THE BURGOMASTER MAKES YOU GLAD TO BE ALIVE

The Burgomaster has come and unfortunately gone, for there is no one who saw it but would invest again, because they got their money's worth and all kinds of interest. Some might find fault with the costuming. Some might find fault with Ruth White, who was in a measure disappointing, not because she was "not good," for she has a sweet voice, though of rather uncertain classification, but she showed lack of life, in fact was rather "dead on her feet."

This could not be said of the chorus girls, for from start to finish there was no music too lively for their twinkling feet and no element of drill dancing or evolution that was not given life, spirit, "verve" and beauty by their forgetfulness of self, and their, for the time being, just what they represented.

The burgomaster, Harry Hermaen, is immense, grand, perfect. The author wrote the play, but Hermaen created the part—and he created a great one. From the time the curtain went up until its final drop, he was the great attraction, overshadowing all else, and making even the bald-headed ones in the front rows forget the girls, the lights, the grace, the beauty, everything, in their intense appreciation of Mr. Hermaen's presentation of the great character. He so presented it that it was above praise, beyond criticism and has no comparison.

Leo Kendall as Doodle von Kull was the affinity of the good old burgomaster and was perhaps only second to the burgomaster, because the part did not give the same opportunities.

However, it can be safely said that wherever "The Burgomaster" shows, the audience will get its money's worth and then a great big interest and lots more.

A Great Venture

The Pacific Land Co. real estate offices, at 420 State street, have perfected arrangements whereby they will publish a magazine, which will be devoted entirely to the up-building of the state of Oregon, and especially Salem and the Willamette valley, and will be used as a medium for advertising the property they have listed, and there is no question but what they have one of the largest lists of property for sale at the most reasonable prices. The introductory number of the magazine will not be very elaborate, but will be to the point, containing such data and reading matter as will be of great interest to the home-seeker; a copy of which will be placed in most every home in Salem and vicinity, and a large number sent to various addresses throughout the United States and Canada. Mr. Henry H. Turner, a prominent lawyer and experienced newspaper man, has been selected as manager and legal adviser of the Pacific Land Co., and together with his vast experience as a real estate dealer in Southern California, where land sells readily at $1000 per acre, will be able to successfully carry out such a valuable project; also enabling the company to carry on a general conveyancing business, which necessarily involves the careful and accurate examination of abstracts and the drawing up of all kinds of legal papers. Mr. N. Crossler, a capitalist and real estate man of wide experience, who, up to the last few years, was a prominent farmer of Yamhill county, is assistant manager, and he will have in charge the showing and listing of property, and it is safe to say that a more reliable and competent man could not be found, and the general public will soon learn that they can safely rely upon his word and judgment, when once pronounced, as to the reasonableness of the price and the nature of the soil.

The Pacific Land Co. are determined to build up a good, legitimate real estate business, that will be perpetual, and in time have representative offices throughout the United States and Canada. Their business interests now extend to some of the principal cities. They have one of the best locations in the city, and are in position to come in contact with the prospective buyer. They make no charge for renting your property or collecting the rent. Their advertising cards, of which the following is a copy, are quite unique and original:

This Tool Has Attracted Great Attention

AMONG HOP AND FRUIT MEN

More Attention, In Fact, Than Any Tool We Have Ever Put On the Market. It is the

NEW PLANET JR. ORCHARD AND UNIVERSAL CULTIVATOR

It is a new tool gotten up for orchardists. It can be used for going up under the low-hanging branches. The tongue and seat can be sent to one side. It is practically five tools in one. It takes the place of the disc harrow, the spring tooth and the spike harrow, and the cultivator. It can also be used as a fern cutter by using the Planet Jr. thistle sweeps. It is also a fine tool for tearing up the stubble ground, for reseeded of any kind. It is a good hop tool. It can be made wide or narrow.

One of the principal advantages is that the whole machine is carried on wheels. The working part is closer to the team than any other harrow. It is also gauged as to depth—for one inch, two, three, four or more inches. It can also be adjusted for two, three or four horses. It can be taken to and from the field on its own wheels.

We have a sample tool in stock. Whether you want to buy or not, we would be pleased to have you come in and see it. It is worth studying.
