The Willamette river is covered with three-fourths of an inch of ice and the inlets and small lakes along its course are covered with as much as an inch of the same kind of hard drink. The South Salem slough is covered with nearly three-fourths of an inch of ice and should there be a continued freeze, skating will be the next sport credited to the cold snap.

Want Train to Stop—

In answer to the complaint filed by the Irving residents in the Railroad Commission's office asking that the Southern Pacific Company stop its trains at Irving, the S. P. Co. claims that during the past three months the receipts at that point aggregated $7 per month, which, it claims, is not a sufficient sum to warrant stopping.

Auld a Smooth One—

Mark Skiff, the dentist, identified Wm. Auld as the man who, after asking for work, ran away with the tools which he was given to cut wood with. Officer Pholand arrested the man last night for being drunk, and this morning it was discovered he answered the description of Mr. Skiff's hired man. Auld claimed he had the tools stowed away and could readily produce them which he will be given an opportunity to do.

Black Given Ten Years—

Apparently unconcerned and calm, Homer Black was brought before Judge Burnett this morning at 9 o'clock, and sentenced to ten years in the state penitentiary for the shooting of Dr. C. H. Robertson, with intent to rob and kill. Black was brought into court by Sheriff Minto, and directed to the witness box, where he sat, retaining his usual unconcerned demeanor, and appeared uninterested in what was going on. He shook his head when asked whether he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced and, after Judge Burnett meted out to him the limit of the law covering his crime Black, accompanied by the sheriff, walked steadily and readily out of the court room back to his cell to await the time when he will be transferred to the penitentiary.

A Strong and Reliable Firm—

Hon. F. T. Wrightman and A. N. Moores have joined forces under the partnership name of Moores & Wrightman and will conduct a loaning, real estate and general insurance business. This makes a very strong team and they will undoubtedly command a good share of the public patronage. Both of these gentlemen are well known in this community and are well acquainted with the values of city and county realty. Mr. Wrightman was sheriff of Marion county for several years and later was at the head of the corporation department in the secretary of state's office. Mr. Moores was for a long time very successfully engaged in the lumber business being for more than 20 years secretary and manager of the Capital Lumbering Company, which plant was purchased by the Spaulding Logging Company. The new firm has established offices in the Steusloff building, in the quarters recently vacated by Shephard & Holder. Phone number, Main 1237.

MESSINA AND REGGIO ARE TO BE REBUILT

Rome Jan. 8.—The chamber of deputies which convened today will vote in all probability for the rebuilding of Messina, the ancient Sicilian city, and Reggio, on the Calrian main land destroyed nearly two weeks ago by earthquake. A strong sentiment toward rebuilding is manifested by the assembled deputies.

The government will rigidly enforce the regulations covering the construction of buildings. Commissions will be sent at once to San Francisco and Japanese cities that have felt the earth shocks and that have profited by the experience in rebuilding better than ever before.

Word has been received here that thousands of bodies are being buried daily in huge pits in Messina and Reggio. Archbishop Darrigo of the destroyed cathedral at Messina is conducting the rites of burial over the dead.

Scientific measures are being used in preventing disease. It is believed that the work of clearing away the ruins will begn soon not later than a month at the longest.

DRUNKEN SOLDIERS MURDER POLICEMAN

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Three soldiers, one of them badly injured, are in the custody of the police today, suspected with being concerned in the death of Police Sergeant Anton J. Nolting, who was shot to death in the red light section of the city at 2 o'clock this morning.

Nolting, one of the oldest and most respected men on the force, attempted to arrest a soldier, who, with two companions, were wrecking a house on Commercial street, near the infamous "Barabry Coast."

The three men in uniform attacked the policeman and knocked him down. Nolting drew his revolver and fired. The weapon was wrenched from his hand, and, while he was scuffling on the sidewalk with two of the soldiers, a third fired a shot that entered Nolting's back, killing him instantly.

The slain officer's assailants fled in the darkness. Later Thomas Jordan and Richard O'Connor, privates of the coast artillery, stationed at Fort Baker were brought to the Central Hospital ,to be treated for bruises and abrasions, apparently received in a fight. Both denied knowledge of the attack on Nolting.

Shortly afterward an unidentified soldier, suffering from a deep scalp wound, was brought to a hospital. He was unconscious, and will probably die.

Nolting was born here in 1860; joined the police department in 1895, and had an excellent record.
