MODERN PLAYS ARE "ORGIES OF OBSCENITY"

[United Press Leased Wire.]
New York, Feb. 8.—Stage folk generally are today devoting serious thought to the words spoken by Archbishop Farley in his sermon at St. Patrick's Cathedral yesterday, when he branded modern plays as "orgies of obscenity."
"All about us we have the men and women who are setting evil examples," he declared. "Men hoary with age go to the public places and to the theatres in search of amusement, and they bring with them corruption. We see today men and women—old and young who ought to know better than to bring the young to these orgies of obscenity."

De Witt's Censored Witch Hazel Balm, the original, is good for anything when a salve is needed, and is especially good for piles. Sold by all druggists.

OPEN SWITCH CAUSES WRECK

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Coldwater, Miss. Feb. 8.—Fireman Martin Senton, of Memphis, and an unidentified porter were killed, two men were fatally hurt and 15 persons badly injured when the northbound "Chicago Flyer" on the Illinois Central railroad ran into an open switch on the outskirts of the city today. The railroad officials suspect that the accident was the work of wreckers. The rails and switch show signs of having been tampered with. The whole train was derailed. The locomotives were badly wrecked and the baggage, mail and smoking car were overturned. The engineer leaped and was unhurt.

George Matthews, an express messenger, sustained fractures of both legs, and there is practically no hope of his recovery. An unidentified tramp was so severely hurt that he is not expected to live through the day.

The passengers were all hurled about the coaches, and several women were slightly bruised. The Pullman car passengers were not badly hurt, but most of those in the day coach were injured more or less.

PULLED TRAIN OVER A SINKING BRIDGE

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 8.—W. A. Baldwin, an engineer on a local Santa Bernardino Santa Fe train, today is the hero of a hundred or more passengers, whose lives he saved by remaining at the throttle of his engine when the train it was drawing threatened to do down with a sagging, swaying bridge over the Arroyo Seco.

Baldwin, who is the hero of half a dozen wrecks, felt the bridge give slightly as the engine struck the trestles. The vibration of his train caused the steel structure to sag and when the central pier began to buckle, Baldwin's fireman and brakeman leaped from the train.

The engineer, however, stuck to the throttle and pulled the passenger coaches to safety. An examination of the bridge showed that the center had fallen a foot and a half.

MISSED FIVE TIMES IN SUCCESSION

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Bellingham, Wash., Feb. 8.—Bert Taylor, recently returned from Nome, Alaska, is in jail here today, following an attempt on the life of W. E. Wible in the lobby of the Baker Hotel yesterday.

Taylor was crazed over the death of his sister, it is claimed, and he blames Wible in some manner for the girl's death. When Taylor encountered Wible in the hotel yesterday, he drew a revolver and fired five shots at him. None of the bullets took effect. The shooting was preceded by a heated argument between the men regarding a trunk belonging to the dead girl, Wible refusing to surrender it. Taylor declares he fired in self-defense.

In California the race-track bill seems to be the active, the valiant and the brave.
