WHOLE SHIP LOAD OF TEUTONIC BEAUTIES

SHAW SAYS MIKADO CAN WIPE UNITED STATES OFF THE MAP

SHIP SUBSIDY MEN ARE MUCH AFRAID OF JAPANESE WAR

THE MORE ANXIOUS THEY ARE FOR GOVERNMENT MONEY THE WORSE THEY ARE FRIGHTENED

(United Press Special Wire.)
New York, Feb. 6.—Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury, today reiterated certain portions of a speech he made last night before the Mechanics' Congress in the Metropolitan Temple in which he declared that Japan could place 100,000 fighting men in Hawaii within a month and plunder for a merchant marine subsidized by the government. Shaw forcibly pleaded a comparison of the fighting resources of the United States and declared that it would take America two years to gather a force and supplies to oppose the Japanese. Continuing he said: "The powers of the world laughed at the spectacle of our 16 battleships starting around the world, accompanied by and depending for coal and supplies on 27 colliers and supply vessels flying foreign flags, which would have deserted them and left them helpless at the first smell of hostile powder. A battleship without coal is as useless as a battleship without powder. "And spending of the question of powder, if all the powder mills in the United States should stop making sporting and blasting powder and just turn out battle powder, we could only make in 30 days enough powder to last our navy two hours. Think of it! We could fight two hours a month. Japan knows it. England knows it. Germany knows it. "The United States is the only nation in the world which has not a large subsidized merchant marine at its disposal on call for naval purposes. I am for a merchant marine at any cost, in any way, in every way our battleship fleet could have been sent a thousand miles without depending for coal on foreign ships. We pull down our waistbands and call it a fine, but it reveals a most dangerous situation. "The history of the supremacy of nations is a story of the conquest of the sea—the expanding sea. The wars of the ancient world centered in the land locked seas of Southern Europe; in modern times the theater has been the ocean. "The scene has now shifted to the Pacific. In the last century the contest was for territory. In this century it will be for markets. Ships were a larger factor in the struggle of the present century; they will decide the struggle of the present century. We must have them."

COMING TO OREGON TO GET HUSBANDS AND MAKE HOMES

DAINTY DAMSELS FROM WURTEMBERG WILL MAKE OREGON GIRLS HUSTLE TO MAINTAIN THEIR LEAD

New York, Feb. 6.—"Ask for Sister Augustine." Four hundred German maidens from Wurtemberg arrived here today on the liner Graf Walther, en route to Oregon in search of husbands. "H-Lee-Hee-La" for Oregon. "The attention of the German 'Hundred' was drawn to Oregon by delightful pictures brought up before their eyes by Mrs. Freda Walther, wife of an Oregon sheepherder, who is reported as having opening for the migration of German femininity. Her extraordinary tale of how she found a husband in the evergreen state, was woven and was by him, and lived happily ever after, is said to have altered the destined fates, and there was a stamping of wooden shoes along the Wurtemberg parsonage, a nod on the Trans-Atlantic Company's ticket office and the Graf Walther was a floating fairy castle of Teutonic beauty.

MILLIONS OF MONEY IN LAND FRAUD CASES

Washington, Feb. 6.—Revelation of an astonishing number of cases of alleged fraud on the public lands of the West, and an insight into the vast amount of work that is required to cut down and approved enjoyment, who seek the public domain is contained in a special report sent to Secretary of the Interior Garfield by E. H. Schwartz, chief of the field service of the general land office. The report was sent to congress by Secretary Garfield, in support of his request for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the work of detecting and preventing land frauds. It is the first complete compilation of the status of the land fraud that has been made.

In the six Pacific coast states with the territory of Arizona and Alaska, cases involving land valued at the immense sum of $75,225,500 are now pending either before the federal courts or are in process of investigation before the department's chief. Schwartz says that there is good reason to believe that every acre of this land, which is in the hands of private individuals and corporations can be recovered. Although there are fewer cases in Nevada than in any of the six states and two territories mentioned, the land involved is worth $40,175,000, more than half the entire sum. And the principle involved in these Nevada cases makes them undoubtedly the most important cases that have come up for years. If the government was to prosecute the Hartman line will be forced to disgorge thousands of acres of rich lands. They were acquired from congress when the late Leiland Stanford, of California, and his associates of financiers secured the now famous Central Paacific land grants by the act of July, 1861. Three hundred and seventy thousand dollars worth of Nevada lands that are sought by the government are Elginite Nevada lands and under mining locations, and the principle involved there is almost as important as the principle involved in the Central Pacific suits. The Elginite lands are held by the "another trust" under mining locations, and if they are secured by the government, this will be the striking wedge in the recovery of the so-called mining lands, which have either been secured as coal lands or through mining claims as actual mining lands. But $40,000,000 worth of the Nevada lands are now in the possession of the Central and Southern Pacific railroads, and the suit to regain possession of them will call forth the best energies of the Hartman attorneys and the experts of the government when they are called in the Nevada court case.

Four cases have already been brought involving lands valued approximately at $12,700,000. This estimate of the value of lands is based upon mines actually operating on the lands. The grant to Senator Stanford and his associates expressly provided that no mineral lands were taken by the railroad with the full knowledge that they contained valuable minerals. A case is before the department involving 100 acres of mineral land in Nevada valued conservatively at $12,000,000, secured by the Central Pacific Railroad Company under its grant. This will not be taken to suit to secure the settlement of the cases already pending will settle the case.

PEOPLES BARGAIN HOUSE

CRITICIZE TEDDY, BUT HE DON'T CARE

(United Press Special Wire.)
London, Feb. 6.—Commenting on the attitude of President Roosevelt toward the California legislature on the anti-Japanese legislation pending before that body, the London Globe today criticizes the President for his noncommittal attitude. The Globe said:

"For the President's noncommittal attitude toward the anti-Japanese legislation might have been more dignified. His telegrams have the tone of an angry schoolmaster and are hardly worthy of the ear of a great nation. "Roosevelt may wish to create an impression before leaving his office but his fellow citizens will hardly thank him for language so unbecomingly as to be suitable in a republic."

WELTING SNOWS FLOOD GERMANY

(United Press Special Wire.)
Berlin, Feb. 6.—Reports from many parts of Germany today show that the flood situation is worse than yesterday. The snow is melting in the mountains and the streams already out of their beds, are rising continually. The loss of life and property is heavy. Much of the city of Strassburg is under water and business there has been suspended. The breaking of the dams has flooded a wide area in the neighborhood of Rheine. Reports from all the flooded districts indicate increased suffering.

Deers, drifting outward and only to melt when we that our people will not be killed while sleeping in their beds from gas escaping from two hills that nobody should vote against in the legislature.

TO EXCLUDE ALL ASIATICS

Whereas, The progress, happiness and prosperity of the people of a nation depend upon the harmonious cooperation of its various races and high aspirations for the promotion of the same, for guarding the interests of labor, for the encouragement of industry and for the dissemination of knowledge; "Whereas, The influx from the ever increasing numbers of Asiatic people who are still for American citizenship and assimilation with the Caucasian race and whose aims and purposes are not in sympathy with our people, has resulted and will result in lowering the American standard of life, the dignity and wage-earning capacity of American labor and the employment of the national qualities needed to accomplish the betterment of the nation by the fathers and parents of the republic; "Whereas, The entrance of Chinese laborers under the existing existing laws of the United States, has tended to depress the economic and social welfare of the people; "Whereas, We view with alarm the proposed to repeal such existing laws and substitute therefor general laws; "Whereas, The interests of Oregon can only be safeguarded by enforcing such existing laws and by enforcing their terms and provisions as to apply to and include among the classes affected thereby all Asiatic foreigners; "Resolved, In the Senate and Assembly jointly, that we respectfully urge the congress of the United States to maintain intact the present so-called Chinese exclusion laws, and to extend the terms and provisions thereof so as to apply to and include among the classes affected thereby all Asiatic foreigners; "Resolved, That our senators be instructed and our representatives be empowered to carry out and enforce the law the foregoing resolutions and requests; "Resolved, That the governor of Oregon be and he is directed to transmit a certified copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, to the President and speaker, respectively, of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, and to each of our senators and representatives in congress.

THE CHINK MADE SOCIETY WINCE

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—The wealth and culture of San Francisco, represented by scores of prominent club men and club women, including Mayor Taylor, details of his police commissioners, have been outspiced by Ah Sun, a Chinese, arrested for violating in the athletic club, and today are endeavoring to escape liability regarding their club life by which Ah Sun hopes to justify himself before the law for playing poker behind club doors. Through his attorney, E. B. Conroyman, Ah Sun has subpoenaed Mrs. Baldwin G. Smith, president of the City and County Club; Mrs. E. E. Rowell, president of the Fremont Club; Mrs. E. W. Wright, president of the Forum Club; Mrs. Phoebe S. Board of the Nevada Club; Mrs. Anna Young Reed, president of the Association of Pioneer Women of California; Mrs. John Hildreth, president of the San Francisco Club of New England Women; the officers of the Laurel Hill, Villa, Clifton, Taylor, Town and Country and other Club of inclusion. Of course, Ah Sun does not expect the ladies to testify to a knowledge of poker but he does want them to declare who a pedagogue should be engaged behind the club doors of the numerous organizations, such as the Bohemian Club, the Union University, Cosmos Family, and last but not least, the Atlantic Club, at No. 244 Waterway Place Chinatown. Even the Press Club was not immune and Ah Sun is going to show the court that if a quiet little game for a quiet little limit is permitted, in the sacred precincts of the Press Club it should be allowed in exclusive sessions of the athletic club. The hearing is set for 2 o'clock tomorrow before Police Judge Deane.

Will Pass Strong Primary Bill

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 6.—Quietly it continues today as well as yesterday the anti-machine legislation and the Democrats have been having their plans to unite against the organization we are the state and give them an expediting basis on the floor of the upper house on the vital question of a strong or an emasculated direct primary bill. When the anti-organization forces are finally lined up, it is claimed that, with Democrats and Republicans united against it, the machine will find itself hopelessly defeated.
