

SMILES. A tariff on garters is too high a tariff—for protection.

The Easter hat, the big egg left in the newspaper office, and the cry of "fon dubs" and "knuckles" from the small boy, are indisputable signs of spring.

The thud of the thunderous pole on the flinching carpet, that hangs pendant from the family clothes line, and the generous puffs of dust at each thwack, are all signs that Spring, gentle Spring, is here.

"What's under your hat?" Some of the prettiest things the horse editor has ever seen is under some Salem hats.

The American woman and woman object to even Uncle Sam making laws about their stockings or garters.

The suffragetta say that if a tariff is put upon hose they will wear shorter stockings. Strange that only a woman could find which end of a stocking the tariff is on, but, of course, it being a high tariff, it comes off the top.

When the Oregon girl has not her umbrella up to keep off the rain, she puts up a parasol to keep off the sun. She's afraid to be bleached, and she abhors freckles.

Lawyers must be getting scarce. President Taft has offered an editor a small job.

The Cottage Grove Leader is boasting for Nesmith county. It is meet that some Oregon county should be named after the old war-time senator.

It may be all right to observe Decoration Day by having a prize fight, but it don't strike the horse editor that way.

It is amusing to read the dispatches about Mrs. Herman Geiricks and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jim Fair's kids, as being society leaders. Their mother took in washing to support old Jim when he was broke and when he got money he divorced her "for style." Money makes the girls as well as the mare, "go."

The winter numbers of F. S. & H. should be carefully read and preserved, for they contain much instruction which cannot be made practical use of until later.

A KNOCKER is a man who can't see good in any person or thing. It's a habit caused by a disordered liver. If you find that you are beginning to see things through blue spectacles, treat your liver to a good cleaning out process with Ballard's Herbine.

When a monarchical king dies the cry is: "The king is dead, long live the king!" When our republican king quits his job we cry: Our king's gone to Africa; long live tother king!

Rheumatism. More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief.

The Circus acrobat finds it necessary at all times to keep his muscles and joints supple. That is the reason that hundreds of them keep a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment always on hand.

Margaret Anglin is in communication with one of the leading English playwrights and wants him to write a modern drama for her.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties.
