CARRIED LICENSE TWENTY MONTHS

[United Press Leased Wire.] Butte, Mont., March 2.—After holding a marriage license in his pocket next to his bosom for 20 months, Victor Mattson has made use of it by marrying Lena Flankey, whose change of mind was responsible for him keeping it so long.

Mattson says in August, 1907, Lena promised to become his wife, but that, after he showed her the marriage license she boarded a ship for Finland. He declares he did not give up in despair, and determined to "hang around" and watch developments. So he tucked the license into his pockets and went about his work. Early last week Lena suddenly reappeared in Butte. Mattson asked her for her hand again, it was given, and so the old license was brought forth.

PITTSBURG BOODLERS ARE FOUND GUILTY

Pittsburg, March 1.—Councilmen John F. Klein, J. C. Wasson and W. M. Brand were found guilty of accepting bribes by a jury this afternoon. The jury was out 55 minutes.

Former Bank president Ramsey, who was jointly indicted with the boodling councilmen, was acquitted by order of the court.

The convicted men were accused of accepting bribes to cast their votes for a resolution designating the bank of which Ramsey was president as a repository for city funds so that the institution might speculate with municipal money.

Manhattan's postoffice receipts amount to $54,370 daily.

The Pedigree of the Shirt.

Why does the being we call a "gentleman" wear around his neck a band of spotless whiteness and unbearable stiffness, at his wrists similar instruments of torture and before his chest a rigidly starched linen plate? No one outside of a madhouse would call these articles of apparel agreeable. There is for the custom no reason at all drawn from comfort, hygiene or usefulness. There is, however, the ghost of a dead reason. Once upon a time a "gentleman" was presumed to do no work, and he dressed to show this by putting on these visible signs that he never soiled his hands, sweated his neck or bent his noble back. It matters not that we no longer believe in this definition of a gentleman. We did believe once. Its ghost rules on. No man is bold enough to appear in society without this impossible harness. Only a professional humorist like Mark Twain or some one who wishes to pose as a mild lunatic dares rebel. Addison said that the man who would clothe himself according to common sense would find himself in jail within a week.—Frank Crane in Atlantic.

School Still Goes.

The Monmouth Herald of Friday says: The old normal bell rang out as merrily as of yore on Monday morning, and we predict that it will be still ringing long after the death knell has been rung for those who attempted to assassinate our public school system last week.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs quickly, strengthens the lungs and expels colds. Get the genuine in a yellow package.—J. C. Perry.
