HILL FIGHTIN GAGAINST TACOMA TO HELP HER

Tacoma, Nov. 10.—The mercantile organizations of this city renewed their efforts today to overcome the opposition displayed in the city council to allowing the Great Northern railway to enter Tacoma. James J. Hill announced yesterday that the Great Northern is ready and willing to enter Tacoma and will aid in the building of a grand central depot to equal any in the west.

The proposition of the Great Northern is to come from Seattle over the Northern Pacific double tracks, and build modern yards and freight houses on land purchased from the Northern Pacific road.

The Northern Pacific, also a Hill railroad, has offered to build a great modern depot and to give the city valuable concessions in exchange for the use of two streets abutting its tracks.

The city council has not yet accepted the proposition.

TROUBLE IN RUSSIA

OVER EJECTION OF CO-EDS
Copenhagen, Nov. 10.—A bitter quarrel, involving the very existence of the universities of Russia, has resulted from the action of the Minister of Public Instruction M. Schwarz, in discharging the "liberal" professors of the universities, according to advices received here today.

Through the imperial ukase of 1905, the universities became self-governing bodies with a board of directors comprising the professors of the institutions. Policies thereby became secondary.

Recently a change in the government placed M. Schwarz in the chair. His first act was to discharge the Liberals and to forbid women students to enter the universities. The immediate result was a revolt of the students who withdrew in great numbers.

It is believed that the fight can only end in the extermination of the universities or an order from the czar restoring the old order.

CONTRACTS MADE WITH 6510 PLAYERS IN YEAR

Chicago, Ills., Nov. 10.—Secretary J. H. Farrell, of the National association of Professional Baseball leagues submitted his annual report to the national meeting which is in session here today, showing that 37 leagues, embracing 238 cities now are included in the associations.

The report shows that contracts were made during the year with 6510 players; 415 players were suspended; 43 players were drafted by the National league; 67 were drafted by the American league; 52 were drafted by Class A leagues, which included the American association, Coast league, the Western league and the Southern league.

The total amount negotiated through the secretary for drafted players was $103,650. The amount paid on optional agreements was $40,800.

JUDGE MOORES HOLDS USUAL MORNING COMMUNION

Four more liberal partakers of joy water answered to the roll call of Judge Moores this morning, and were all given the least time in which to get to work or leave the city.

G. Fleming apparently drew the short straw and the Judge ordered him back to the comfortable city prison to meditate what his first move will be when he again gets his freedom. John Piper, just lately from a long cruise on the Pacific, according to his statements, was arrested last night on the charge of doing the "slip-me-something" act, and was politely ordered out of town. B. Piper and A. A. Moore, who were also put out of harm's way by the police in an intoxicated condition, were given permission by Judge Moore to scout about awhile in search of work. These two men were hardly of the common floating stock, both being shinglers by trade.

BLANKET ONLY COVERING FOR ELOPING GIRL

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Santa Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 10.—Wrapped in a blanket, her only garment, Jaunita Puente, a pretty little 14-year-old Mexican girl is today fleeing over the hills with her lover, Rafael Munro, a man 30 years of age, and there is little hope of the trappers, sent out by the maiden's irate father overtaking the pair.

Munro had lived in the Puente household at Colton. His infatuation for the young daughter of the household brought protest from her parents. They ordered him from the house and took their child to the raisin drying colony at Etiwanda.

Munro learned of their whereabouts and early Sunday stole into the little town and intuitively found the house in which the Puente family had sought shelter.

When the sun rose the disappearance of the girl was discovered. All her garments were as she left them on a retreating night before, but a blanket was missing from the bed.

The girl's father notified the authorities and swore that his child had been kidnaped. Relatives and friends of the pair, who sympathized with them declare that it was simply an elopement and that by this time the lovers are well on their way across the hills toward Mexico.

POSTMASTER OF SEATTLE OUSTED

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, Nov. 10. The president today removed George M. Stewart of Seattle on charges of soliciting campaign contributions from employees.

Seattle, Nov. 10.—Washington advices today state that President Roosevelt has ousted Postmaster Stewart, of Seattle, from office, and supposed to be the result of affidavits which were filed several weeks ago with the United States civil commission at Washington city charging postmaster George M. Stewart with having solicited money in 1904 from employees of the local postoffice for a campaign fund.

SWIMMING TANK ALL TO SHOW FOR $150,000

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Members of the Olympia club today are offering personal bonds to meet the suit of Henry A. Schulze, an architect, who yesterday attached the expensive foundations of a new club house to be erected by the athletic organization. The board of directors accepted the personal financial aid offered and will be joined by 60 members each bonded in $1000 to meet architects demands for $33,229.40.

The architect declares that the money is due him for plans of a club house built by the Olympians. The board of directors assert that the club house never will be built from the plans submitted. Experts in architecture will be called by both sides in support of their claims and the case promises to become famous in the history of building design and construction in this city.

A member of the club in referring to the suit said that after the fire the club had $150,000 from insurance. Schulze was asked to plan and construct a new club house. The $150,000 quickly went, according to the clubman, and all that the Olympians have to show is the massive foundation which contains the swimming tank.

OFFER $5000 FOR A REAL MEDIUM.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Nov. 10.—Any "little bright-eyes" or "Indian maidens" who can materialize real palpating, table-rapping, ghostly-voiced spirits to the satisfaction of the Metropolitan Psychological society, can easily obtain $5000 which today is in the custody of the treasurer awaiting a claimant.

The announcement of the society that the sum would be given to a bona-fide medium, who could work with all the gas jets turned up and answer questions concerning departed friends without the aid of a confederate, brought fifty applicants in a hurry.

All failed at the first test. E. Z. Kellogg, the official medium examiner of the society tried them with a simple test which none was able to solve. He placed a piece of paper with a few lines written upon it, near $100 and offered each medium the sum if they could read the note.

None of the mediums' spooky friends came to their aid. Several other tests were applied, and four mediums were able to give indications that they might fulfil the conditions in an open competition which will be conducted later.

MULE KICKS LITTLE BOY TO DEATH

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Walla Walla, Nov. 10.—After being eye witnesses to the death of their four-year-old son Glen, who was literally kicked to a pulp by a mule, Charles Jones and his wife are today at their home in a state of prostration.

Jones yesterday turned a team of mules loose in the back yard and the little boy entered by a side gate unnoticed by the father and mother. One of the mules immediately started for the little fellow, and, wheeling, kicked him down. Just then the parents, hearing the thud of the kick, turned and started to prevent the animal from doing further damage, but before they could reach the spot the mule had stamped the body horribly, death being almost instantaneous.
