BRYAN IS RECEIVED IN KANSAS

Leavenworth, Kans., Nov. 2.—Denouncing Taft in strongest terms and declaring that Rockefeller's declaration for Taft has thrown the Republicans into a hopeless muddle, William J. Bryan invaded Kansas today in a rousing final tour.

Bryan said that the claim that John Mitchell, James Duncan and Max Morris, labor leaders, were supporting Taft was the result of hysterical efforts to overcome the odium of the Rockefeller declaration.

The Commoner read telegrams from Mitchell, Duncan and Morris, in which they denied positively that they were supporting Taft and said they upheld Samuel Gompers in his stand for Bryan.

Everywhere along the tour, the Nebraskan is being greeted by big crowds and is being cheered as "President Bryan."

This final days of the campaign has been replete with pleasant incidents and everywhere the cheers have had the ring of success. The crowds have been the most enthusiastic seen during the whole campaign and the towns are turning out almost their entire populations.

Bryan is confident that he has won the battle. The great campaigner is in finer condition now than he was at the close of his previous campaigns, though he has never had a harder or more fatiguing campaign trip. He greeted the crowds here with his happy smile and they almost carried him off his feet.

In reference to the Rockefeller incident, in one of his speeches today Bryan said:

"I pity the sorrows of the Republican candidate. Rockefeller comes out for him and he denies that Rockefeller is supporting him.

"But Rockefeller has been for Taft all the time.

"The press dispatches say that early last July, John D. Archbold, the ready writer of the Standard Oil company, visited President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and in New York.

"The New York World this morning prints a fac-simile of a letter sent out by the Standard in New York, urging its employes to march in the so-called prosperity parade of the Republicans."

Bryan's denunciation of Rockefeller and his assertion that the Standard is a league with the Republicans evidently made a strong impression.

MONSTER RECEPTION FOR BRYAN AT LINCOLN

Kansas City, Kansas, Nov. 2.—Bryan left here this morning for a tour through northern Kansas to make his final speeches of the campaign before reaching Lincoln, Nebraska, tonight where a rousing welcome has been planned.

A monster parade has been planned for Bryan's homecoming to Lincoln. The entire town will turn out to do honor to its candidate for President.

Bryan started his campaign in Kansas with all the snap he has exhibited throughout the whole campaign. His voice is unimpaired and he speaks as vigorously as he did the first day.

At every stop today Bryan continued his attack on the Republican party because of Rockefeller's endorsement of Taft. He denounced President Roosevelt's statement that the Rockefeller endorsement was a campaign trick of the Democrats as a campaign document and declared that it is weak on its face.

The Democratic candidate is being welcomed by immense crowds at every stop here.

His contemplated trip to Omaha was cancelled to allow the trip through Kansas. Bryan will rest at Fairview tomorrow where he will receive election returns.

"I believe that we will have votes to spare in the electoral college and a considerable majority of the popular vote," said Bryan today in summing up the campaign. "The Republicans will have an unpleasant surprise awaiting them on the day after election. I think that we will carry Illinois."

Mrs. Bryan left the candidate's special at Chicago last night to return to Lincoln where she will prepare for her husband's homecoming.

CAMPAIGN COST MILLION AND A HALF

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The Republicans spent nearly a million dollars and the Democrats spent half a million in the campaign, according to statements given out at the national headquarters here today.

The Republicans announced that the party leaders in the western division collected $350,000, and that the eastern division contributed the rest of the million.

The Republican officials announced that the average contributions were about $5.

The headquarters of the two parties here today are almost deserted, and those who remained in the offices are preparing to leave. It is probable that the offices will be vacated by tonight.

Both sides are confident, and at both headquarters there was an air of satisfaction in the successful accomplishment of things undertaken.

CONDUCTOR UNKNOWINGLY MARRIES AN HEIRESS

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Charles O'Connell, who was married today to Miss Clara M. Schmitter by Justice Flood, has discovered he unsuspectingly wooed and won the heiress to a vast estate in Germany.

O'Connell met his bride while he was a streetcar conductor employed in this city. It was love at first sight, but the woman did not enlighten the young man regarding her possessions.

It was not until after the wedding that she informed her husband of his good fortune.

Mrs. O'Connell, who was recently divorced from Eric von Scherf, is the daughter of a German countess who died leaving her a large estate in trust. The estate is being administered by sisters of the countess.

TAFT REFERS TO BRYAN'S TRUFF BUSTING IDEAS

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—Taft at the armory denounced Bryan's plan for the "destruction of the trusts" and said that it would be better to make them obey the laws and regulate them than to destroy them and throw men out of work. He referred to the effort of Samuel Gompers to "deliver the labor vote to Bryan" and asserted that Gompers had no right to deliver that which he did not possess. He mentioned the labor legislation enacted by the Republican party. Taft said if he is elected the bitter attacks made upon him by Gompers and other labor leaders would not deprive him of his interest in labor's cause.

He was given an ovation. The cheers continued for six minutes. Mrs. Taft who appeared on the platform with him was greeted by a big round of applause.

MORSE ESCAPES ANOTHER COUNT

New York, Nov. 2.—The count in the indictment against Charles W. Morse, the ice king, and Alfred H. Curtis, former president of the Bank of North America in relation to the $100,000 note given Calvin Austin, was stricken out by the court today.

The count was quashed on the ground that the Bank of North America was not injured by any appropriation that may have taken place in connection with the note.

JONES WOULD GO BACK IN MAIL CAR

North Yakima, Wash., Nov. 2.—Wesley L. Jones has proposed to make the return trip to Washington, D. C., at the opening of congress in a mail car, according to a statement made to mail clerks at a recent banquet in Spokane. Mr. Jones is congressman from Washington.

Congressman Jones says that he has always wanted to know just how the mail was handled and thinks he would be better equipped to consider legislation affecting the mail-service if he understood the system from practical acquaintance with its workings.

FAILED TO REGISTER LONG TRIP WAS IN VAIN

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 2.—After traveling thousands of miles from his post in South America to his home in this city to vote and meeting with disappointment because of failure to register, Irving Dudley, American minister to Brazil, today solved the problem which confronted him upon his arrival here. George M. McKenzie, a prominent Democrat came to the rescue of the disappointed diplomat and agreed to remain away from the poll; tomorrow plaining his vote with that of Dudley.
