

DRAMATIC AND SOCIAL EVENTS

SALEM SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

By MISS MOLLIE RUNCORN, Phone 1534

Halloween week has come to a lively close. Beginning with a dance at the armory, Tuesday night, festivities will terminate with a party at the high school tonight.

The dance at the auditorium last night, and the reception at the high school will probably have been the two largest affairs of the week, in both of which the Halloween spirit predominated.

Hallowe'en Party.
The young ladies of Lausanne hall entertained their gentlemen friends at an Hallowe'en party on Friday night. Numerous games were enjoyed, among them being a "String Game," in which each of the gentlemen was given the end of a cardinal string, and the girls old-gold—the University colors. These were wound around pieces of furniture, and tangled, and on the end of each was a folded paper, which at a given signal were opened, and on them were written a "stunt" which each must perform. During the evening the lights were turned low, and ghost and other stories told. A four-course supper was served in the dining room which was decorated with autumn leaves, ivy and flowers. The place cards were hand-painted caissons. The decorations of the parlors tended toward Hallowe'en time, Jack 'Lanterns, autumn leaves and pennants furnishing excellent material.

Card and Dancing Party.
Mrs. Harry Alberts, Mrs. George F. Rodgers and Mrs. C. L. McNary were hostesses at a delightful card and dancing party at the Auditorium last night. The decorations suggested the Hallowe'en time, Jack o' lanterns, flags, autumn leaves, ivy and evergreens being used. Cozy corners were also arranged around the hall. Six card tables were used. An excellent musical program was furnished by McElroy's orchestra. Master Breyta Boise and Miss Margaret Rodgers attended the door. The gowns worn by the ladies were exceptionally handsome.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Elgin celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home in South Salem last Wednesday. It was in the nature of a family reunion, as only the members were present. At 5 o'clock an enjoyable dinner was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moores, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Elgin and children, of Salem; Mrs. Hewitt, of Albany, and Miss Emma Elgin, of Siletz. Members who were unable to attend were: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Chipman, of Portland; George and Harry Elgin and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elgin, all of Siletz.

Montgomery-Fawk.
One of the largest and prettiest weddings of the week in Portland was celebrated Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Central Baptist church, when Miss Edna Montgomery, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Herbert W. Fawk, of Portland. Rev. W. T. Jordan read the service in the presence of about 200 guests.

The church was effectively decorated with roses, chrysanthemums and smilax. Garlands of these were arranged along the chancel rail, back of the altar and in other available places.

and was secured with lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Agnes Heitkemper, wore a corn-colored taffeta costume and carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Myrtle Montgomery, as bridesmaid, wore a handsome princess gown of light blue silk organizes over blue silk. She also carried white chrysanthemums.

The bridal party met the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. David Richards, at the altar, and as they were leaving the little flower girl strewed flowers before them.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors, with only relatives and intimate friends as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Fawk will be at home to friends after December 15, at 180 Grand Avenue, Portland.

The bride, a pretty girl, is the oldest daughter of Mrs. C. W. Simon, of this city, and is popular with a large list of friends, both here and in Portland. Mr. Fawk is salesman with the Eggert & Young Shoe Co., Portland, and is also well-known and popular in Salem, where he formerly resided.

Byars-Glover.
Easily the prettiest function of the week was the marriage of Miss Vera Mary Byars and Mr. Ronald C. Glover, Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, 635 N. Commercial street.

The decorations of the different rooms were exceptionally pretty. In the living room where the ceremony was performed the color scheme of white and green was artistically carried out with chrysanthemums, roses, ivy and ferns. In one corner a bower was formed of ivy, from the edge of which hung strands of the ivy, and streamers of white ribbon, on the ends of which were tied white carnations. The background was of ferns. A large lovers-knot of white maline completed the decorations of this corner. The parlor was pretty with pink roses and ivy. Ivy was also used in the hallway and quantities of it was banked along the stairway. Red and green were the colors used in the dining room. Candles, autumn leaves, carnations and ivy being used.

Just before the ceremony Miss Louise Thompson sang "Oh Promise Me." She was deftly costumed in yellow silk and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

At 7 o'clock Miss Elva Winslow played the wedding march from Lohengrin. The bridal party composed of Misses Zoa Stockton, Cora Talkington, Emma Wright, Olive Redell, August Booth, Ione Fisher, all gowned in pink and blue entered first. Next came the two bridesmaids, Miss Anna Wharton, of Roseburg, and Mrs. Rhoda Gesner. They wore gowns alike of lavender eliacia cloth over lavender silk, and carried arm bouquets of lavender chrysanthemums. Preceding the bride came her niece little Miss Vera Wright, wearing pink and carrying the ring in a large pink rose on a silver tray.

The bride made a lovely picture in a gown of white lace, made upon princess lines, over chiffon and taffeta, and trimmed with folds of white satin. Her veil was held by her engagement ring and was caught to her shoulders by tiny white rosebuds. Her bouquet was of bride's roses.

The groom and his best man, Mr. Ralph Glover, met the bridal party under the large bower, where Rev. W. H. Sellock performed the ceremony before about seventy-five guests, including many from out of town.

After the ceremony Miss Thompson served punch and Miss Gesner coffee in the dining room to the wedding party. Afterwards Miss Cora Talkington served punch and Miss Zoa Stockton coffee to the guests.

Mrs. Glover is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Byars, and is one of the Capital City's most popular and accomplished young women. She is a graduate of Willamette University, also of the college of oratory of the 'varsity under Dean Savage, and received a diploma from the Northwestern Normal College of Music under Dr. Z. M. Parvin. Mr. Glover is a graduate of the university law department, and was appointed private secretary to Congressman Hawley about a year ago.

Armory Dancing Party.

Miss Marguerite Wilson, a Salem Society Girl, Who Will Be Married December 2d.

The second of a series of dancing parties to be given this winter by Mr. A. L. Wallace and Mr. A. H. Gille took place at the Armory Tuesday night. Over seventy-five couples of select young people attended including a number of out of town people. The program contained twenty numbers and two extras. The music was furnished in an excellent manner by the Peerless orchestra. A new dance the "Five-step" was introduced with great success, and will probably be a popular number on dancing programs here this winter. The third dance of these series is scheduled to take place at the Armory in about two weeks.

Engagement of Former Salem Girl.
The engagement has been announced of Miss Gertrude Corina Riley to William Christopher Barker the wedding to take place November 15. The wedding tour will include several months in Europe, where they will motor on the continent.

The above appeared in last Sunday's Oregonian. Miss Riley resided in Salem with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Riley, a number of years ago, and is well known here.

Dance at Asylum.
The regular monthly employees' special dance was given at the asylum Thursday night. The hall was decorated with ferns, roses and chrysanthemums. The asylum orchestra furnished the musical program. The guests numbered about 50, mostly town people. Mrs. Philip Metchan, who is visiting Mrs. Dr. Griffith, was a Portland guest.

Reception at Kimball College.
Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, of the Miss Dean Taylor, in "The Flaming Arrow," Monday, November 2.

theological college, received the students and professors and their wives at the college Wednesday evening. Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Rader, of Portland, and Pres. and Mrs. Homan, of Willamette University, were especially honored guests. Dr. Rader, who is editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, delivered an address. A social hour followed. The reception is given at the beginning of each year to enable the students to become better acquainted with one another and with the professors.

A very pleasant evening was spent in St. Joseph's hall Thursday in the form of a Hallowe'en party given

MUSICAL COMEDY COMING

Grand Opera House Monday, November 9th.

Mr. James J. Corbett, who has scored a pronounced hit in farce comedy this season will be the attraction at the Grand opera house, Monday, Nov. 9, in "Facing the Music." Corbett is a good actor and a natural comedian and his delineation of John Smith in James Henry Darnley's refreshing comedy is said to be a delightful piece of work, and a pleasant surprise to his many admirers.

This season Mr. Corbett comes to us under the management of H. H. Frazee, who has surrounded his handsome star with an excellent company and a superb scenic equipment. The play is a bright, absorbing comedy, fairly flashing with an unbroken series of laughable situations.

It was originally produced in New York at the Madison Square theater with Mr. Henry E. Dixey as "John Smith" and subsequently disclosed at Powers theater, Chicago, where it ran all summer.

WEBER AND FIELD MUSICAL COMEDY

Rice and Cady are regarded by theatergoers throughout the United States as the natural successors to Weber and Field in the delightful German dialect comedy. They will appear in "Hip Hop Hooray" at the Grand opera house on Thursday, Nov. 5. This piece comes direct from Weber's music hall on Broadway after an entire season of success in New York. Rice and Cady, as a German promoter of "Excited Outs," a new breakfast food, and as a capitalist reluctant to invest his money, go to Doolittle University to see their sons on the great day of a boat race. A comic opera company is in town at the same time. There are some interesting townspeople, and boys and girls, German comedians, widows and the like become involved in episodes which are delightfully funny. The production comes intact from New York and is the most expensive ever staged by Jos. Weber. The girls are the pick of the famous Weber choruses.

Little Johnny Jones.

"Little Johnny Jones" the musical play by Geo. M. Cohan which is booked for an early performance in this city is described as one of the fastest and swiftest comedies ever set to music by this distinguished young author. It is so different from the majority of its kind and so original in its construction that all New York last season poured en masse to see it. Its phenomenal run in that city for twenty-six weeks and all summer in Chicago, has given it great prestige. Our theatergoers have been talking of no other show for weeks which augurs well for a crowded house when "Little Johnny" comes to this city.

ENJOYED THE JEFFERSONS.

Mrs. Malaprop and all the company were enjoyed by a Salem audience last night at the Grand opera house. The two Jeffersons as Lucius O'Trigger and Bob acres were at their best and their entire support was first-class. No play in recent years has been put on with the perfect detail of "The Rivals" at their hands. The audience was keenly alert to Mrs. Malaprop's murder onslaught on English.

The beefy English lover Sir Anthony Absolute was the delight of the audience, and so was his temperate parent. The people of Salem are to be congratulated on having the opera house and its splendid culture.

INDIAN DRAMA MONDAY NIGHT

A realistic picture of life in the far west will be the offering at the Grand opera house under the title of "The Flaming Arrow." The play is not, as might naturally be expected, a blood and thunder production, abounding in gun shots and other hair raising episodes, unpleasant to the audience, but is a picture of life on the frontier in one of the famous government posts. It tells a beautiful love story replete with thrilling scenes, and its characters are all taken from living prototypes, true in character and costume. As "The Old Homestead" is the typical play of the east, so is "The Flaming Arrow" the far west. Lincoln J. Carter, the author and producer and critic unanimously concede it to be his best production. To add local color and realism a tribe of real Indians is carried, also several ex-United States soldiers, cowboys and brass band which will give a band concert before the performance.

Would Mortgage the Farm.
A farmer on Rural Route 1, Empire Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured two worst sores I ever saw, one on a hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold.
