

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN COLUMN

Democrat Asks Question of Roosevelt.

Editor Journal: As we have no Democratic paper at Salem I would like the courtesy of asking a few questions through your paper of the great mogul of modern Republicanism. I want to know what has become of the famous Roosevelt policies? What has become of race suicide, and to what extent are his own offspring living up to his policies? When are our children to be forced to go to school with the Japs, that he was advocating so strongly two years ago, and threatening to bring the whole power of the army and navy to bear to carry out that policy? What has become of spelling reform since the supreme court sat down upon that fad of the great Teddy? What went with his glow at the ancient message, "In God We Trust" that he had struck off the country's coinage. That policy he had to back down from. His great policy of condemning men unheard of and finding them guilty before trial, what went with that? A jury of just as good men as Teddy dismissed that feature of his policy. Where does he find any authority in American law or principle for his famous declaration "You are a liar?" On top of that what to think of the policy, "Bill Taft or No One?" And on top of it all, what do you think of the policy that runs our country in debt a billion dollars?

A HICKORY DEMOCRAT.

the policies which they advocate.

There are two great party organizations in the United States, one 50 years old, and the other more than a century old. The Republican party has been in power almost uninterruptedly for more than half a century and under its reign abuses have grown up which threaten the perpetuity of the government and endanger our civilization. So great are these abuses that Republican reformers are now pointing out that something must be done—and what can be done? The first thing is to undo the things that have been done, and the party to undo these abuses is not the party which has done them, but the party which has protested against these abuses and pointed out remedies.

The Republican party has turned the taxing power over to private individuals; it has allowed monopolies to grow up and assume control of the industries of the country by granting privileges by law and by giving immunity to the large violators of the law; the Republican party has permitted the fortunes of the predatory rich to become so large that government is corrupted, politics debauched and business polluted.

The Democratic party proposes to withdraw the taxing power from private hands, to so legislate as to make a private monopoly impossible, and to enforce the law without discrimination. It proposes to protect legitimate wealth and punish those who

There are always two parties in the country, and one is necessarily nearer to the people than the other. In this country the Democratic party is nearer to the people than the Republican party. Its leaders have more faith in the people and are more anxious to keep the government under the control of the people. Take the election of United States senators by the people as a test. The Democrats want to give to the voters a chance to elect and to control their representatives in the United States senate. The Democratic party in the house of representatives passed the first resolution for the submission of the necessary constitutional amendment. They did this eight years before any Republican congress did it. The Democratic party has thrice demanded this reform in its national platform. The Republican party has not done so. Why do Democratic leaders insist upon this reform and Republican leaders oppose it? There can be but one answer—the Democratic party is nearer to the people than the Republican party. Young men, will you stand with the people or against them?

The answer to this question affects your country. If you are with the people your influence, be it great or small, will hasten their victory. If you are against the people your influence may retard that victory. But while in the first instance it is your country that may gain or lose by

AN EMBARRASSING QUESTION.

—Macaulay in New York World.

THE FIRST VOTER
(From W. J. Bryan's Commoner.)
Young man, great responsibility attaches to your first vote. As you begin, so you are likely to continue. The momentum that carries you into a party at the beginning of your political life is apt to keep you in that party unless some convulsion shakes you out of it. Start right, and in order that you may start right, examine the principles of the parties and attempt to plunder the public for private gain. On which side do you stand, young man? Are you with the masses in their effort to restore the government to its old foundation and make it a government of the people, for the people and by the people, or are you with the Republican leaders in their effort to perpetuate the party in power by selling immunity in return for campaign contributions?

your action, you must remember that in the long run your own position in politics will depend upon your conduct. You can not fool the people always. You may lead them astray if you dare, but they will punish you when they find you out. You may work for the people without their recognizing it at first, but you can trust them to discover the character of your work and to reward you accordingly.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; else causes out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

WESTERN PLAY AT THE GRAND
"The Rocky Mountain Express" is the title of one of the newest big melodramas of the year. As a massive scenic play it is spoken of as entirely out of the time beaten path of the olden times railroad dramas. The story is an enlivened western tale, and in lieu of numerous played out ideas, is built upon thrilling incidents and happenings in and about the famous "Rockies." There are 16 completed scenic mountains superbly painted, and the mechanical schemes do not resemble any formerly used by previous so-called productions. "The Rocky Mountain Express" will be the offering at the Grand opera house tonight.
