PLAY TOMORROW AS GOOD AS "COMING THROUGH THE RYE"

"THE LAND OF NOD" IS AS GREAT A SUCCESS AS COMEDY OPERA WHICH MADE SUCH A HIT HERE LAST SPRING.

A clean wholesome and enjoyable entertainment, "The Land of Nod" which comes to the Grand Opera house tomorrow afternoon and enjoys a reputation which has been excelled in the history of stage in this country. It is not termed "up to the average" musical plays. It is far superior and a decided innovation in amusement lines. Samuel E. Rork has on the stage another play equally good as his "Coming Thro' the Rye" which is another of his attractions. If you want to be taken back to childhood days, attend a performance of "The Land of Nod." Here you will meet the "Sandman," "Welsh Rarebit," "The Man in the Moon," "April Fool," and other strange characters of childhood dreams. The story and plot are well worked out; "Bonnie," a little girl, falls asleep in her home garden and is transformed to "The Land of Nod" where she meets all sorts of queer creatures and people. "The Sandman" plots and robs the "King of Hearts" of all the hearts in the kingdom. Without these inhabitants of this strange country are powerless to fall in love. Of course, the hearts are finally restored and everything ends happily. Meanwhile and some of the most pleasing musical numbers. The chorus, which numbers 60, is drilled to a standard of efficiency that is little short of marvelous. The settings are very elaborate. One act shows the castle of Cards, with its mushrooms towers and a candy bridge and the peppermint river. The electrical and scenic effects make this one of the most realistic ever seen on any stage. The second act discloses the Nightmare Palace, with its hideous creatures and is a wonder of stagecraft. Among the principals are such well-known names as Knox Wilson, Adelaide Harland, Grace Drew and Dorothy Webb. The organization numbers upwards of 75 people, and it is said to be an extraordinary assemblage of clever comedians, vocalists, dancers and specialists. The matinee will commence at 2:30 o'clock.

OPPOSES A SECOND FRANCHISE

Alameda Times Says Two Telephone Systems Impracticable.

Secretary Russell of the Chamber of Commerce now denies that he favors two telephone systems for Alameda. In his new position, The Times is of the opinion that Mr. Russell is taking a stand for the best interests of Alameda. As a matter of fact, a double telephone system has proved a nuisance and an expense wherever it has been introduced. Sacramento, for example, was for years afflicted with a double service which necessitated every commercial house of the city and in many cases private residences putting in two phones. Persons wishing to telephone had to hunt through two telephone directories, and put up with other inconveniences which must be experienced to be appreciated. Finally, the opposition company was purchased by the Sunset people with the result that the telephone service in Sacramento was immediately improved in all ways.

The experience of Sacramento has been that of other communities where double service has been installed. Santa Clara county suffered from the effects of it precisely as did Sacramento, but long ago the two systems were merged and Santa Clara relieved of its difficulties. There is no good reason why Alameda county should be made to suffer the experiences of Sacramento, Santa Clara and other communities that have tried the double system. The double system has failed in the experimental stage, and from the nature of things always will fail.

As has been set forth in the news columns of this paper, the merchant's of Park street are, with two or three exceptions, opposed to the double the public opinion of Alameda on this subject. For the best interests of the community the City Council should go slow in considering any application for a second telephone franchise.
