

"THE ROYAL CHEF" HAS MANY GOOD THINGS

HIGH SALARIED ACTORS, EXPENSIVE COSTUME AND SPLENDID SCENERY.

"The Royal Chef" with Wm. H. Conley in the stellar role, will make its appearance in Salem on next Monday night. The list of artists contains the names of numerous people of thorough training, wide experience and reputation and taken as a whole, point to a salary list very expensive including Herbert Carter, Karl Stall, Walter B. Smith, Donald McKinnis, Mary Malatesta, Julia Curtiss, Bly Brown and La Bella Laurette. As for the mounting of the play itself, none but the highest praise can be given. It is said to disclose a fine appreciation of scenic values and an artistic sense of correctness. The entire production throughout was newly built in New York for this season's tour and displays unusual fidelity to artistic standards. The second act, showing the interior of the "Rajah's" palace, gives the appearance of architectural solidity, distance and correct perspective, while the first act is a beautiful and rich picture of Orientalism. Every property down to the smallest detail is in keeping with the surroundings. The play is costumed with remarkable richness and better still, the players know how to wear them. No better example of lighting effects has ever been employed in spectacular production. Ben Jerome, the composer of 30 "song hits" of the piece is a most prolific writer. The humor of this musical pastime is fresh and piquant and never of the cheap species, to which even many well known authors stoop at times. The "Chef's" New York and Chicago record is a guarantee of solid worth and merit.

"HE'S A GAME BIRD BUT HE FLIES FUNNY" used the expression know its source. It is one of the big laughing speeches in "The Man of the Hour," which will be acted here by William A. Brady and Joseph Grismer's special company, made up of well known actors, on next Wednesday night in the Grand opera house.

"Where does the laugh come in?" many will ask who have not seen the play. Where does the laugh come in with any of the best jokes of the ages unless the whole story be told? Nobody will laugh at the sentence "To get to the other side," in the bare form in which it is here given; but preceded by the interrogation, "Why does a chicken cross the road?" that line has created more laughter than any combination of words in the English language. Moral: If you want to get the full measure of laughter from "He's a game bird; but he flies funny," go to the Grand next Wednesday and hear Alderman Jimmy Phelan speak in reply to Mayor Bennett, just before the nifty young man wins back the love of the woman for whose respect and admiration he has done and dare so much.

The man who has written this greatest hit of many theatrical seasons, George Boardhurst, has more real successes to his credit than any other American playwright with the single exception of Clyde Fitch. Thus Mr. Boardhurst is the author of "The Wrong Mr. Wright," "The Speculator," "Nancy Brown," "The Last Chapter," "What Happened to Jones," "Why Smith Left Home," "The Duke of Duluth," and "The Mills of the Gods."

PRICES OF BRAN SOARS HIGH IN AIR

Within the past few days several complaints have been overheard against the flour in this city. It appears as though the bread baked from some of the best brands of flour is of a dark unnatural color and slow to rise. The real cause of this is that the wheat was ground up before it had ample time to go through the natural sweat, and if it does not have the time to do this while yet in the wheat, the flour will sweat in the same manner, which is the direct cause of the present difficulties in baking. The experienced bakers of wheat for milling purposes are always the first on hand at the beginning of the season to start the market moving in order to get their milling stock in the warehouses in time for it to properly age.

The wheat market in this vicinity still holds up steadily, and the crops so far have been marketed in far better season than those of last season. Present indications are that the price will mount higher than the present 80-cent point, the actual export value, but the milling price of 85 cents will no doubt remain as it is for some time to come.

Bran Higher. The same stringency is again appearing in the feed market now that prevailed last year. The present price of bran in 10-ton lots is $29, and shorts on the same figures, $32 per ton. On account of the unreasonable price placed on feed of this kind, several drymen in the valley have been compelled to discontinue operations temporarily. The decreasing demand for flour in the Orient is the cause of this crush in the feed sales. The less the flour demand means the smaller output of feed. The manner in which this predicament was handled by the American miller last season, was to ship the wheat to Japan and China where it was ground unad the feed derived from the grind returned to San Francisco and placed on the market. Notwithstanding the serious circumstances now prevailing, the high flying price is very near its destination.

How to Get Strong. P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. POUR ACID IN MOUTH OF HORSE

The fine big Percheon stallion belonging to Ed. Martin, a farmer residing near Turner, was nearly ruined in Portland immediately after the judging had been completed by the Country club officials and the prize had been awarded him for this class of stock, by an unknown person pouring acid in the animal's mouth. The fluid ate a deep gash in the horse's tongue and made a hole nearly through the jaw. Mr. Martin's horse was also entered in the Oregon state fair here and made a fine showing.

A Paying Investment. Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THE LIBERTY THEATRE

"A Dollar Show for a Dime"

ADDED ATTRACTIONS

Saturday and Sunday the popular Miss Francis Gray will sing "My California Queen." This song was written by Ivan G. Martin, of this city, and depicts Napa Valley, the former home of this popular composer. The pictures illustrating the musical theme are Salem views, and should appeal strongly to the patriotic sentiments of our beautiful city.

THE OLYMPIC RACES and "THE DEVIL."

Will also be presented here Saturday and Sunday. There will be no disappointments this time, as we already have the films in the theatre. "The Devil" is highly colored and is the exact reproduction of the play as presented by Henry W. Savage. We expect to play to record-breaking houses during the run of these special features. Be sure and come.

The MONARCH

Pays for Itself

Why try to "Get Along" Without One?

"She had done her best—A leaky range was to blame." Frequent failures can't be avoided with an ordinary steel range or cook stove.

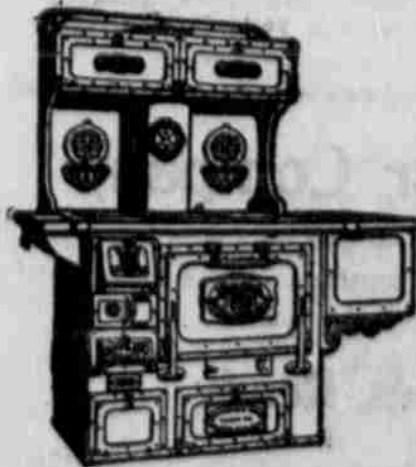

Why put up with such embarrassments and inconveniences? Why not know the delightful satisfaction of always having your work perfectly done—this comes from using the Monarch Range?

You might just as well have one. It will effect a saving in fuel and repair bills that, in a short time will PAY ITS ENTIRE FIRST COST. "It pays for itself." Let us show you how it does it.

It's because of the Monarch's Construction

There is no MYSTERY about this. We can explain it to your entire satisfaction. It's simply that the Monarch is built differently from others.

Unbreakable MALLEABLE Iron is used for those parts that are made of brittle cast iron in all of the common sort of steel ranges. Frames of this material are joined to the steel of the body and oven by cold driven rivets, forming permanently air-tight joints.

Ordinary steel ranges

Actually WASTE fuel. Ordinary ranges which are made of CAST or GREY IRON and sheet steel must be bolted together and calked with stove putty. After a very short time of use these bolts work loose, the putty falls out of the seams and outside air rushes into the flues and the fire-box—through every joint. These "air-leaks" WASTE FUEL—cause slow baking—POOR WORK.

To Users of two to five year old Steel Ranges:

Bear in mind that the Monarch not only pays for itself, but for unlimited years it will do your work with 1-3 to 1-2 less fuel than other ranges used. So it is not economy by any means to continue to use a common range, though it is only a few years old. It's rank extravagance. Make the change NOW.
