be 20 or 30. Then again, more than 40 per cent of the voters use cigarettes and many who are not voters are heavy smokers. "The 'makin'gs' sold in this state in a week run into several thousand dollars, so the passing of the proposed reform measure of Representative McDonald "would cut deeply into the profits of the tobaccoists. The bill which was prepared by an attorney and sent to McDonald for approval, follows the Washington law. McDonald, who is now in Curry county on his vacation, has written that the draft of the measure is satisfactory to him, and promises that it will be one of the first bills introduced in the coming session. The bill does not prohibit the smoking of the "coffin tacks," but it makes the securing of the materials difficult, almost impossible, in fact. Says the bill: "It shall be unlawful for any person, by himself, clerk, servant, employe, or agent, directly or indirectly, upon any pretense or by any device, to manufacture, sell or exchange, barter, dispose of or give away, or keep for sale, any cigarettes, or any paper made or prepared for the purpose of being filled with tobacco for smoking; any person for violation of the same will be guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall for the first offense, pay a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $100 and costs of prosecution, and stand committed to the county jail until such costs are paid; and for the second and each subsequent offense shall pay upon conviction thereof, a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, and costs of prosecution, or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than one month or more than six months; provided, that the provisions thereof shall not apply nor interfere with the sale of, nor disposal by any person in this state to any person outside of this state."—Forest Grove Times.

SUCCESSFUL DAIRY FARMER WHO WILL HAVE AUCTION

J. H. Rhoten who went onto the Geo. Crabtree ranch three miles northeast of Marion in 1900, has rented this fine dairy farm to Geo. Weatherill who took possession today, and has an auction sale of personal property Tuesday Oct. 6. He is a man who has employed modern methods of dairying and when he bought or bred horses or cattle has grown only the best breeds and used the best blood that money could buy. The result is that he has made money and has built up the farm by proper crops suitable for successful dairying. He has remodelled the house and barn and put in machinery to save labor and increase the profits. At the auction sale there will be Jersey cows, road and draft horses, Chester White swine and sheep, and farming machinery and implement. People who go to this sale will see some good stock offered, especially in the dairying line. 9-25&30-1w*
