PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They are Salem People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press, are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on. L. W. Hill, 328 Front street, Salem, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are not a new remedy to me, as I have used them on different occasions whenever the necessity has arisen. I have enjoyed the best of health all my life, except for occasional attacks of kidney trouble and backache. When suffering in this way I have procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Stone's drug store and a few doses have always removed the trouble. I am a firm believer in the merit of this remedy. I know of several other people who have used it with good results. I am only too pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills whenever the opportunity occurs."

RIVERS ARE ON A RAMPAGE

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 18.—The island region along the lower portion of the Sacramento river is in great danger today, as the levees in the reclaimed districts are badly weakened from the pounding of the flood waters, which have rushed against them for nearly a week and are reported to be still rising. The backing up of the overflow has complicated the situation, and created a strain which the island levees may be unable to stand. The river at such point as Courtland, Walnut Grove and Isleton is still one foot below the flood height of two years ago, the levees are stronger, and yet breaks are expected.

Yolo county's low lands were flooded late Saturday night, and the floods of escaping waters proved so great yesterday that it washed away two sections of the long trestle on the Southern Pacific line two and a half miles from this city, near the town of Webster, and, during the excitement, two Greek laborers, Peter and Andrew Sagra, employes of the railroad gang strengthening the trestle, jumped into the flood and were drowned. They, with their fellow laborers were marooned on the isolated sections of the trestle, and, for awhile, it looked as if all would be washed to their deaths.

This is the only case of fatality reported from Yolo county. Across the river a flood has been expected, and the bridge break on the Snyder ranch, four miles below this city, has allowed an immense body of water to pour over the lowlands, backing up into the town of Broderick and flooding the greater part of it. This break in the levee has relieved the pressure on the Sacramento city levees and th edanger point, just when it was getting uncomfortable.

While Sacramento is safe, and Yolo county is under water, the situation is rendered critical for the very reason that Putah and Cache creeks, in trying to carry off the surplus torrent in the great Yolo basin, emptying into the lower river, are swollen to such an extent that they back up the Sacramento, causing the greatest menace to sheepmen on Brannon islands and other down river points. The mouth of the river is so narrow that it cannot empty the water fast enough.

Additional breaks along the Southern Pacific tracks above this city are keeping Marysville and other up-river points isolated, and there seems little possibility of repairing the damage until the river recedes.

The rail link between the Southern Pacific and Northern Electric tracks was completed today, so that trains were able to resume their journey from the East to this city.

Chico, Cal., Jan. 18.—The Sacramento river at Chico landing early today reached the highest mark ever known here. The levees on the Glenn county side are all out, and the towns of St. John and Hamilton are flooded.

Many houses along the river were washed away yesterday afternoon and much stock was lost. The water came within four inches of the top of the Phelan levee, and the people near the river were forced to flee for their lives. The water is receding slowly.

Stockton, Calif., Jan. 18.—The San Joaquin river began to fall opposite Stockton this morning and is receding slowly. There have been no breaks in levees reported so far.

In the worst floods heretofore, the San Joaquin flood crest has been passed safely. A few days later the San Joaquin flood waters, meeting the Sacramento river flood waters at the upper end of Suisun bay, and both being packed up by the incoming tide, have returned over their course and caused the floods so disastrous to reclamations. It is feared that this will be repeated this week. The danger to the large reclamations will commence within twenty-four hours from now and will not be over until the latter part of this week.

San Joaquin's greatest fear now is that the Sacramento river will break through its southeast banks and send its flood waters across the New Hope country toward Stockton, flooding all reclamations on the east side of the San Joaquin, as it did four years ago.

Timmons Sentenced to Hang

Judge Burnett sentenced C. Y. Timmons, convicted of murdering his wife on the 20th of October, 1908, to hang February 26. The prisoner accepted his sentence without a murmur, and, with the exception of a slight nervousness, appeared reconciled to his fate. He made a short talk to the court, mostly in relation to the crime, but divulged nothing new in the case.
