LEBANON BUSINESS MEN BANQUETTING
 The Lebanon Business Men's league was organized last week with 53 members, including the millionaires and the bootblacks, and they all sat down together and had a big banquet at the hotel Lebanon, at which 74 partook at one dollar per partake. A reception was given at the Odd Fellows hall in which the ladies mingled freely and fearlessly as most of the business men of Lebanon are accustomed to the society of ladies and know how to behave when they are around. The toast master was A. M. Reeves, the leading merchant and local Chauncey M. Depew as an after dinner spellbinder. Speeches were also made by Archie Blackburn, the druggist, N. M. Newport, the lawyer, Dr. Kimmel, Rev. W. T. Wardle, Oscar Ingram, editor Nutting, of Albany, S. L. Cline of Corvallis, the president of the State Retail Grocers Association and liable to hold the office for life, Chas. B. Murrick, of the Portland Association also made a speech. Those who didn't make speeches made at them. The dinner was one of those works of culinary art you only find up on the forks of the Siskiyou where the red apples bloom and the alfalfa grows into the second stories of the houses. Lebanon is becoming the great strawberry center of the Willamette Valley, and the only trouble they have is to grow them small enough. Left to itself a strawberry will grow to the size of a spring chicken and has to be carved to fit the mouths of the guests. Altogether it was a hooster meeting and left a good taste in the mouths of all who participated. Cline was mentioned as a candidate for governor by several present, and if he can get an inspection certificate from Dr. Withycombe or Doc Bailey he might make quite a race.

SALEM MAN FOR PHARMACY BOARD
 The resignation of John M. A. Duce from the state board of pharmacy has caused a hot scramble for that place. One would think the whole drug profession were hunting a fat job, the way the petitions roll into the governor's office. Portland already strongly represented on the board, wants to capture the plum, and the Drug Clerks' Association of that city has pounced on Governor Chamberlain with petitions, as they seem to think that Governor Chamberlain has to take the Portland prescription as against the whole state. Frank Ward of this city is also a candidate. He was one of the first graduates of the O. A. C. school of pharmacy at Corvallis, and has the Alumni of that institution pretty solidly back of him. He is a young druggist who has been interested in business at Salem and has all his life held responsible positions in the drug trade.
 Mr. Ward has the solid support of the Salem druggists and is a man of good presence and would make a fine addition to the State Board of Pharmacy.

LEGISLATURE TRIES TO OUST DENEEN
 Springfield, Ills., Jan. 5.—There was not a quorum today in either branch of the Illinois legislature, where an effort is being made to oust Governor Charles Deneen, who was re-elected at the November election. There is a growing belief that the chief executive has under consideration a plan to delay the convening of the assembly until after his inauguration, which is set for next Monday. Deneen's adherents have declined to join with the Republican-Democratic alliance in the house to canvass the vote cast at the last election.
 As the situation now stands the inauguration of the governor cannot take place until a canvass of the vote is taken.
