BALLOONISTS PLAN TO FLY FROM LOS ANGELES TO NEW YORK

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—Preparations for the trans-continental balloon race, which starts here Sunday, November 15, are progressing rapidly today, and the big gas bag of the "United States" is already partially inflated. Captain A. Muller and Horace Wilde, pilots of the balloon "United States" and "America," are inspecting their craft, and Dick Ferris, manager of the race, is making arrangements to carry California advertising matter as ballast.

After careful study of the wind charts the aeronautists believe the route that the balloons most probably would be forced to take would be from Los Angeles to San Bernardino near which place they will cross the San Gabriel and Sierra Madre ranges into the southern Mojave district. After reaching a point somewhere above Yuma the aviators expect the gas bags to sail eastward across Arizona, New Mexico, Northern Texas and Indian Territory. Reaching Tennessee, they expect the balloons will cross the mountains, in a northwesterly direction, and alight in New York.

While aviators are doubtful about the probability of reaching New York, Manager Ferris and his pilots declare it is possible, and that they will not be content unless they at least break all records of aerial navigation.

WATERSON SHEDS THE BRINEY

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—Reviewing the presidential election Colonel Henry Waterson, in the Courier-Journal, today said:
"The result of Tuesday's election shows conclusively that a great majority of the people of the controlling section of the Union are well content with things as they are that it is better to endure the conceded shortcomings of the party in power than embark upon an unknown sea of continuous agitation."
"As in the last century it was liberty reaching out after institutional freedom—and measurably attaining it—it is now materialism reaching out after markets. The average voter of better education and intelligence takes no thought of the hereafter, and is even more indifferent to the hereafter. He is completely engrossed by the present. That which Bacon calls 'the wisdom of our ancestors' makes as little appeal to his reverence or reason as that which Burns calls 'light from heaven' makes to his imagination. He would not exchange the current crop reports, with a rising price list for all the books that were ever written upon political economy."
"The result shows that we oversized the spiritual and undersized the material in the hearts and minds of the people. They were deaf alike to precedents, to reason and to eloquence for nothing could surpass, as nothing has ever equalled the personal canvass of Mr. Bryan its wondrous lucidity and power of statement its splendid intellectual and physical endurance; its unanswerable argument. Nor did Ignatius of Loyola sweep through a world of incarnate evil bearing the cross of Jesus to triumph with greater force of inspiration and ruth than did the heroic son of Nebraska traverse a land gaping with curiosity but too busy over its work and play to consider any danger to the immortal soul of its constitutional fabric."
"There is something in it better than being president of the United States, and that is the real sense of duty done. Tilden will live in history when Hayes is forgotten or exorated. History will say of Bryan that in three great popular movements, clouded sometimes by errors of judgment and obstructed always by corruption—as we now know by insurmountable corruption—he led sublimely, that he set before his countrymen the standards alike of God and truth; and that he went down beaten with clean hands and high repute carrying with him the homage of patriotic men."

FOURTEEN KILLED

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—After the drawing of 20 panels, and the examination of 1400 veniremen, the jury to try Abe Ruef, on the charge of offering a bribe to Supervisor J. J. Parey, to secure his vote on a trolley ordinance, was completed today.

The 12 men who will hear the evidence against the ex-political boss are: John Anderson, builder; William S. Harrison, merchant; Timothy Sullivan, contractor; John Buntlefer, butcher; Alexander Bond, real estate; Charles A. Koller, retired; William J. O'Leary, retired; Dennis Murphy, retired; George M. Shilling, manufacturer; Joseph O'Brien, real estate; James McNamara, retired; William Oakley, contractor.

The last two have been accepted temporarily, subject to peremptory challenge. McNamara, however, was passed by both sides, and Oakley has been passed by the defense. He was passed preliminarily by the prosecution, and it is not likely that he will be challenged peremptorily today.

NEW FIRM TAKES THE CAPITAL BAKERY

Newkirk Bros. is the name of the new firm that has today taken possession of the Capital Bakery, that went into the hands of R. E. Downing, as receiver, when the late manager, Mr. Ullum, failed. These young men will put the well-known bread factory into up-to-date fix and proceed to build up their trade along progressive lines based upon merit.

COKE COMPANIES BEGIN RUNNING FULBlast

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 5.—Superintendent Kneigley Oliver, of the Snyder Coke Plant today was instructed to begin work on the construction of 1000 ovens. The instructions demand that every oven shall be ready for use by December 1. Similar orders have been given by other companies.

ICE KING

jurymen retired for further consideration.

New York, Nov. 5.—Breaking the resprve of weeks and overcoming an apparent enmity, fright and suspense today brought together Mrs. Charles W. Morse, wife of the ice king, and Mrs. Alfred H. Curtis, wife of the Bank of North America. The two women sat through the long days of the trial without exchanging the least sign of recognition. The climax came with a dramatic scene that followed the retirement of the jury again after the foreman had asked the court for further instructions.

Mrs. Curtis, who has been called the heroine of the trial, was unable to withstand the strain under which she had waited for 12 hours, as the jurors debated the fate of her husband and that of Morse, who were tried together on the charge of violating the banking laws.

As the door closed behind the jury, Mrs. Curtis broke down completely and wept. Mrs. Morse, who has shown greater strength and power to withstand the suspense, was so affected by the condition of Mrs. Curtis, that she arose and went to her side.

Through her tears, Mrs. Curtis looked up at Mrs. Morse, saw her expression and extended her arms. The women embraced each other, sobbing.

Mrs. Morse then placed her arm about Mrs. Curtis, and led her from the court-room.

To those who have seen the attitude and dislike of the two women throughout the trial were greatly affected by the dramatic reconciliation.

The hatred between the two women was increased during the trial by the efforts of each financier to throw the blame for all wrong doing upon the other but when the husbands overcame their differences the last week, the wives remained more frigid than ever, until the scene today.

TAFT ADDRESSES WOMEN'S SOCIETY

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 5.—President-elect Taft made an address today before the Women's Missionary Society at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. His address was in commendation of the work being done by women in missions. His voice has somewhat recovered from the strain of the campaign, though his address today was very different from the speeches of the last few weeks.

Bishop Hartsell introduced Taft as "President," but he denied the title, saying that there is a man still at Washington fully equipped to serve in that capacity, who will be President until March 4.

Taft declared that he spoke as one interested deeply in the government of dependencies, and asserted that he knows that Christianity is indispensable to the development of the world.

He said that the subject of the development of China is one of great moment to the entire world.

The president-elect and Mrs. Taft will leave tomorrow for Hot Springs, Va., where he will remain for some time.

STOCK MARKET AGAIN SETS NEW RECORD

New York, Nov. 5.—The stock market opened strong, and within a few minutes after the first hour Union Pacific, S. P., the steels and other issues had again hurdled their former high records, and set new marks. The threshold rumor of an extra "hill disbursement" was again trotted out. Northern Pacific quickly gaining two points, and as rapidly losing it. Later in the day profit-taking caused a reaction to the extent of one and two points. The decline, however, was not marked by any disorder. Liquidation was heavy, but absorption was prompt and uniform. The close was weak. Union closed 175 1/2; Southern, 119 1/2; Northern Pacific, 148 1/2; St. Paul, 144 1/2; Reading, 135 1/2; copper, 83 1/2 smelter, 85; Erie, 31 1/2.

SEARCHING COURTY FOR MISSING FATHER

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—Efforts to find his father, James D. Nile, who disappeared from the family home in Chicago, Illinois, nearly three years ago, are being made today by Fred Nile, who is now in Los Angeles. Nile left his home early one morning. He bade his wife and son good bye, intending, as he said, to pass the remainder of the day at his office on North State street. Since that time his family have never heard from him.

BIG DREDGING PROJECT WILL PROBABLY CARRY

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—The vote on the act to dredge India basin, the bonds, interest and sinking fund to be a tax on the state harbor property of San Francisco, is still in doubt. The vote against the measure in Alameda, Los Angeles, Santa Clara and San Joaquin counties was unexpectedly large but the vote in favor of the amendment in San Francisco also was extraordinarily heavy.

Scattering returns from the interior of the state where the official count has just begun, indicates that many counties cast a heavy vote against the measure and others a substantial majority in its favor. The act seems to have a slight majority and may be carried.

HELPED WOMAN ROB AND CHLOROFORM HUSBAND

Oakland Cal., Nov. 5.—R. C. Blake stepson of Michael Hallihan, a San Francisco politician, is in the city prison here today as the result of the confession of Mrs. C. R. Bright, that he aided her to chloroform and rob her husband.

According to Mrs. Bright, she became enamored of Blake, that she fell in with his suggestion that she should chloroform her husband and rob him after retiring for the night. This was done, and she says Blake secured $175.

Later she learned that Blake had caused an estrangement between herself and her husband, by carrying concocted tales to each regarding the

TAFT HAS CARRIED MISSOURI

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—Practically complete returns from the state today assure the re-election of Governor Fred M. Warner, Republican, by a plurality of 10,000.

Los Angeles Fight.
Los Angeles Cal., Nov. 5.—Jim Berry is a favorite at 10 to 9 today over Jim Flynn in their fight tonight at the Pacific Athletic club at Naut Junction.

The fight will be a ten-round no decision bout and promises to be interesting. The heavyweights have a "grudge" to settle, following their meeting at Denver, and have trained longer and harder than any other two fighters who have conditioned themselves here this season with the possible exception of Papke and Ketchel.

Tommy Casfield is in Portland visiting with friends for a few days.
