PROHIBITION BILL PASSES COMMONS BUT WILL BE KILLED BY LORDS

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Nov. 27.—After months of half-hearted support by the House of Commons, the famous "Prohibition Bill" has passed the lower house and gone up to the lords, who are expected to kill it. The bill, which would prohibit the sale of liquor, has passed the House of Commons by a vote of 167 to 127. The bill is expected to be rejected by the House of Lords. STEAMER "NORHLAND" GOES ASHORE IN FOG

(United Press Leased Wire.) Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 27.—The steamer Northland went ashore at Enterprise Rock, near Plumbers Pass in a fog this morning. lamette by Exalted Ruler Harry E. Albert and the past-exalted rulers of Salem and Albany lodges. The dinner was served in the reception room adjoining the large dining room of the Willamette and the private dining room and table were arranged in a manner reflecting great credit on the hostelry. The table seating 18 persons, and was lavishly decorated with the colors of the order, purple and white, with American flags tastefully draped around the walls; in the center of the mahogany a large steel banked with beautiful red apples built up in a pyramid was surmounted by a large bunch of chrysanthemums. The menu was of the best and during the dinner an orchestra, hidden in one corner behind a leafy bower, discoursed patriotic and fraternal airs, the happy company several times accompanying the music when lodge airs were struck up.

The Albany delegation 170 strong arrived on a special train at 5 o'clock last evening, over an hour late, having been delayed by a crippled engine. The train was switched down town to the freight depot where the Salem lodge accompanied by the military band was ready to receive the visitors. As the Albany train came to a stop the visiting delegations fired Roman candles and fireworks of all kinds, reminding the little boy of the Fourth of July, and after the two lodges had formed in procession and headed by the Albany Elks band, started up the street to the Elks' temple, the fireworks were kept up, making the procession through the streets a most unusual one.

At the Elks hall where a reception was given in honor of the distinguished officers of the grand lodge present, the three delivered short addresses in greeting of the Oregon Elks assembled and expressed the keen appreciation of the guests for the attentions showered upon them since they had been in this state. Especially pleasing in his remarks was Grand Secretary Robinson, "the smallest Elk in the world," and one of the best informed, while Grand Trustee Holley took the audience by storm when in closing an eloquent address he recalled Robert Treat Payne's poem, "The Starry Banner." Grand Exalted Ruler Holland closed the speaking after warmly congratulating the audience for the splendid fraternal spirit shown, and at 9:45 p. m. the distinguished visitors were whirled away in an auto to catch the 10 o'clock train for Los Angeles where they go to make arrangements for the next Grand Lodge session. Exalted Ruler Harry E. Albert presided and Mayor Geo. L. Rodgers delivered the address of welcome.

After the three guests of the evening had departed the lodge organized itself for a social session and from that time on the fun and entertainment left nothing to be wished for by the 400 members in attendance. C. L. McNary presided during this part of the performance assisted by Past Exalted Rulers Fred Dawson and W. H. Davis of Salem, and with a splendid musical and literary program for a basis the evening's entertainment was one of the best ever pulled off by the local Elks. Everybody was not fined but some few were for various infractions or alleged infractions of unspoken rules and each one seemed to be pleased with his participation. At the close of the social session, a banquet, was served and at a late hour the Albany visitors departed on their special train for home with the promise that the Salem brethren would return the visit on the occasion of the dedication of the Albany Elks temple, Salem agreeing to come down 300 strong.

MRS. BILLIK DIES OF BROKEN HEART

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Nov. 27.—Hermann Billik, whose aged mother died today in Cleveland of a broken heart caused by his sentence to hang on December 11, this afternoon gave out a letter which he received from her yesterday. A pathetic feature was the act of the poor old woman in sending her son two dollars—"all she could spare."

"I know she was dying when she wrote it," said Billik, as he allowed the reporters to make a copy of it. Even the guards wept as the pitiful message was read aloud as follows: "Dear son Hermann—Why don't you write to me in so long a time. I am half dead. I pray night and day to God to let me live until I know the outcome of the troubles of my only child. I can't believe they will hang you, or there is no justice in the world. I know you are innocent. You never committed a crime like that. When they hang you, it will kill me and I'll go with you. So, dear son, don't take it hard. Maybe God will help you yet, and how glad I would be to see you if I could. The doctors are doing all they can to get me on my feet. I send you two dollars, all I have to spare."

"Is Edna better? You don't write about her. I will try to come to you. I send you a dozen kisses."

"Your broken-hearted mother."

After the letter was read Billik put his hands on the shoulders of Jailer Davis, who supported him to his cot. Edna, referred to in the letter, is Billik's daughter who made a brave fight for his life and a pathetic personal appeal to Governor Deneen.

More than a year ago Mrs. Billik completed arrangements with a local undertaker to bury her and her son, in case he was executed and the shock killed her. The undertaker took charge of the funeral arrangements as soon as he was notified of the woman's death.

BILLIK BREAKS DOWN WHEN TOLD OF DEATH

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 27.—Hermann Billik almost collapsed in his cell today when told of the death of his mother in Cleveland. He cried like a child for some time. When he was able to control himself, he said: "I knew mother could not stand the shock. I have feared such news since I received letters from her telling me of her great sorrow. Her heart was broken."

He then sobbed and turned away, seeking a dark corner of his cell, where he sank down and covered his face with his hands.

MYSTERIOUS MURDERER IN HIDING

(United Press Leased Wire.) Eureka, Cal., Nov. 27.—Posses of armed men are scouring the hills and forests of Humboldt county today seeking the miscreant, believed to be an amateur, who killed Bert Porter, a Marysville blacksmith yesterday afternoon, and murdered an unidentified Portuguese laborer early today.

Porter was seated on the bank of Mad river resting when, a boating party on the water heard the report of a gun and saw him fall forward. They landed and discovered that his own gun had not been fired. A hurried search of the woods revealed no trace of anyone carrying a rifle. Early today news came of the shooting and death of a Portuguese in a manner similar to the murder of Porter.

A sheriff's posse began a systematic search of the woods in the vicinity of the shootings and later volunteer posses joined in the hunt. There is no clue to the assassin or assassins and no motive for the crimes has been revealed.

TO CURE YOUR RHEUMATISM

WHY NOT EMPLOY A METHOD OF TREATMENT THAT IS NOT AN EXPERIMENT?

Inflammatory rheumatism, acute rheumatism and rheumatic fever are different names for the same thing. It comes on with hardly any warning. The pain is severe and there is a tendency of the disease to attack the heart, when it may have fatal results.

Anyone who has suffered from inflammatory rheumatism knows that the usual treatment is highly unsatisfactory. External applications of hot cloths and liniments and internal doses of salicylates to relieve the pain are not enough, for they do not drive the poison from the blood and the sufferer is liable to renewed attack whenever exposed to draughts, cold or dampness.

To cure rheumatism so that it will stay cured the rheumatic poison in the blood must be driven out and the blood made rich and red. When the blood is pure there can be no rheumatism. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and cure rheumatism in the only logical way.

Mr. Howard C. Decker, of No. 42 Butler street, Patterson, N. J., owes his cure of this painful disease to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He tells of his experience as follows: "I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for about two years and think it was hereditary in my case as my father was afflicted with it for years. I was confined to my bed with it for nearly three months following the first attack. The rheumatism was in my knees and legs and finally worked down to the feet and ankles. For eighteen months I was unable to walk on my left heel. My knees, ankles and feet were swollen and I could not put on my shoes. I suffered with terrible pains, even the weight of the bed clothes on my limbs caused me intense agony. For a short time the rheumatism was in my arms and shoulders. I was helpless and unable to work. I was extremely nervous and had no control over my muscles. I lost in weight from 181 pounds to 133 pounds.

"Different doctors pronounced my case incurable and their medicine did not have much effect. I was finally led to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through reading a newspaper. My general condition gradually improved under this treatment and after giving the pills a fair trial I was entirely cured. I can now walk as well as ever and have no pain at all. I have regained my weight and never felt in my life. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are certainly a wonderful blood medicine."

If you are suffering from rheumatism in any form and find that the treatment you are taking does not relieve you, or if you are actually getting worse while taking other treatment, then do not delay but give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial. The remedy that cures others will cure you.

A valuable booklet, "Diseases of the blood," containing more information about rheumatism and other diseases of the blood will be sent free upon request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BIG SAWMILL FOR PENINSULA

Lester W. David to Erect Big Plant at Kenton.

The Union Meat company, by C. C. Colt, president, has completed a lease with Lester W. David, of Seattle, for a mammoth sawmill plant at Kenton, the new townsite on the Peninsula. It will have a minimum capacity of 150,000 feet every 10 hours. As it is probable that the plant will run continuously, this will produce an output of not less than 300,000 every 24 hours. In addition to this sawmill plant will be other accessories, such as a box factory, cash and door factory, lath mill, planing mill, excelsior factory, fir stave factory, etc. A contract has been made to have the sawmill fully equipped and in operation within six months. All the accessory plants will be established and at work within one year. The area of the ground to be covered by these plants is approximately 50 acres. The site is located on the Oregon Slough, or near the arm of the Columbia River and adjoining the Swift plant. This addition to the Swift enterprise will employ continually some 500 men, all of whom will reside in Kenton, the Swift townsite, adjoining the big packing plant.

Many months ago The Abstract outlined the fact that these enterprises were to be established. The output will all, or largely, be utilized by the Union Meat Company.

Mr. David's enterprise represents an investment of upwards of $2,500,000—perhaps more. He has recently closed out his holding at Blaine and Anacortes, and is to be complimented for his sagacity in investing in Oregon, and especially on the Peninsula.

FOUNDER OF JAP NAVY IS DEAD

(United Press Leased Wire.) Victoria, B. C., Nov. 27.—The death of Viscount Yamamoto, founder of the Japanese navy, was announced today by passengers arriving from Japan.

The viscount was educated in Holland and returned to Japan in 1867 on the Shogun's warship. He was appointed minister of the navy of the Shogun and, during the civil war, commanded the Shogun's naval forces. After the capture of the forces he was sentenced to death. He served several years in prison, but two years after he was pardoned and made vice-admiral and envoy to Russia. It was after he returned from Russia that he founded the navy of modern Japan.

BOY MEMBER GANG OF SAFE CRACKERS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Portland, Or., Nov. 27.—The confession of a prisoner giving the name of Gus Johnson, a 17-year-old boy, that he was a member of a gang of safe crackers that has operated extensively in the Pacific Northwest for many nights, robbing post-offices and country stores, is in the hands of the police.

Johnson, who was arrested on suspicion, today told a remarkable story, the details of which the police are withholding from the public. Johnson named the leader of the gang and said that in two or three instances he aided the safe blowers no safes. The police are today trying to round up the members of the gang.

KILLED BY BLAST OF DYNAMITE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Spokane, Wn., Nov. 27.—T. C. Lewis, time keeper for the Pat Welch Company's camp, a mile from Cheney, is dead today because workmen failed to warn him of a blast that had been set in a rock cut.

Lewis was returning to the camp from a hospital, to which he had taken an injured workman, and was within a short distance of the rock when the terrific explosion occurred. The usual warning given to people approaching at such a time did not reach him. He was struck by flying pieces of rock and died almost instantly.

BABY DESERTED AT RESCUE HOME

(United Press Leased Wire.) Portland, Or., Nov. 27.—Where is the mother of the six-weeks-old baby boy found on the steps of the Salvation Army rescue home?

This is the question the police are asking today in their search for the woman, while the infant is receiving tender care at the rescue home. A woman who gave the name of Jane Fox applied at the home for help a few days ago, bringing the baby with her. She left with the infant last night and early today it was found, clad in a thin garment, in a basket. Pinned to the garment was a note in which she explained she could not find a position and was unable to support the baby.

The Albany Commercial club has endorsed the putting in of a smelter in the Santiam mining district.

There's a great difference in jewelry stores, and for two years we've been telling you wherein we excel. But there are myriads of phenomena, which are to us non-existent, for the simple reason that our organs of sense are not adapted to receive them.

We've said before, and we say again: "The high class, popular priced jewelry store in Salem."

There is not a molecule in this store that is not instinct with life. When will you be ready to receive this subtle, but rare manifestation of our leadership?
