reaching the Capital City of Oregon. Two views of the whole fleet are given—one of the ships lying in King George's Sound and the other of the fleet in mid-ocean. As illustrative of Australian love for sports, a large part of the paper is given up to reports of races and sporting events. The Times is a very strong paper editorially, and has large space devoted to home, social, farming and literary matters. It must be a great satisfaction to the people of Perth to have such a lively journal published in their community.
