WILL BRAVE WRATH OF SALVADOREANS
(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 15.—John Moisant, one of several brothers against whom President Figueroa, of San Salvador, cherishes an active and vigilant enmity, has been repeatedly unsuccessful in landing in the Central American republic to visit his property there, according to information in possession of his relatives in this city today.
Nearly a year ago Moisant was the alleged instigator of a revolutionary movement to unseat the Salvadorean and his government. After the failure of the insurrection, Moisant was arrested with his brother and thrown into prison. He succeeded in reaching the American consul-general at San Salvador with an appeal for aid, and later both brothers were released.
Recently Moisant went from Nicaragua to Acapulco, on a coastwise visit. He was forbidden a landing at the Salvadorean port, and the officials of Figueroa took similar action at every port where Moisant attempted to land.
Moisant, however, has announced his intention of visiting his estate, and those who know him believe he will risk Figueroa's wrath and keep his word.

SHOOTS WOMAN ABOUT TO ABANDON HIM
(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 15.—Desperate because his fiancée, Mrs. Sadie Campbell of Seattle, threatened to leave him last night, Fred W. Van Sickle of Victoria, shot her in the back at the home, 301 Church street. Although badly wounded, the woman had strength and courage enough to turn on her assailant and, after knocking him down with a chair, to beat him with her fists, and hold him until the police came and placed him under arrest.
Mrs. Campbell's injury is a lacerated wound near the spine. The doctors at the Central Emergency hospital say that she will recover. Van Sickle is being held at the hospital today, and when he is turned over to the police, he will probably be charged with assault with intent to commit murder.
Mrs. Campbell gives her age as 23 years. She says that she was divorced from William Campbell in Seattle several months ago, and, on going to Victoria, she was introduced to Van Sickle, whom she supposed to be a single man. She says that Van Sickle was infatuated with her and begged her to marry him. He followed her to Seattle and, then as Mrs. Campbell did not care to be wedded in that city, the two came to this city, arriving here six weeks ago.
After staying here a few weeks, Mrs. Campbell says that she found Van Sickle's attitude toward her changing. She says that he refused to keep his promise and marry her, and, when she investigated, she found out that he had a wife living in Victoria. Then she determined to return to Seattle, and it was while she was packing her trunk with that intention that last night's fracas took place.

Begin Right

For all forms of nervous diseases take Dr. Miles' Nerve, whether it be simple nervousness, or those nerve destroying fits and convulsions. It is a tonic for weak nerves—it will restore nervous energy, and give strength to the entire system.

"In 1898 my little daughter was stricken with paralysis of the brain. For seven long weeks she lay like one dead. At times she would rally, and spasms would follow. I had the service of two of our best doctors and they could do nothing for her. At times it would take two persons to hold her in bed, and for seven days and nights we had to keep her little head packed in ice, the pain she suffered was so severe. Mr. Prentice, the druggist advised Dr. Miles' Nerve. I got a bottle and began giving a teaspoonful every two hours. After about ten days she began to quiet down, and within two weeks' time she could sit up in bed, and rapidly improved from that time. We have given her about twenty-five bottles of Nerve along with the Nerve and Liver Pills, and today she is well and healthy as ever. My wife and I were completely worn out; staying up nights with our little one during her sickness, so we began taking the Nerve ourselves, and with the very best of results."
EMANUEL BODEY, Payson, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

This midget animal is considered one of the most realistic and wonderful freaks of nature ever produced. It is nothing but a very small horse; eats hay and oats and lives in the same manner as the larger horse race. Manager Bligh will have the little horse on exhibition in connection with the other features of the show this week. The management has also several views of foreign scenery in motion pictures which are greatly appreciated by the public. In addition to numerous extremely funny features.

SAFE CRACKER HAD MODERN APPLIANCES

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Jose, Dec. 15.—Virldin Maxwell, a possible prototype of Arthur Stringer's craft crackmen, is in the city prison here today while the police are in possession of the finest suit of burglars' tools ever seen in the west. The authorities also are holding Ramona Rives, a beautiful Spanish woman, believed by them to have been used successfully by Maxwell as decoy or scout, as the nature of the enterprise on which he was engaged.
Maxwell was found by the police in lodgings above a store which he now is believed to have robbed. The kit now in possession of the police was in his room. It comprised a steel drill with a motor attached, together with several feet of wire and a contrivance for adjustment to an electric light socket; a blasting machine fixed to explode nitro-glycerine by means of a cap and copper wire with a timer so that an explosion could be regulated to a second; drills, wire nippers, explosive and flash lamp.
Maxwell was living over the store of C. Chappie, which was entered last Saturday night. The safe was blown open and $1000 was taken. The police believe that Maxwell committed the robbery and that he was assisted by a companion who is now in San Francisco. The police of that city have been notified.

BAD BREATH

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue had been so sore as green as grass, my breath had been so bad. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me. Therefore, I know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles."

(San Jose Mercury, Dec. 9, 1908.)
The funeral of the late Donald McLeod, who died after a severe attack of bronchitis at his home near Santa Clara Monday morning, one of the earliest of the pioneer sheep-raisers of the coast, will be held this morning.
Mr. McLeod was born in Scotland, October 1, 1824. He came to the United States with his family at an early date, and crossed the plains during the gold excitement in 1848-49. He engaged in mining in several parts of the state with fair success. Noting the immense richness of the country he recrossed the plain in 1850 and returned the next year with a band of sheep which he had secured in Vermont. After a great deal of trouble and many hardships he arrived in Oregon late in 1851 with the first sheep ever brought across the plains, and the first to be seen in the Willamette valley. His foresight there proved its value, for such sheep as he desired to dispose of had a market value of $125 per head.

After raising sheep with great success for some time, Mr. McLeod entered into a co-partnership with the late General John T. Miller of Salem, Ore., and the late Senator C. Burch. For many years the partners conducted the largest sheep-raising business in the west. Their sheep grazed over what is now the richest farming district in Oregon, then a waste of timber and meadow-land around Yarnhill county and Eastern Oregon.
During the Modoc Indian insurrection, while superintending one of his ranches, Mr. McLeod was the only man on Lost river to escape massacre.

He later dissolved the partnership to engage in dealing in live stock, with headquarters at Salem, Ore., to supply the markets of San Francisco, Puget Sound and Chicago. In the later years of this enterprise Mr. McLeod met with severe financial reverses, and about twenty years ago he retired and came to California. He had lived on the old Morse Seed Farm west of Santa Clara, for the past five years. Mr. McLeod was well known in Santa Clara, and especially in pioneer circles. He was a member of the Caledonian Society, of San Mateo.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elsie McLeod, four sons, Dr. McLeod, of Santa Clara, William McLeod, of Shoshone, Colo.; Murdoch McLeod of Burlingame and Kenneth McLeod manager of the Burlingame Country Club, and one daughter, Miss Annie McLeod, a graduate of the San Jose State Normal School and head of the Manual Training Department of the Berkeley Public Schools. Donald McRae Mayor of Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a cousin.
The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. R. Franklin Hart, Santa Clara, at the family residence at 10 o'clock. The remains will be placed upon the 11:31 train for Cypress Lawn Cemetery, where the interment will take place. The members of the San Mateo Caledonian Society will attend.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

The College of Music under the direction of Prof. F. S. Mendenhall as Dean, presents its first public students' recital next Wednesday evening, Dec. 16, at 8:15, in the University chapel. The public has been cordially invited. An attractive program has been arranged, consisting of piano and vocal numbers, which will be rendered by some of the more advanced students of the school. Mr. Mendenhall expects to make those recitals a permanent feature in connection with the regular school work and they will be given frequently during each school year.
The University Glee Club, under Mr. Mendenhall's direction will make the initial appearance at this recital in several attractive numbers. Although organized but quite recently, the club is doing splendid work and will soon have a sufficient repertoire to enable it to fill various engagements, for which the club has contracted, in the near future.
