BIG DEVELOPMENT CONGRESS AT SALEM JANUARY 29 AND 30 WILL BE HELD AT THE STATE HOUSE NEXT WEEK

The fourth convention of the Oregon and Idaho Development Congress will be held at the state house Friday and Saturday, January 29-30, next week. It will be presided over by Hon. S. A. Lowell, of Pendleton, and will be addressed by some of the most prominent men in the state. Governor Chamberlain will speak on the "Battle for the Conservation of the Natural Resources;" George M. Cornwall, of the Pacific Timberman, will speak on the Fulton amendment to the Interstate Commerce law and lumber rates; Hon. C. E. S. Wood will plead for a state-aided railway system; Colonel Muncey will tell of the "Wonderful Wealth of Curry County," and the Coos Bay men will orate on their deepsea harbor. Senators and representatives will speak for the great undeveloped interior of Oregon, and the blast of hot-air booster talk will reverberate under the dome of the state house, to the imminent danger of the capitol building.

Box Factory Sold—

Wm. Burghardt, as trustee for the company, yesterday sold the Salem box factory to Smith Wood. It is probable the factory will soon be in operation again.

Funeral Today—

The funeral of the late Smith Cox, brother-in-law of Peter Francis, of this city, took place today at 2 o'clock in the City View cemetery. Mr. Cox, who was 31 years old, died in Portland. Rev. Comer conducted the funeral services at the Rigdon undertaking parlors.

A Small Washout—

All northbound trains were made late this morning, due to a washout a mile south of this city. The great bulk of water racing down the sloping land near the curve this side of the reform school, was the main cause of the washout. Although the amount of track torn out was not extensive, the work of putting it back in shape consumed considerable time.

The Willamette Gets Higher—

The Willamette river raised 15 inches since yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m., and now continues to rise, being now 21 feet and 9 inches above low water mark. The high water has nearly got M. P. Baldwin agent for the O. C. T. Co. here, out of his office, as the floor lacks but a few inches of being covered. The Spanning mills are shut down as a result of the water coming through the slough being so swift the loggers cannot handle the logs.

Whoever It Was Will Know—

Yesterday The Journal horse editor had occasion to call the S. P. passenger office. Now when the girl at the central office switched the unsuspecting editor aforesaid onto someone else's line, she inadvertently added to his stock of gray hairs: "Hello!" said the horse editor, "Hello!" came a voice with a decided feminine drip of sweetness to it. "Is that you, Derling?" said the equine editor. "I'm not your derling, and you're a—but the editor, full of years and experience, hung up the phone. It required no explanations that way.

Degree of Honor Installs—

Viola Lodge No. 88, Degree of Honor, installed officers for the coming year at its regular meeting on Monday night. Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Harriet Looney had charge of the installation ceremonies. The new officers are as follows: Past chief of Honor, Mrs. Nellie White; chief of honor, Mrs. Sarah Donnellson; lady of honor, Mrs. Sylvia Farrell; chief of ceremonies, Mrs. Ella Kira; recorder, Mrs. Viola Mason; receiver, Anna Anderson; usher, Mrs. Mary Wolf; inner watch, Ralph Mason. The financier and outer watch were unable to be present and will be installed at the next meeting.

Increasing One's Opportunity—

There are many ways a young person may increase their opportunities and earning powers. One of the best ways is to secure a business education. Whether one works for himself or another such a training is useful. It may mean the difference between success and failure. The Capital Business College of Salem is a good school. Its graduates are successful. Students may enter any time. A catalogue for the asking. 1-20-2td-1w

MOUNTAINS OF ICE IN GORGE AT CELILO

A dispatch from The Dalles yesterday says: The river at Celilo has been on a rampage today, tons upon tons of ice crashing down upon the government works. The ice is piled against the outside wall of the canal on a level with the top on the Oregon side. The whole of the government works is not only jeopardized, but every building as well is in great danger of being swept away by the madly rushing waters.

The river is reported to have raised 30 feet at Celilo today, and it continues to rise rapidly. The outside fish wheel at the Taffe fisheries was crushed in by the huge slabs of whirling ice. From Big Eddy to Summit the river is open, the gorge commencing at The Dalles proper and extending above Celilo.

At the narrows the ice rose as high as the tops of the cliffs and has the appearance of huge white mountains. Seufert's two fish wheels, which last night stood six feet out of the water, are now under 26 feet of water. F. A. Seufert said today that unless the river began to recede he feared Seufert Bros. would suffer a total loss of their fisheries at Celilo.

Fifteen Mile Creek, along which is the route of the Great Southern Railway, running between this city and Dufur, is reported out of its banks. The Great Southern sent out no train from here today on account of a washout at Rice's station. It is reported that the bridge at that place was swept away.

Weather Forecaster Brooks says the barometer has been lower today than at any time for the past 20 years, and all indications point to an approaching storm. Rain has fallen incessantly today, and more rain is predicted for tomorrow, with colder weather.

A Religious Author's Statement.

For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. J. C. Perry.
