SALEM SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

By MISS MOLLIE RUNCORN, Phone 1534

For Miss Mueller.
Miss Frieda Mueller was pleasantly surprised by about 30 of her friends last Tuesday evening. The party was in the nature of a farewell. Miss Mueller left Friday with plans for Portland to reside.

"500" Party.
Miss J. L. Stockton was hostess at a "500" party last Wednesday evening. Prizes were captured by Miss Greta Looney and Willie Galt. Refreshments were served. The guests were: Misses Edna Lord, Mabel Robertson, Greta Looney, Sue Ross, Elsie Fawc, Lolla Bell, Elizabeth, Barbara Durbin, Althea, and Messrs. William Lord, Charles Galloway, Will Walton, Curtis Cross, Willie Galt, Jim Crawford and Will Skiff.

For Carl Gabrielson.
Mrs. Chauncey Bishop entertained with a party dinner last night for Carl Gabrielson, who left Tuesday for Eugene to attend the U. of O. The dinner was in honor of his birthday. Pink ribbons and candles were used as table decorations, and on each plate was a picture of Mr. Gabrielson in his baseball uniform. Games were laid for twelve.

The Captain and Mrs. Howard.
Members of the Grand Army and Navy Relief Corps spent a few hours Tuesday evening at the home of Captain and Mrs. D. C. Howard on Marion street. The time was spent with music and telling of the story, after which the refreshments were served. The affair was a complete surprise to Captain and Mrs. Howard.

Entertained Informally.
Mrs. Mildred Baker and Jessie Galt entertained about a dozen of their friends informally Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Baker, 681 Center street. Hand and other games were played during the evening, after which the hostesses served refreshments.

Announcement.
Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Deht, of Portland, announce the marriage of their daughter, Sabine L., to Mr. Robert H. Hoyer, of this city, the wedding to take place at the bride's home next Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

Eugene has taken another step forward by her recent election and demand for the pure mountain water. Some time ago, this thrifty little city on the upper Willamette, made her first stand for pure water, and she has felt the good effects of it ever since. That first step was the purchase of the existing plant, with the avowed intention of making it, in time, a gravity system to supply pure mountain water. The validity of that act has been tried out in the courts and the bonds approved.

The next step was to secure a source of supply for water from the mountains, and, at yesterday election, the proposition to adopt Rich Creek was turned down, because the quality was not considered good enough. The state board of health had declared samples taken from this stream as poor, and the people of Eugene voted it down by 158 majority. It wants the best, and proposes to have it. This one act will do worlds for Eugene. In fact, they have already received great benefits from their determination to have pure mountain water. The moral effect all over the state, and wherever their advertising reaches, is that, by having the best water in the world, is the greatest thing that any town can hope to achieve. Eugene should be congratulated upon her firm determination to have only the best.

NEWS FROM HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE

It is estimated that 50,000 have been drowned by floods in India in the last few days. Nat Goodwin, the actor, was given a divorce in Reno, Nevada, yesterday from Maxine Elliott, after an even 11 minutes of testimony. The Irrigation Congress yesterday endorsed the forest policy of Pinchot and the conservation of resources. Students of the University of Chicago, Ill., were fired upon by the mayor while engaged in hazing and a subsequent riot, which, it is claimed was incited by Congressman Nicholas Longworth, who, in a recent speech to the students, stated he approved of mild forms of hazing. More than 3000 attended the Canby fair yesterday.—Oregon City Day.

JUDGES

states if they are not the questions as to which they are in doubt are to be passed up to the supreme court of the United States.

The attorneys for both the Interstate Commerce Commission and railroad company this afternoon will file with the circuit court a list of questions that they want the United States supreme court to decide.

The effect of the disagreement of the judges of the circuit court is to have the case advanced on the calendar of the supreme court and it is expected that the decision will be announced from Washington in 30 days.

Attorney Peter F. Dunne, for the railroad, made application today to have the enforcement of the new lumber rate established by the commission enjoined until the decision of the upper court shall have been handed down, but this was denied by the circuit court, which held that the disagreement takes the matter out of its hands, and that the Southern Pacific must apply to the supreme court of the United States for an injunction.

The injunction will be asked at once, and if it is not granted the new rate will go into effect October 15, the date set by the commission for the enforcement of the new rate.

Each side must present to the court today the list of the questions for the supreme court. The questions are to be worded in such a way that they can be answered with a simple "yes" or "no." The circuit court will pass upon these questions to make sure that no questions are answered that have already been decided by the circuit court.

TURKEY

Hope of settlement of the dispute by the Bulgarian purchase of the Roumelian section of the Oriental railway has been abandoned. The Austrian directors of the railway have announced that Bulgaria cannot purchase the road without the consent of Turkey.

Meanwhile the Bulgarians hold the Bulgarian section of the railroad, and defy interference.

Spies of the Austrian government are watching the Balkan situation closely.

Austrian agents report from Belgrade daily as to the movements of King Peter of Serbia, who is suspected of being behind the Bulgarian movement, in the interests of a Balkan empire.

STATE NEWS.

Three speakers at the district fair in Pendleton last night were unable to make themselves heard above the din caused by the tremendous crowd present, and were compelled to give up after each had tried for three or four minutes.

G. H. Pierre, of Medford, claims to have struck oil on his place, and, as a result, that town is in the throes of an exciting rush to the district.

As the result of a drunken row, W. H. Adams is in jail, pending the outcome of cutting open the head of E. V. Galloway, a Beaverton farmer. He, on the other hand, had his cheek slashed open with a knife in the hands of Galloway. Both blame the other for the fight.

Who Can Foretell?

And who can foretell what fashions for women are yet to come? At present the tendency is toward as few garments as possible (although this does not in any way diminish the cost of woman's clothes). The lingerie waist has become a mere cobweb; skirts grow more abbreviated ever yday. There is said to be a new silk undershirt which will admit of being drawn through a finger ring. Hosiery is thinnest here, and ladies' shoes are pumps of such narrow margin as to scarce conceal their rosy toes. The oldest inhabitants do say the climate is changing, and that we never have such cold winters as we used to—fifty years ago. Are these things to be taken in conjunction, and are women gradually evolving toward that form of dress which obtained in primitive Eden?—From "Do Women Dress to Please the Men?" by Louise Cass Evans, in the Bohemian for Magazine for October.

HASKELL IS ACCUSED DIRECTLY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 3.—W. L. Sturdevant, of St. Louis, who is prosecuting the townships in Oklahoma, in which Governor C. N. Haskell is a defendant, has written a letter to President Roosevelt, in which he declares that Governor Haskell is charged with direct participation in frauds by which Indians were deprived of their property.

Sturdevant says that, through the influence of Governor Haskell and his attorneys, the trial of the cases has been delayed. The letter states that Attorney Mott, who represents the Creek nation, and Sturdevant have urged the hearing of the cases on their merits. The contents of the letter were made known here today.

BOYS KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Stouffville, S. D., Oct. 3.—At least one and probably three boys were killed when the two powder houses owned by the Larson Hardware Company blew up today three miles from here.

The boys, whose names have not been ascertained, were playing about the powder house when the explosion occurred. The detonation broke windows 20 miles away.

BURNED TO DEATH BY MOLTEN METAL

Chicago, Oct. 3.—One person was killed, two fatally hurt and over a score were burned when a ladle containing tons of molten metal overturned at the shops of the Grand Trunk Company today.

STEAMER IS TOTAL WRECK AT TILLAMOOK

Tillamook, Or., Oct. 3.—The steamer Bandon, loaded with lumber for San Francisco, in passing out of the channel here early today, struck a sandbar, and is now a total wreck on the shore near this city. Captain Reese, it is said, took the wrong course in leaving the channel, and did not discover his mistake until the boat, which was recently launched, struck the bar. The crew was compelled to abandon the ship to save their lives. They all reached shore safely. The action of the waves soon swept the boat from the bar and she drifted ashore, and is now pounding to pieces in the surf.

SHERIFF RIGHT IN HOLDING THAW

Seranton, Pa., Oct. 3.—Sheriff Harry McLean, of Westchester county, New York, was declared not in contempt of court today. The effort to have him so declared was the result of his refusal to recognize a writ ordering that Harry K. Thaw be turned over to the Pittsburg officers, to be taken there in connection with his bankruptcy case. The judge holds that Thaw is not in custody of the sheriff, but of the court, and that therefore the sheriff could not surrender him.

COULD HAVE SAVED 111 WRECK VICTIMS

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—That every one in the ill-fated bark Star of Bengal, which was wrecked off the Alaskan coast, with the loss of 111 lives, September 29, could have been saved if the tow boats Hattie Gage and Kayak had made an effort, is the statement made today by seven survivors of the wreck, who gave their testimony before United States Inspectors of Steam Vessels O. F. Bolles and John K. Bulger.

It is not too late for prairie fires to harvest big crops.

There is still time to do a good deal of 1909 farm work in 1908.

The price of corn don't make much difference if the hogs can be made to pay the price.

Winter wheat went in late, and some not at all, by reason of over-much too little of rain.

Isn't the banker who opposes guarantee deposits making himself liable to suspicion?

A very important thing for farmers to heed: Which is the most economical way to feed?

Careless, wasteful feeding may make fat livestock, and surely makes lean pocketbooks.

At least some of the buyers of Alaska wheat would like to unload their holding at a liberal discount.
