COOS BAY QUILTS HARRIMAN TO LOVE HILL CONGRESSIONAL CLASH OVER RATES IN PAYNE TARIFF BILL

GREAT NORTHERN HAS ITS EYES ON COOS BAY

[United Press Leased Wire.]
San Francisco, March 26.—President Louis W. Hill, of the Northern Pacific, is expected to arrive in this city late this afternoon to hold a conference with other officials of the road from Portland, Seattle and Tacoma, the principal subject for discussion, it is understood, being the extension of the company's line to Coos Bay.

Hill, with his party, was at the Paso Robles Hot Springs last night, and it was his reported intention at that time to proceed to this city today. The Great Northern officials in this city stated, this afternoon, that while Hill was expected shortly, he had sent no message that he would arrive today, and no word had been received from other officials of the road, who are reported to be invited to attend the conference with Hill.

Particular interest is taken here in the projected conference, inasmuch as it may mean the taking of definite steps to extend the Great Northern to Coos Bay. This is reported to have been the purpose of the recent incorporation of the Pacific Oregon Railway & Navigation Company at Tacoma, a road said to be allied to the Great Northern.

CROWN PRINCE JUMPS HIS JOB

Belgrade, March 26.—The belief is strong here today that the king will accept the renunciation of Crown Prince George, now that the cabinet has decided that Premier Novokovitch has no authority to accept the renunciation.

In view of the unsettled conditions, troops have been summoned to protect the capitol from rioters.

D'Abruzzi Leaves Girl Behind.
Marseilles, March 26.—The Duke D'Abruzzi sailed today for Bombay, India, from which place he will leave for the Himalayas on an exploration expedition. Many friends of the nobleman were at the pier to bid him bon voyage.

YOUNG WOMAN NAILS THE THIEF

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Portland, Or., March 26.—Driven into the meshes of the law by a plucky, athletic young woman, a man giving the name of P. J. Williams, is in jail here today, suspected of the theft of $77 from a room occupied by Mrs. P. French, of Baker City, Or., who is on her way to Redlands, Cal., to attend the funeral of a sister.

Miss Jessie Malloy is the young woman responsible for Williams' presence behind the bars. She called on Mrs. French, who had engaged apartments in a rooming house, while waiting yesterday for her train to depart for the south, and while absent from the room for a moment Mrs. French's pocketbook, containing $77, was taken from the table.

After borrowing money with which to purchase a ticket to Redlands, Mrs. French was accompanied to the depot by Miss Malloy. While returning to her home the young woman says she recognized the man now in jail as the same person who she had seen leaving Mrs. French's room a moment before the money was missed. William ran down Third street, followed by Miss Malloy. He ran into a saloon, and she was right at his heels. She seized him by the arm and was leading him to the police station in front of a cheering crowd when a policeman offered assistance. Williams denies the charge, but he will be held until Mrs. French returns.

THE EMERY GIRL DODGED THEM ALL

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Portland, Or., March 26.—Successfully eluding everybody who sought to interview them, Miss Helen Gladys Emery, the California girl who is bent on marrying Gungiro Aoki, the Japanese dishwasher, accompanied by her mother, fled from the Oregon express during a brief stop of the train on the East Side, at 7 o'clock this morning, rode about the city for an hour and a half in a taxicab and boarded a train for Tacoma at 8:30 o'clock.

While Mrs. Emery and her daughter were on their sightseeing tour of the city, a large crowd was gathered at the union depot, in the hope of seeing them. When the train rolled into the station groups of men and women swarmed around it and anxiously scrutinized every passenger until the last one had alighted. It was then learned that the woman and her daughter had left the train just across the river.

The couple immediately went to the Sargent Hotel, nearby, where they ordered a taxicab, without being recognized. The driver of the cab says he drove the two women about the streets of the city, until shortly before 8:30 o'clock, when he was directed by his passengers to take them to the union depot. He left them there. No further information could be learned at the railway station, but there is no doubt that they immediately boarded a Northern Pacific train for Tacoma.

Seattle, Wash., March 26.—Gungiro Aoki, the Japanese dishwasher, who is engaged to marry Miss Helen Emery, is expected to arrive in Tacoma by steamer either today or tomorrow. Aoki disappeared in San Francisco last Wednesday, and since that time no trace of the much-talked-of Oriental was found until today, when a Tacoma Japanese stated that Aoki is coming here by boat to meet Miss Emery.

It is known that Aoki is not traveling with Miss Emery and her mother, and it is evident that they sent him on to this city by steamer to prevent their being identified along the line.

The train bearing Miss Emery and her mother is scheduled to reach Tacoma at 2:40 this afternoon, but it will occasion no surprise if the women are not on board when the train arrives. It is likely that they will leave the train at some small station near the city, as they did on reaching Portland this morning.

Although opposition to the proposed marriage is heard on every hand in Tacoma today the county officials declare that they can do nothing but issue a license, if it is demanded, as the law of this state does not prevent the intermarriage of the races.

PROTECTION NEARLY LEADS TO CALLING THE POLICE

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Washington, March 26.—A rough and tumble fight was narrowly averted on the floor of the house this afternoon, when Fordney, of Michigan, and Byrd, of Mississippi, clashed over the discussion of the proposed changes in the lumber tariff, as related to the existence of a lumber trust.

Fordney had been discussing the tariff for half an hour, and had been assailed by many questions about the lumber trust. He denied that there was a lumber trust, and finally, becoming irritated, declared that he would answer no more questions along that line.

At length, however, he yelled to Byrd, who is an Indian, tall, powerful and swarthy, and who intimated clearly that the mill in Mississippi owned by Fordney is a part of the trust.

Fordney flushed and shouted: "That is all bunco. You don't know a damned thing about it."

In an instant Byrd was springing toward Fordney. Byrd took off his coat, as he ran. He evidently was intent upon a severe struggle, but several members blocked his way and surrounded him.

With the way cut off, Byrd paced the floor in an open space, with clenched fists, shaking his head, apparently determined to have the matter out then and there.

In a few minutes the Mississippian recovered his composure and returned to his seat.

Then followed explanations. Fordney said if he had been discourteous he wished to withdraw his remarks. He explained that there was great provocation. Byrd denied that he had said that the Fordney mill was a member of the trust. He asserted that a government investigation had shown the existence of the trust, and that he merely asked whether Fordney's company was a member. Fordney denied any knowledge of such a government investigation, and declared positively that his company was not a member of such an organization.

A friendly understanding was restored, and Fordney proceeded with his argument.

SAYS SHE KILLED THREE HUNDRED MEN

Samara, Russia, March 6.—The police authorities today are investigating the career of Mme. Popova, who was arrested recently on charges of murdering undesirable husbands by the wholesale. The woman is declared to have confessed to have killed 300 men in the last 30 years, but the police think she is exaggerating her deeds.

The authorities, however, admitted that the woman will prove probably the greatest murderess in Russian history.

Mme. Popova is declared to have said that her own unhappy life caused her to conceive the idea of relieving unfortunate wives of cruel husbands. She claims to have accepted a small fee for each killing, and says that the operations have been over a large part of the province of Astrakhan.

The police claim that such a career would be impossible, as she would have been detected at the beginning of her operations.

KIDNAPERS WILL BE TRIED AT MERCER

Pittsburg, Pa., March 26.—Sheriff Chess said today that he would take James H. Boyle and Helen Falkner, the woman supposed to be his wife, who are accused of kidnaping Billie Whittles, to Mercer, Pa., this afternoon. Mercer is the county seat for Sharon, the home of the Whittles.

It is probable that the preliminary hearing of both prisoners will come up tomorrow.

FOUR CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

[United Press Leased Wire.]
West Shofor, Quebec, March 26.—Word was received here today that four children were burned to death late yesterday afternoon near Iron Hill, when the farm house of Henry Everett was destroyed by fire. The mother had left the children, two girls and two boys, ranging in from 7 to 3 years old, alone in the house while she visited a neighbor's home.

Fire started in some unknown way and when the woman returned she found the bodies of her children burned to a crisp in the ruins.
