LET MEN BE TREATED FAIRLY.

The Capital Journal will not join in bullying any member of this legislature into keeping any pledge he may have made on the senatorship or any public matter.

This paper is an advocate and champion in a small journalistic way of Statement No. 1, and DIRECT ELECTION OF SENATORS BY THE PEOPLE OF THIS STATE.

While lobbyists and persons who seek to influence any member improperly will be scored to the queen's taste, this paper does not consider it fair to attack in advance any betrayal of trust THE CHARACTER OF ANY MEMBER OF THIS GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Let us assume for the sake of fairness and decency that representatives and senators are honest men. No man and no newspaper has a right to assume otherwise in a matter so vital to the POLITICAL AND PERSONAL CHARACTER AND INTEGRITY OF ANY SENATOR OR REPRESENTATIVE.

We are all citizens of Oregon and responsible for our citizenship and each man has to answer to his conscience and his God for all public acts.

The members of this legislature ARE UNDER OATH IN THEIR OWN COUNTRIES and in the legislature before the justice of the supreme court.

It is an insult to the common manhood of Oregon to insinuate that a representative of the people will publicly perjure himself.

We have no right to impugn the character of any public man by saying in advance that he is not going to do just exactly as he agreed in any public matter.

LET US TRY TO SEE IN OUR REPRESENTATIVES HONESTY AND UPRIGHTNESS IN ALL MATTERS.

As an individual every representative and senator is in his native right as an honest and honorable man until he shows himself to the contrary.

NEEDD GOOD ROADS LEGISLATION.

The Capital Journal does not know anything about the so-called Johnson good roads bill.

That bill has been published in the Oregonian AND THAT IS CONSIDERED ENOUGH FOR EVERYBODY.

It has not been submitted to the newspaper men of the state, or to anyone but the close corporation that got it up.

They know its contents and there is probably SOME RICH PICKING IN IT FOR THOSE ON THE INSIDE.

The bill will probably create half a dozen fat offices; if it does anything for roads that remains to be seen.

More men are working for good offices than for good roads IN THESE DAYS OF BRACE POLITICS.

But one feature of good roads legislation that is needed is to give idle men a chance to work on the roads.

DEPOSITORS in the savings department of The Capital National Bank are requested to present their pass books and have credited thereon the semi-annual interest due January first.

JOS. H. ALBERT
Cashier

By idle men we include those in the city and county jails and the idle men in the legislature—WE MEAN IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Tramps in jail and out of jail, and men who are not tramps, who are stranded and cannot get work, ought to have a chance to work on the roads.

This kind of an act should be drawn on humane lines, and whenever such persons can make wages at anything else THEY OUGHT TO BE LET DO IT.

But there are hundreds of men the state over who, if they were systematically set to work on the highways could accomplish much.

Their labor would be cheap labor and it would be better for them to be breaking rock THAN TO BE MERE BURDENS ON SOCIETY.

There ought to be some way to get work out of the idle rich as well as the idle poor, and they will have to be taxed.

There are enough unemployed men lying in the city and county and state prisons to build ten miles of road a week IF THEIR LABOR COULD BE UTILIZED.

A road bill that would get these elements into the harness and make them contribute to the building of better highways and at the same time give them a chance to earn an honest living, ought to interest the members of the legislature.

A good roads bill merely to make some fat offices is not wanted.
